Any master or agent who shall refuse or neglect to detain on board his vessel any alien liable to be examined in relation to his or her admissibility, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival any alien so detained, or who shall refuse or neglect to pay the head tax provided by law, or who shall refuse or neglect to comply with any of the requirements of the immigration laws relative to the admission of aliens, or who shall bring to the United States any alien afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, knowing him to be afflicted therewith, or who shall bring to the United States any alien who is insane or who has been insane at any time previous to the application for admission, or who shall bring to the United States any alien who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who shall bring to the United States any alien who has been deported under the provisions of section 19 of the immigration act of February 5, 1917, or who shall bring to the United States any alien who has been excluded within one year previous by the Board of Special Inquiry, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens who may be on board such vessel, showing the position each occupies therein, whether accompanied by husband, wife, or children, whether in possession of railroad or other transportation to interior destination, whether having been ever before in the United States, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether connected with any institution for the insane, whether coming under contract to perform labor, whether having a ticket through to destination, whether having been assisted to come, whether having any relatives or friends in the country whence they came and the name and address of such relatives or friends, whether going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and whether having been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity within one year of the date of application for admission to the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of any such alien to enter the United States, which lists shall be prepared at such time before sailing of vessel as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subject to such verification before sailing as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such lists shall be delivered in duplicate, and the original, when verified by the master and the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be returned to the master for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and the duplicate list shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of departure. The master shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival a passenger list or manifest in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, containing such information shown on the list required to be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure as the Secretary of Labor may require.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been duly verified, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative unit prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said act, shall have been given.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury incurred while in the service of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor upon the recommendation of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the sufficient protection of the interests of the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than Canada or Mexico, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States of any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or has determined that such seaman is not a member of the crew of such vessel, and for the payment of the cost of such maintenance and of the hospital dues and other charges, if any, and for the payment of the cost of the removal of such seaman to the country to which he belongs, unless he is sooner removed to such country, or unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct. Such maintenance shall be furnished at a standard not lower than that provided for aliens detained at immigration stations of the United States, and shall be furnished at the option of the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel (1) in a hospital, or (2) on board the vessel, or (3) in such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge. The cost of such maintenance shall be paid by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to the United States Immigration Service at such rates as may be fixed by the Secretary of Labor, but such rates shall not exceed $3.50 per day for each alien seaman detained in a hospital and $1.50 per day for each alien seaman detained on board ship or elsewhere. Such rates shall be fixed with a view to reimbursing the United States Immigration Service as nearly as practicable for the cost of such maintenance, including the cost of hospital treatment, but shall not be fixed in such amounts as will yield a profit to the United States Immigration Service. Such rates shall be subject to change from time to time upon the basis of actual experience. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who fails to pay the cost of such maintenance shall be liable therefor to the United States Immigration Service, and such cost may be collected by suit or action brought by the Secretary of Labor on behalf of the United States Immigration Service.

(b) Any such alien seaman who shall have been ordered deported shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on any vessel which may be available for the purpose, unless the Secretary of Labor shall determine that deportation on such vessel will result in undue hardship to such alien seaman, or unless such alien seaman shall have been in the United States for a period longer than five years before the commencement of the proceedings resulting in the order of deportation, or unless such alien seaman shall have been admitted to the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel which has departed without him, or unless such alien seaman shall have been ordered deported in connection with or as a result of any proceedings instituted prior to the departure of the vessel from a port of the United States, or unless such alien seaman is a native of the country to which he would be deported, or unless such alien seaman is a subject or citizen of the country to which he would be deported and refuses to be deported on such vessel, or unless the government of the country to which he would be deported refuses to accept him. Any alien seaman ordered deported who shall not be deported on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on a vessel which brought him to a port of the United States from a foreign country, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct.

(c) Any alien seaman who shall have been ordered deported and who shall have been in the United States for a period longer than five years before the commencement of the proceedings resulting in the order of deportation, or who shall have been admitted to the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel which has departed without him, or who shall have been ordered deported in connection with or as a result of any proceedings instituted prior to the departure of the vessel from a port of the United States, or who is a native of the country to which he would be deported, or who is a subject or citizen of the country to which he would be deported and refuses to be deported on such vessel, or whose deportation the government of the country to which he would be deported refuses to accept, shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct.

(d) Front fines on alien seamen who shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or who shall be found unlawfully in the United States, or who shall fail to report for deportation, or who shall refuse to assist in procuring his deportation when ordered deported, shall be paid out of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien seaman may be granted a conditional permit to remain temporarily in the United States under such bond and such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe.

(f) Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, impair, or affect any existing treaty obligations of the United States relating to the admission, detention, or deportation of aliens.

(g) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of law shall be deported as provided in this section, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

(h) The Secretary of Labor shall have the power to prescribe rules and regulations for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and shall have the power to employ such attorneys and clerks as may be necessary for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this section, and may delegate any of his powers under this section to such officers of the United States Immigration Service as he may designate for the purpose.

(i) Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made by the Secretary of Labor in pursuance thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

(j) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien seaman who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa and who is destined to the United States for the purpose of entering and who intends to enter and reside permanently therein, except that such alien seaman shall be required to comply with the provisions of subdivision (d) of this section.

(k) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien seaman employed on board any vessel plying exclusively between ports of the United States and ports of the Panama Canal, Canal Zone, and the islands and waters adjacent thereto.

(l) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any alien seaman employed on board any vessel plying exclusively between ports of the United States and ports of Cuba, Puerto Rico, Haiti, Santo Domingo, and the Virgin Islands of the United States.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain tough manila paper provided by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens mentioned therein as the property of each master shall be verified by the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 688) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the persons named in said lists, if any, who are known or believed to be citizens of the United States, and such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival no member of the crew shall be discharged from the vessel, except in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and every person so discharged shall be specified in a list to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of departure; and no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall engage, ship, or employ, or cause to be engaged, shipped, or employed, in any capacity upon the vessel any alien who has not been duly admitted to the United States or who is not in possession of a valid immigration visa, unless such alien is in transit through the United States and has been admitted thereto under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such alien is a member of the crew employed at the time of the arrival of the vessel at a port of the United States who is destined to some foreign port and who intends to depart upon the vessel on which he arrived, or unless such alien is a stowaway; and any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be fined in a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. Upon the refusal or failure of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to deliver to the Secretary of Labor, or to any officer authorized by him to demand the same, the lists of aliens required by this section, the Secretary of Labor may withhold clearance from such vessel until such lists are delivered, and any such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; but no such vessel shall be detained by reason of the absence from the list of any alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival but who left the vessel at some foreign port or place and was not employed thereon at the time of the departure of the vessel from the United States, if the master shall produce such evidence as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to establish the fact of such alien's employment and lawful departure from the United States. Any person who knowingly conceals, harbors, or shields from detection, or attempts to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, any such alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or not lawfully entitled to enter or reside within the United States shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien not duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or not lawfully entitled to enter or reside within the United States shall be taxed the sum of $10 for each alien so brought, and in the event such tax is imposed, until it remains unpaid, no clearance shall be granted the vessel upon which such alien arrived to depart from any port or place in the United States. Any person who shall knowingly bring into the United States any alien who has been excluded from admission and deported, or who knowingly aids or abets any alien to enter the United States in violation of law, shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding ten years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to file the administrative affidavit prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act remains open, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such alien's valuable service in the rescue of the crew of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to depart on board the vessel or some other vessel not later than the next sailing of such vessel, unless sooner removed in pursuance of the immigration laws, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such valuable service, or who shall remain in the United States more than the period of twenty days after the departure of the vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such valuable service, or who shall remain in the United States more than the period of twenty days after the departure of the vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such valuable service, or who shall remain in the United States more than the period of twenty days after the departure of the vessel without the permission of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall fail to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall remain beyond the period for which he was admitted as a nonimmigrant, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that his remaining was necessary on account of illness contracted during such period, or that he was prevented from departing by reason of the refusal of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived to receive him on board or to defray the expense of his removal, or that he has been granted a change of status pursuant to section 4 (c) of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to depart from the United States with the next sailing of such vessel, the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel in connection with such deportation shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 598 and not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe: and valid for the entry of the alien to whom issued only during a period of four months from the date issued, unless sooner revoked, canceled, or extended, and shall specify the foreign port at which each alien will embark for the United States, and the vessel in which such alien will sail, and the number of the certificate issued therefor by the consular officer, and such other information likely to lead to the identification of each alien and to the prevention of fraud in connection with the application for and issuance of certificates issued under the provisions of section 3 of the immigration act of 1917 and the provisions of this act: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee, or the master or agent of such vessel in the United States from such foreign port or place to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of all the crew employed on board such vessel, showing the name and nationality of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel, and such other information relative to such alien seaman as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe: and failure to deliver to each immigration officer at each port of arrival such list, or the omission from such list of the name of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel at the time of her departure from the last foreign port or place touched at, shall be deemed a violation of this section by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereafter approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Front first an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign port on an outbound vessel of the same line, or if the vessel on which he arrived sails within twenty-four hours after the arrival of such vessel as a precaution against desertion, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be fined $1,000 for each such alien seaman, unless it is proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman was discharged in a foreign port for reasons sufficient to the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, but such vessel is to be detained in port by the immigration officer at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel may be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens as are to be landed at the port of arrival: or lists containing no such names, as the case may be, which lists shall be prepared in the form and manner and contain such other information as the Secretary of Labor may by regulation prescribe: and valid for the entry of any such vessel at all ports of the United States in which such vessel may touch during the period of four months from the date issued, unless sooner revoked, canceled, or extended, and shall specify the foreign port at which each alien will embark for the United States, and the vessel in which such alien will sail, and the number of the certificate issued therefor by the consular officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such vessel is allowed to depart from the port before the delivery to such immigration officer of the lists required by this section, or in which the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel refuses or neglects to deliver such lists as required by this section, or in which the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to go on board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or to detain such vessel for the purpose of such inspection, or in which the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel refuses to deliver to each alien seaman employed on board such vessel a certificate in writing, stating the name of such alien seaman, the date of his shipment, the amount of wages due him, and, if he is discharged in a foreign port, the reason for his discharge, and the consular certificate issued therefor, such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such offense, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, if the owner such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been inspected, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 37 to that effect prescribed by section 35 of said act having been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according as separate manifests there are required by the immigration Act of 1924; and also because steamship companies are subject to different classes, appropriate fine as-called contract class, whose alien head tax the initials of respective carriers, and those whose alien head tax is levied in different classes; and it they levy in the same class; and if they levy head tax in different amounts, as between first class and second class and third class passengers. The names of all members of the crew must be entered on the manifest, even though no head tax is collected from them.

Columns 1 to 5.—Self-explanatory.

Column 6 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—Enter name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came. If no such relative or friend, enter name and complete address of person in country whence alien came, who can be depended upon to furnish information if necessary.

Column 7 (Final destination).—Enter the name of the city or town in the United States to which the alien is destined. If destined to some place in the interior, enter also the name of the State.

Column 8 (Race or people).—Enter race or people as Negro, Hebrew, Irish, Scottish, English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Japanese, Chinese, Korean, Filipino, Armenian, Bohemian, Moravian, Slovak, Polish, Russian, Finnish, Dutch, Flemish, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish, Icelandic, Lithuanian, Magyar, Croatian, Dalmatian, Servian, Slovenian, Montenegrin, Roumanian, Greek, Syrian, Turkish, Indian (Hindu), Afghan, Arab, Mexican, West Indian, Cuban, Haitian, Dominican, Guatemalan, Honduran, Nicaraguan, Costa Rican, Panaman, Salvadorean, Colombian, Venezuelan, Peruvian, Ecuadorian, Chilean, Bolivian, Paraguayan, Uruguayan, Brazilian, or other race or people.

Column 9 (Nationality).—Enter the country of which the alien is a citizen or subject. Natives of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, Costa Rica, Salvador, Nicaragua, Honduras, Haiti, Dominican Republic, Colombia, Venezuela, Peru, Ecuador, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, Brazil, Argentina, Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, or the West Indies should write the name of the specific country of which they are natives or citizens, and not merely "Canada," "Mexico," "Cuba," "Panama," "Salvador," "Nicaragua," "Honduras," "Haiti," "Dominican Republic," "Colombia," "Venezuela," "Peru," "Ecuador," "Chile," "Bolivia," "Paraguay," "Uruguay," "Brazil," "Argentina," "Europe," "Asia," "Africa," "Australia," or "West Indies," as the case may be.

Column 10 (Last permanent residence).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter the last country at which the alien has had a permanent residence for 1 year or more. If the alien has had no permanent residence for 1 year or more, enter "None." If the alien has had a permanent residence for 1 year or more in more than one country, enter the last such country. If it is impracticable for steamship companies to ascertain the last permanent residence of aliens now in transit, they may enter "Unknown."

Column 11 (Last permanent residence).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter the city or town in which the alien had his last permanent residence. If it was impracticable for steamship companies to ascertain the last permanent residence of aliens now in transit, they may enter "Unknown."

Column 12 (Intending permanent residence).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter the city or town to which the alien intends to go for permanent residence. If the alien intends to remain in the United States, but is undecided as to his permanent residence, he may enter "Undecided." If the alien intends to return to the country whence he came, he may enter "Return."

Column 13 (Ever in U. S. before).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien has been in the United States before the present time.

Column 14 (Visa).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter the number of the immigration visa.

Column 15 (Where visa was obtained).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter the name of the city or town in which the immigration visa was obtained.

Column 16.—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien has a ticket to his final destination in the United States.

Column 17 (Whether in possession of $50 or more).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien has in his possession at the time of inspection at least $50 in money or its equivalent. Do not enter the exact amount.

Column 18 (Whether going to join relative or friend, and name and complete address).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, name and complete address of such relative or friend.

Column 19 (Whether ever in penal institution or supported by charity).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien has ever been in a penal institution or almshouse, or supported by charity.

Columns 20 to 22.—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien is a polygamist, anarchist, or believes in or advocates or is affiliated with any organization that advocates the overthrow by force of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law.

Column 23 (Whether ever before in the United States; and if so, when, where, and how long ago; and whether in possession of return ticket or passage paid for return to country whence came).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien has been in the United States before the present time. If the alien has been in the United States before, enter the approximate date of last departure from the United States.

Column 24 (Whether going to join relative or friend, and name and complete address).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter the name and complete address of the relative or friend (if any) the alien intends to join upon leaving the immediate vicinity of the port of debarkation.

Columns 25 to 28.—These questions are to be answered by all aliens, including citizens of the United States, who are applying for admission to the United States at any time or place at which the Immigration Act of 1924 is enforced.

Columns 29 to 31.—These questions are to be answered by all aliens who are not citizens of the United States.

Column 32.—Enter the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each alien.

Column 33 (Amount in possession).—Enter the amount of money in possession of each alien, including that carried by his wife and minor children. Do not enter the exact amount, but indicate by the letter "A" if the amount is $10 or less; by the letter "B" if the amount is more than $10 but not more than $20; by the letter "C" if the amount is more than $20 but not more than $30; by the letter "D" if the amount is more than $30 but not more than $50; by the letter "E" if the amount is more than $50 but not more than $100; by the letter "F" if the amount is more than $100 but not more than $200; by the letter "G" if the amount is more than $200 but not more than $300; by the letter "H" if the amount is more than $300 but not more than $500; by the letter "I" if the amount is more than $500 but not more than $1,000; by the letter "J" if the amount is more than $1,000.

Column 34 (Whether in transit through the United States).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien is in transit through the United States.

Column 35 (Whether ever before in the United States; and if so, when, where, and how long ago; and whether in possession of return ticket or passage paid for return to country whence came).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien has been in the United States before the present time. If the alien has been in the United States before, enter the approximate date of last departure from the United States.

Column 36 (Whether going to join relative or friend, and name and complete address).—Applies to aliens not born in the United States. Enter "Yes" or "No" to indicate whether or not the alien is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, name and complete address of such relative or friend.

Columns 37 to 38.—These questions are to be answered by all aliens who are not citizens of the United States.

Column 39.—Enter the race or people of each alien.

Column 40.—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

Column 41 (Race or people).—Enter the race or people as given in Col. 39.

Special attention should be called to the classification between race and the country of which citizen or subject, which is frequently misunderstood. For instance, "France," although rather the head of country does not mean "French," by race or people, and similarly "French," although rather the head of race or people does not mean "France," by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might very come under the heading of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following classifications should be especially observed:

CANADA

The term "Canada," refers to the Canada people (not Negroes).

WEST INDIAN

The term "West Indian," refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cuban or Negroes.

SPANISH AMERICAN

"Spanish American," refers to the people of Central and South America of Spanish descent.

ECHO

"Negro," refers to the African (black). Applies equally from Cuba or other West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien mixture of the Negro should be classified under this heading.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, C. A. Thorlon, Master, of the S.S. Evangeline Caribbean, from Arecibo, P.R., to the ports of Arecibo, P.R. and San Juan, P.R., as the case may be, do solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear that I have caused the surgeon of said vessel sailing therefrom, or the surgeon employed by the owners thereof, to make a physical and mental examination of each and all of the aliens named in the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, (one) in number, and that from the report of said surgeon and from my own investigation, I believe that no one of said aliens is of any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States by the immigration, naturalization, and other laws relating thereto, and that also, according to the best of my knowledge and belief, the information in said Lists or Manifests concerning each of said aliens named therein is correct and true in every respect.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in advance of such arrival at the port of departure if practicable. The list of charges of alien members of the crew (Form 683 a) shall not be detached or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That from and after the expiration of four months from the taking effect of this act no master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [date to be named by the Secretary of Labor] a list or manifest of all aliens who may be on board the vessel at the time of its arrival at such port, in such form as the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe by regulation hereafter; and failure to deliver such list or manifest when required shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom such list or manifest is not delivered: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of such list or manifest in the case of any vessel engaged in the business of carrying passengers solely between ports in the United States and ports in foreign contiguous territory: And provided further, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel may be relieved from the payment of the fine herein provided for the failure of any alien employee to be listed in the list or manifest delivered by reason of the unavoidable illness of such alien employee at the time of sailing of the vessel, which illness must be certified by the medical officer of the vessel: And provided further, That masters of vessels may, in lieu of the delivery of the list or manifest required by this section, deliver to the immigration officer at the time of departure a passenger list or manifest containing the same information required by this section in relation to cabin passengers, and certify to the correctness thereof under oath administered by any officer authorized to administer oaths for general purposes by any court of record in the United States, or by any United States commissioner, collector of customs, immigrant inspector, or consular officer, and the production of such certified list or manifest shall be prima facie evidence of the truthfulness of the statements therein contained in any prosecution which may be brought under the provisions of this section.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, from each port of departure, has been delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, or a statement in writing has been made by the master that no such list is required to be delivered, and the delivery of such list or statement has been noted on the clearance.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from the place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel list the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deliver such seaman on board such vessel upon inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart with the vessel on which he arrived may be made by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel as a master's affidavit, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien for deportation, or to have paid the fine provided for the master of such vessel, but such evidence may be overcome by the production of the certificate of the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship such alien seaman may be permitted to remain in the United States for such time as the Secretary of Labor may specify, but such permission may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman deported in the manner provided for the deportation of other aliens.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank ruled and headed as shown and be kept for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 583) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

Before an alien is admitted to the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; to make corrections as much as such information shall be found incorrect, and to report to the said immigration officer, at any time before the departure of any such vessel from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been employed thereon, and the names of those, if any, who have been discharged, and the cause or causes for such discharge. If any such owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel shall neglect or refuse to deliver either of the lists required by this section, or to report such cases of deportation or desertion, respectively, or to do so within the time prescribed, or shall refuse to answer truthfully the Secretary of Labor, if required by the Secretary of Labor, by any of the collectors of customs or the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to whom a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted vun vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been investigated, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act granting need served, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board vun vessel arriving in the United States from vun place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress arising after his arrival, certified, under such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the elimination of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of vun vessel arriving in the United States from vun place outside thereof, or the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (after investigation by the medical examiner), shall report to the Secretary of Labor, in such manner and at such time as he may require, the name of every alien employed on board such vessel, and such other information in regard to such alien as the Secretary of Labor may deem necessary. The list of persons so taken from the vessel, or alien members of the crew (Form 583) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance until the master has delivered such list.

Any person who knowingly or willfully fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be subject to a penalty of $10 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who has been employed on vun vessel arriving in the United States from vun place outside thereof, or who has been temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be taken into custody and detained on board or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the length of time required for the sailing of such vessel, and such vessel is otherwise ready to depart from the United States, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list or manifest of aliens required by the immigration laws to be delivered to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens must be delivered or mailed to the immigrant inspector at the first port of entry in the United States if destined to a port in the United States, and in case the vessel on which the alien arrives is destined to a port in Canada, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, the list or manifest of aliens must be delivered or mailed to the immigrant inspector at the first port of entry in the United States at which the vessel may call for the purpose of discharging alien passengers, even though no such aliens may desire to land at such port.

SEC. 18. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether those to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel if aliens be found to be illegally on board, to detain the same on board the vessel or at the dock at which it may land until a written permit from the Secretary of Labor has been obtained. The master shall also furnish, upon the demand of any immigrant inspector, a complete list of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently join the vessel, stating the name in full of each such alien, the capacity in which employed, and the intended destination of each. Any master who refuses to deliver to any immigration officer the lists required by this section, or who refuses to permit any such officer to board the vessel for the purpose of examining the same, or who conceals therein any of the aliens required to be listed therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such omission occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Any master who refuses to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by an immigrant inspector, or who lands or permits to land any alien at any port in the United States except as provided by law, or who refuses to deliver any such alien to the custody of the officer entitled to demand his delivery, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien. Any master who fails to report, list, detain, or deliver any alien as herein provided, or who violates any of the provisions of this section, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom any such failure occurs, which penalty shall be a lien upon the vessel, and may be recovered by proceedings in rem in the district court of the United States for the district within which the vessel may be found at any of its ports. Clearance may be withheld or granted, pending the determination of such question, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover the amount of such penalty, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the conveyance manifested of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien on board the vessel for departure, or to report, list, detain, or deliver such alien as required by this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally charged against such vessel until such alien has been given a hearing before the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Every master, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall furnish the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), a complete list or manifest (which manifest shall be prepared at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port at which it touched) of all aliens who may be on board the vessel at the time of its departure, and shall thereafter, and before the departure of the vessel from any port in the United States, deliver to the Secretary of Labor or to such immigration officer or to the master of the vessel as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, a list or manifest containing the name of each alien who may be on board the vessel at the time of its departure from the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the right of any alien to land, or while the case of any such alien is being reported, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such case, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally charged against such vessel until such alien has been given a hearing before the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens required to be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the first port of entry in the United States if destined to a port in the United States, and in case the vessel on which the alien arrives is destined to a port in Canada, Mexico, Cuba, or adjacent islands, the list or manifest of aliens must be delivered or mailed to the immigrant inspector at the first port of entry in the United States at which the vessel may call for the purpose of discharging alien passengers, even though no such aliens may desire to land at such port. When an arriving alien is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and until the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who are discharged, and of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been held on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted the vessel; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver lists of the aliens, to which he may belong, or to report the illegal landing of any such alien, or in case any such alien is found on board such vessel after the departure thereof, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the Secretary of Labor, for the use of the collector of customs of the customs district at the port of arrival, a sum not exceeding $10 for each such alien, concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; but no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted vun vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act therein have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or otherwise to such extent and for such purpose as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, and in case any such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has completed the examination of such alien seaman (which examination in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or who shall be found unlawfully in the United States after having departed therefrom, or who shall not be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with such vessel, and such vessel may be required to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien seaman, as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned for the payment of a sum not to exceed $1,000 for each such alien seaman who shall not depart with such vessel, and such vessel may be refused clearance until such bond is given.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the length of time required for such deportation, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board when discovered in the port of arrival; to place conspicuously on board of such vessel, in a position where it can be easily seen and read by all aliens employed thereon, a notice stating in English, Spanish, French, German, Italian, and Portuguese languages the provisions of this section as to the delivery of lists of alien employees and the penalties for failure to comply therewith, which notice shall be printed in type not smaller than pica; to deliver to any such alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel but who desire to depart from the United States on such vessel a certificate that compliance has been made in his case by the master or owner of such vessel, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification; and to deliver to the master of any such vessel at the time of the departure therefrom from the United States a list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed thereon at the time of such departure and who were not discharged before the departure of such vessel, and specifying which, if any, of such aliens have been held on board against their will; and to deliver a further list containing the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those who have been forcibly detained on board against their will after the vessel was ready to depart, and the reasons for such detention in each case, respectively; or so to report such cases of desertion or detention: Provided, That the master of any vessel bound for a foreign port from the United States shall not be required to deliver to any immigration officer at the port of departure any list of alien employees who have been paid off and discharged before the departure of such vessel, unless it is required by the Secretary of Labor, but to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located the name of each alien employee who is known or believed to be illegally on board, and in the event such alien is found, while in territorial waters, secreted on board, the master shall be fined $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly report as not being on such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been fully collected, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act of February 2, 1917, have been fully complied with, or the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress until the immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien from the United States, or the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or other disposition of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (who fails to deport on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport such seaman in accordance with the certificate of the medical examiner issued in connection with such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived, but such evidence may be overcome by the production of the certificate of the medical examiner issued in connection with the inspection of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will involve undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally determined or adjusted to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or duplicate of same must be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 524) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "WORKAWAY" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be landed in the port of arrival; to take countersign on duplicate and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all such employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her clearance, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and the cause, time, and place of such discharge. Masters, owners, agents, and consignees of vessels are not required to report deaths of members of the crew, but shall report the cause, time, and place of desertion of members of the crew, with such particulars as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the name, last known address, and description of any deserter. Masters, owners, agents, and consignees of vessels shall not be required to report the names of persons employed as members of the crew or otherwise after such vessels have departed from the last port of call in the United States.

SEC. 37. (a) That the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the adjacent islands, or Panama, or the Canal Zone shall before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port a list or manifest of all persons who may be taken on board such vessel at any foreign port or place in transit to the United States, and report any additional persons who may be taken on board at subsequent ports of call, and shall not permit any such persons to land in the United States from such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such persons (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or has issued to them a certificate of such inspection, or has otherwise complied with the requirements of the immigration laws and regulations. Any person who knowingly violates the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien as to whom such violation occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe rules governing the admission of aliens employed on vessels arriving at ports of the United States, and may employ such number of inspectors at such ports as he may deem necessary to enforce the provisions of this section, and may detail any immigrant inspector for duty on any vessel arriving at any port of the United States. Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each violation, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time required for the usual method of travel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That such an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused clearance by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the time required for the usual method of travel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the act of the master of such vessel in connection therewith, or for the sole purpose of obtaining a visa from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or to furnish a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the discharge manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect after investigation by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of a time limit, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the adjustment of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada or Mexico) which immigration officer on the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival has reported to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination or deposit with the collector of customs a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) From such fine an alien seaman who did not appear upon the onforce manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or who secured his discharge from such vessel without the consent of the master or the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and such alien seaman who was not reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on such vessel: Provided, That clearance may be granted such vessel prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall furnish the immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of any alien seaman on board any vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, such alien seaman shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posting the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members pers of crews (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "MOTAWEW," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, as the case may be; and such lists shall be subscribed and sworn to before the officer to whom delivered, by the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, in relation to the matters therein contained, as far as known or believed by him. Any such master, agent, consignee, or purser who refuses to deliver such lists, or who knowingly lands or permits to be landed any alien from such vessel at any port in the United States without delivering such lists, or who knowingly lands or permits to be landed any alien whose name is not contained in such lists, unless such alien is specifically exempted by this Act from the payment of the tax hereinafter imposed, or who knowingly lands or permits to be landed any alien who has been refused a certificate by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so landed or permitted to be landed, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or purser who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or to make due return and report of the matters and things required by this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and no fines unless notice of illegality to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 36 of said Act therein have been settled, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada or Mexico) on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain role upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he has deserted, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect or absence from the vessel at the time of departure, unless the master produces the certificate of the immigration officer at the port of arrival to the effect that such alien was landed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (form 632) shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an alien "momentarily" remains at a foreign port or touches at any other place en route to the United States, a separate list must be prepared of such alien members employed on such vessel, showing the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and a description of those to be hand on discharged in the port of arrival; or list containing as much of such information as can be ascertained from the master, and the list so prepared must be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any alien member of the crew of such vessel who is not included in such list or lists and who is found on board after the vessel has left the last foreign port touched at shall be treated as an alien passenger, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of his eligibility to permanent admission to the United States, and such clearance shall not relieve the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel from any liability to which he may be subject under the provisions of section 36 of the Act of February 20, 1907.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according or adjacent manifests numbered and nationalities, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924: and also according or adjacent those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose rates read the initials of technical exhibits; and those whose rates do not read such initials. The names of all persons to a family should begin on the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class: and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Line number).—Numbers consecutively should be entered in this column. The space is for use by Government officials only.

Column 2 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 3 (Married or single).—The terms should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 4 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: Clerk, engineer, farmer, laborer, mechanic, engineer, minister, surgeon, author, physician, teacher, student, etc., but not simply as surgeon, laborer, farmer, or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between farmers and farm laborers, wage-earners or those engaged in one other occupation, trade, or profession.

A farmer is one who operates a farm, either for himself or for others.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the farm who operates it.

A farm laborer is one who works a farm, either for himself or for others.

Enumerate each laborer, if necessary, by the method hereinbefore indicated.

Column 5 (Read-and-write aliens).—Aliens over fifteen years of age who can read and write in the English language or in some other language or dialect should be entered in this column. The space is for use by Government officials only.

Column 6 (Age).—The terms in this column should be entered in every instance, the letters only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 7 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 8 (Married or single).—The terms should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 9 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: Clerk, engineer, locomotive engineer, miner, surgeon, farmer, farm laborer, shoemaker, tailor, tailoress, dressmaker, author, physician, teacher, student, etc., but not simply as surgeon, laborer, farmer, or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between farmers and farm laborers, wage-earners or those engaged in one other occupation, trade, or profession:

A farmer is one who operates a farm, either for himself or for others.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the farm who operates it.

Column 10 (Name of people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race or people as given in said list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 11 (Nationality).—Question 9 should be construed to mean the country of which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 12 (Name and complete address of nearest relative or friend in country whence alien came).—The entry should give name, exact relationship, and complete address of friend or relative in country whence alien came, every effort should be made to ascertain and insert.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall on no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members here of crews (Form 528) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Men on arriving steamers it is "MOTAWAY", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew, whether they be destined to the United States or to some foreign country, which lists shall be prepared on forms approved by the Secretary of Labor, and such lists shall be subject to such inspection prescribed by regulations as may be made by the Secretary of Labor as to the right of any alien to enter the United States, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized by law to grant clearance papers until the immigration officer in charge of the port shall have certified to the collector or other officer that the provisions of this section have been complied with as to such alien members of the crew, and that such vessel may be granted clearance papers without the presence of the master before the deputy or the alien inspector designated to perform the duties of the master in his absence, and such deputy or alien inspector is hereby authorized to administer the oath required by this section. Any master who shall refuse to deliver to such immigration officer any such list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to make oath to the same when required so to do, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 and by imprisonment for not more than one year. Any master who shall fail to report and deliver to the proper immigration officer at any port of arrival the full number of alien members of the crew, or any of them, employed on board his vessel when she departed from a foreign port or place, or who shall fail to report the cause of the absence from his vessel at any port of arrival of any such alien member of the crew, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each such alien member of the crew not reported, and no clearance shall be granted to any vessel while any penalty imposed by this section remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been verified, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act cannot be given, the penalty therein provided for such default amounts to $3 and has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness originating after the vessel arrived in the United States, and who is certified by the Secretary of Labor as a person who, in his opinion, may properly be treated in a hospital, shall be permitted to land in the United States from any place outside the United States, except pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowable deportation or such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States who shall refuse to obtain on board upon departure of such vessel the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, or who fails to obtain such seamen on board after such inspection or to report such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or that he has been granted permission to land temporarily by the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deposit after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expenses shall be a lien upon the vessel, and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it is payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company when and where they were respectively signed or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel at the time of its arrival at each port in the United States at which it is intended to land any such alien passenger, and such other information in regard to each such alien, pertaining to the administration of the immigration laws as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe; and unless the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, pertaining thereto, and stating all the facts in connection therewith. Before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel since the sailing of the vessel on the last outward voyage, and the reasons for the discharge of any of them. It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel arriving from foreign ports at the time of the arrival at each port in the United States to report and deliver to the collector of customs a manifest of all the passengers, including aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries, and of all the crew, whether they are discharged or remain thereon. Such manifest shall be in such form and contain such information as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and shall be verified by the oath of the master. Any master who refuses to deliver such manifest, or any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses to deliver lists containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel since the sailing of the vessel on the last outward voyage, or any master who refuses to report and deliver to the immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at each port in the United States the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel who are not destined to ports in the United States, or any master who refuses to report the names of all aliens who have been left behind in foreign countries, or any master who refuses to report the names of all aliens who have been shipped in foreign countries but who have not been entered at any port in the United States, or any master who refuses to report the names of all aliens who have been discharged from such vessel in any port in the United States, or any master who refuses to report the names of all aliens who have been taken on board such vessel at any port in the United States, or any master who refuses to report the names of all aliens who have been transferred from such vessel to any other vessel in any port in the United States, or any master who refuses to report the names of all aliens who have been allowed to depart from such vessel in any port in the United States, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, and in the event such alien is improperly landed from such vessel shall be detained on board the vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is located and the amount of such penalty is paid or a bond given to the collector of customs to secure the payment thereof. Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe regulations governing the manner in which the provisions of this section shall be enforced at the various ports of entry, and may, in his discretion, refund any penalty collected hereunder.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been delivered, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 37 of said Act, unless such time has been waived, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or for the purpose and to the extent certified by the Secretary of Labor, or by such immigration officer as he may designate, to be necessary for the proper care of such alien seaman, and then only under such bond or other security as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel leaving the port at which he arrived, or some other port, within such time as may be fixed by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, and in addition shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel during the period of its stay in port, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or for the purpose and to the extent certified by the Secretary of Labor, or by such immigration officer as he may designate, to be necessary for the proper care of such alien seaman, or who shall depart from the United States on any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, or some other vessel leaving the port at which he arrived, or some other port, within such time as may be fixed by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, notwithstanding the fact that no warrant or other process for the deportation of such alien seaman has been issued prior to the commencement of the proceedings which culminate in the deportation of such alien seaman. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while any such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as may be required by the collector of customs or other officer charged with the collection thereof, or upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or to the execution of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart with such vessel, and that such alien seaman has remained in the United States in violation of law.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be used for such purpose, will be prejudicial to the interests of the United States, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board or at such other place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or it is otherwise guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to be given (Form 528) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "stowaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied to engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; to state separately so much of such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to the proper immigration officer, at arrival, a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to and leave with the immigration officers a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill the vacancies of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver lists of those alien employees, and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to so deliver such lists of those leaving, if any, who have departed or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to so deliver lists containing the names of all such alien employees, and the ports to which they have departed, and the names of the vessels in which they have taken passage, and the ports for which they are destined, respectively, or to so report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: And no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains pending not liable such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act remain open served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or shipwreck, to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor or such officer as he may designate, and when so landed such seaman shall be deported in the manner prescribed for the deportation of aliens from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing vessel of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from was lawfully entered, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien crewmen by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be printed on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is to be examined, the master will be required to fill out one of these forms, giving the name of the vessel, the name of the alien, and the answers to the questions printed at the head of the columns. The list of cabins or space from the vessel in which each alien was found will be helpful to the immigrant inspector.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and the ports from which they severally joined the vessel; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at such time as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed there as at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of the cause for their discharge. It shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report the cases of sickness or injuries on board, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the said lists of aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or to report such cases of sickness or injuries on board, such owner, agent, consignee, or master to the immigrant inspector at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of first arrival, and to report the cases of sickness or injuries on board, such owner, agent, consignee, or master to the immigrant inspector at the time of the departure of the vessel from the last port in the United States, and to deliver to such immigrant inspector at such time lists containing the names of all aliens on board such vessel who have been or are to be left behind, and the cases of sickness or injuries on board such vessel which have occurred since the last report. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to comply with any of the requirements of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such offense, and shall also be liable to the United States of America for the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act, shall have been given, and the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or shipwreck, or to accompany a sick or injured member of the crew who is certified by the medical examiner, or for such other reason as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, but in no case shall such alien be granted a period of shore leave longer than five days, or during the period the vessel remains in port, whichever is the shorter. Such alien seaman, if not otherwise admissible, shall be immediately deported to the foreign port from which he came to the United States or to the country to which he belongs at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived, and shall be placed on board such vessel or other vessel or aircraft owned by the same interests: Provided, That the cost of maintenance while on shore and of deportation of such alien from the United States, including a reasonable compensation to be fixed by the Secretary of Labor for the services of the immigrant inspector, not to exceed $5 per day, shall be a lien against such vessel, and no clearance shall be granted the vessel on which such alien arrived while such lien remains undischarged, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such lien, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or interested in such vessel, who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at any port of arrival the list or lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, to be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a correct list of all aliens employed on board such vessel at the time of departure, or who shall refuse or fail to report to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival the illness or injury of any alien on board such vessel, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a list containing the names of all sick or injured aliens who have been left behind, or who shall refuse or fail to report the names of aliens who have died during the period of the voyage, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a list containing the names of all aliens who have been left behind, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

(b) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a list containing the names of all aliens who have been left behind, or who shall refuse or fail to report the names of aliens who have died during the period of the voyage, or who shall refuse or fail to report the illness or injury of any alien on board such vessel, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that any deportation of an alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the length of time before such vessel sails for a foreign port, or for any other reason, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel or on board any other vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (Form 828) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel at the time of its arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens if such be the fact; and such officer shall thereupon proceed to examine, or cause to be examined, all such aliens and all members of the crew, in such manner as he may deem necessary to ascertain whether any of such aliens are subject to exclusion under the provisions of this Act or any other law, and for such purpose may administer oaths and require the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and documents, and may designate and employ such interpreters as may be necessary. Any person who knowingly makes a false statement in relation to the right of any alien to enter the United States shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, or who refuses or neglects to deliver to such immigration officer a truthful list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, or who refuses to give to such immigration officer, or to any such person designated by him, such information as he may require in relation to the persons who were employed on such vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, or who refuses to permit any such immigration officer to go and remain on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the persons on board thereof, or who refuses to detain such vessel at the port of arrival for a period not exceeding two hours after the inspection officer in charge of the port shall have given notice in writing to the master, agent, owner, or consignee of such vessel that the same is detained for the purpose of inspection, or who refuses to detain any such person on board or on the dock for examination, or who refuses to permit any such person to be taken before the proper immigration officer for examination, or who refuses to detain any such person on board or on the dock after notice that the same is required by any such immigration officer, or who refuses to carry any such person certified to be afflicted with any contagious disease to the proper officer of the quarantine station for treatment, or who refuses to detain on board or on the dock, pending the result of the examination, any person who may be certified by the examining surgeon to be afflicted with any such disease, or who refuses to report the illness or death on board of any person who may be ill or die before the vessel reaches port, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, owner, or consignee of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all passengers who were not included in the lists delivered at the last previous port, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists when required by the Secretary of Labor, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above required: And no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens created by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 have been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or upon the departure of another vessel from the port of arrival of the vessel on which he arrived shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman upon such vessel unless such alien seaman is a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport a deserting alien seaman if such vessel has been sold while in port, and shall be conclusive evidence of such failure to deport in favor of any person who has become master, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of such vessel in good faith and for a valuable consideration after the date of such arrival.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is ready to depart from the United States, is unreasonably delayed by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, such alien seaman may be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

I, [illegible], of the [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on said vessel from any port or place outside the United States now present on board thereof, and that I have caused the Consular Officer of the United States at the port of [illegible] to be informed of the name of each member of the crew who may have been left behind, and the reason therefor, as required by section 35 of the Act of February 5, 1917.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, contract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 30 of the Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

When an alternate examination is made, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens who shall be on board such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively applied for or engaged, and specifying those of the same who have been discharged in the port of arrival; to list contained no names of such aliens, and to report specifically the cause for the absence from the list of any alien who may be on board. When an alternate examination is made at a subsequent port, lists of such aliens, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension, shall be delivered by the master to the officer in charge of the immigration service who were not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's arrival but who may subsequently be found on board. Every master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has secreted himself or attempted to secrete himself for the purpose of not being found upon the vessel, showing the name of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and every master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has secreted himself or attempted to secrete himself for the purpose of not being found upon the vessel, showing the name of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and every master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to the proper immigration officer at the time of the vessel's departure from each port in the United States a list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the vessel's departure, and specifying those who were not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's arrival but who were subsequently employed, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged, and the circumstances that occasioned the removal of all aliens employed who were not on board at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port from which departure is about to be made, and the destination of each such alien. Every master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver similar lists at the time of the departure of each vessel from any port of the United States to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and in the event any such vessel shall depart without the delivery of such lists by reason of the failure of the master, agent, consignee, or master to comply with the provisions of this section, such master, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a like penalty in case any such alien has secreted himself or attempted to secrete himself, but no such penalty shall be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted vun vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been duly signed, and not then unless notice of inability to file administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, and no fine shall have been levied, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board vun vessel arriving in the United States from vun place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring his removal, or unless the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of vun vessel arriving in the United States from vun place outside thereof, who fails to obtain or deliver on board vun said vessel prior to the departure thereof from the last port in a foreign country at which such vessel touches before arriving in the United States the lists required by section 36 of the Act entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to, and the residence of aliens in, the United States," approved February 5, 1917, or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pursuant to the determination of the Secretary of Labor, or pursuant to the provisions of this section, while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or such subsequent vessel as may be allowed to depart in lieu thereof, shall be deported at the cost of the appropriation for the expenses of the Immigration Service, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel cannot be used for the purpose, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel in satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor's claim, or may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel until such time as it may be practicable to deport him.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port or place of arrival (from 658) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien "overstays" a duration of time effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of such aliens as are to be transferred to the custody of another vessel for transportation thereto; and unless the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer in writing, and on oath as to discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon new ports not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may thereafter join the vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been landed from the vessel, stating the cause of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, if any, who have deserted, and the vessel on which they shall have taken passage. No bond shall be required for any alien seaman, unless specially ordered by the Secretary of Labor, or by the immigration officer in charge of the port, but the master, owner, agent, consignee, or consignor of the vessel on which any alien seaman shall arrive shall be liable to the payment of any hospital expenses and the cost of maintenance and return of such alien seaman, which shall constitute a lien upon the vessel, to be collected as provided by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, from which he may be discharged, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such expenses, or while any such alien seaman remains on board, but nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the substitution of a sufficient bond at any time.

TAX.—2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been delivered, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act during such time as the lists have been made.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the necessity to such vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, but no such alien seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), arriving and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel which brought him to the United States from such port, the immigration officer in charge at the port of Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Front sums an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he was removed by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to obtain other transportation by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(f) Any alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in the manner and within the time required by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(g) Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States within the time required by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(h) Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States within the time required by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(i) Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States within the time required by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(j) Any alien seaman who shall fail to depart from the United States within the time required by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, and any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel as the bow of the vessel is the first of the vessel to arrive, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or additions must be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 583) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 583) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien arriving seaman is a "nonquota" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of so many thereof as have been discharged in the port of arrival; to list contiguous to the name of each such alien the number of pieces of baggage, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been secreted on board such vessel after the delivery of the lists, and before the departure of such vessel from the port, and furnish such information in regard thereto as may be required by such officer. Any person willfully failing to comply with the requirements of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. The master of such vessel shall, before any such alien shall be landed from such vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every such alien to be landed, and the last place of permanent residence of each such alien, which list shall be prepared in accordance with the forms prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master who lands or attempts to land any alien without having delivered such list, or who lands or attempts to land any alien whose name is not contained in such list, except such as may be specially excepted by the Secretary of Labor, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such failure occurs. The master of such vessel shall, before any such alien shall be landed from such vessel, deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every such alien to be landed, and the last place of permanent residence of each such alien, which list shall be prepared in accordance with the forms prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such other information as he may require for the proper administration of the immigration laws. Any master who fails to deliver such list, or

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form 583) shall not be refrigned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien arriving seaman is a "nonquota" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if bound in the gulf or the coastwise trade of the United States, every master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or other officer of the vessel in the discharge of his duties, shall before the departure of such vessel from the port of arrival, deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying the ports to be paid on his discharge in the port of arrival; or if there contaminate no match of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival no such alien shall be employed thereon as the time of the vessel at the port of arrival but who intends to depart from the United States in such vessel without having been granted a permit to land, shall be detained on board or at such port of arrival under the immediate supervision of an immigrant inspector until the departure of the vessel from the United States, unless sooner granted a permit to land, or until the master of such vessel shall have given a bond to the United States in such sum as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned for the return of such alien to the country from which he came, or for his deportation in case he shall hereafter enter the United States, and for the payment of the hospital expenses and burial charges of such alien, if he shall become a public charge within three years after his entry into the United States, which bond shall be in force for such time, not exceeding three years, as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or to detain such aliens on board or at such port of arrival, or to give such bond, or to pay such hospital expenses and burial charges, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such default occurs. The Secretary of Labor may issue rules and regulations not inconsistent with this Act for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and shall report annually to Congress all cases arising thereunder and the moneys received and expended in enforcing the same.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and shall not then unless notice of inability to the administrative has been complied by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act, namely, been waived, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or brought to such destination as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board while such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel cannot be used to detain such seaman on such vessel pending examination by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each such seaman.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according as separate manifests immigrants and non-immigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also according as separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, where there is such provision on the ships, and those who do not pass such privileges. The manner in which the separate manifests are prepared is illustrated above when they travel in the same class: and it they travel in different classes, appropriate pers is a family should appear upon the same manifest sheet when they are prepared on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Line of ship).—The ship's name, if steamer is to be numbered in addition to the city or town.

Column 2 (Name in full).—Enter surname (family name) first, followed by given names (individual or Christian name) and middle name or initial, if any. Titles, such as Mr., Mrs., Miss, Dr., Rev., Prof., Hon., Baron, Count, Countess, Lord, Lady, Sir, Madame, Mlle., Mme., Frau, Herr, Monsieur, Mademoiselle, Don, Doña, Señor, Señora, Señorita, Conte, Contessa, Graf, Gräfin, Baron, Baronin, Freiherr, Freifrau, Jonkheer, Jonkvrouw, Ritter, Edler, Fürst, Prinz, Prinzessin, Kronprinz, Kronprinzessin, Großherzog, Großherzogin, Herzog, Herzogin, Markgraf, Markgräfin, Pfalzgraf, Pfalzgräfin, Landgraf, Landgräfin, Burggraf, Burggräfin, Reichsgraf, Reichsgräfin, Wildgraf, Wildgräfin, Rheingraf, Rheingräfin, Altgraf, Altgräfin, Fürstbischof, Bischof, Erzbischof, Kurfürst, Kurfürstin, Kurprinz, Kurprinzessin, Herr Baron, Frau Baronin, Herr Graf, Frau Gräfin, Herr Ritter, Frau Ritterin, Herr Edler, Frau Edle, Herr Fürst, Frau Fürstin, Herr Prinz, Frau Prinzessin, Herr Kronprinz, Frau Kronprinzessin, Herr Großherzog, Frau Großherzogin, Herr Herzog, Frau Herzogin, Herr Markgraf, Frau Markgräfin, Herr Pfalzgraf, Frau Pfalzgräfin, Herr Landgraf, Frau Landgräfin, Herr Burggraf, Frau Burggräfin, Herr Reichsgraf, Frau Reichsgräfin, Herr Wildgraf, Frau Wildgräfin, Herr Rheingraf, Frau Rheingräfin, Herr Altgraf, Frau Altgräfin, Herr Fürstbischof, Herr Bischof, Herr Erzbischof, Herr Kurfürst, Frau Kurfürstin, Herr Kurprinz, Frau Kurprinzessin, should be omitted, as they are not required.

Column 3 (Head-tax status).—Alien immigrants must be entered in this column. The above is for use of Government officials only.

Column 4 (Age).—The numeral in this column should be expressed in years of age, the latter applying only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 5 (Sex).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 6 (Married or single).—The numeral 1 (one) should be entered in this column for each person listed who is married, and the numeral 2 (two) for each person listed who is single, widowed, or divorced.

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: CIVIL engineer, mechanical engineer, locomotive engineer, mining engineer, steam engineer, electrical engineer, mining engineer, civil engineer, etc., but not simply "engineer" or "mechanic" or "electrician" or "laborer" or "clerk" or "manufacturer" or "farmer" or other indefinite designations.

A distinction should be made between farmers and farm laborers, foremen and superintendents, as follows:

A farmer is one who owns or rents a farm, either for himself or for others.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the farm who obtains it.

A farm foreman is one who works on a farm for the farm who obtains it.

Stockmen, dairymen, etc., engaged in raising stock, cattle, etc., should be described as such.

Persons formerly engaged in any occupation, but not actually employed at the time of sailing, should be described as "retired" or "without occupation."

Column 8 (Nationality).—Give the nationality of the country to which alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 9 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race or people as given in this list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country of last permanent residence, and country of birth, and manifests should be carefully reviewed by inspectors in this regard. For instance, people, and, similarly, "French" nationality under the head of race or people does not mean "France" by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly come under the heading of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following distinctions should be especially observed:

CUBA

The term "Cuban" refers to the Cuban people (not Negroes).

WEST INDIES

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cubans or Negroes.

CENTRAL AMERICAN

"Central American" refers to the people of Central and South America of Spanish descent.

NEGRO

"Negro" refers to the African (black) manifest column from Cuba or other islands of the West Indies, North or South America, Europe, or Africa. Any alien with admixture of blood of the African (black) should be classified under this heading.

Column 10 (Last permanent residence or domicile).—Alien immigrants must be entered to show the country of last permanent residence of the alien who has resided one year or more in such country. Nonimmigrant aliens, however, should be entered to show the country of last permanent residence, regardless of length of actual residence therein. The entries in column 10 should be the name of the city, town, or village, and the country. Avoid such indefinite designations as "Europe," "Asia," "Africa," "South America," "Central America," "West Indies," "Orient," "Levant," "Scandinavia," "Balkan States," "Malay States," "Dutch East Indies," "Spanish Main," "Philippine Islands," "Straits Settlements," "Barbary States," "Polynesia," "Micronesia," "Azores," "Canary Islands," "Madeira Islands," "Cape Verde Islands," "Windward Islands," "Leeward Islands," "Bermudas," "Bahamas," "Somoa," "Fiji Islands," "Hawaii," "Philippines," "Danish West Indies," "Dutch West Indies," "French West Indies," "British West Indies," "Republic of Panama," "Republic of Haiti," "Republic of Santo Domingo," "Republic of Cuba," "Republic of Liberia," "Republic of Mexico," "Republic of Guatemala," "Republic of Honduras," "Republic of Salvador," "Republic of Nicaragua," "Republic of Costa Rica," "Republic of Colombia," "Republic of Ecuador," "Republic of Peru," "Republic of Bolivia," "Republic of Chile," "Republic of Argentina," "Republic of Paraguay," "Republic of Uruguay," "Republic of Brazil," "Empire of Japan," "Empire of China," "Empire of Korea," "Empire of Annam," "Empire of Siam," "Empire of Persia," "Empire of Abyssinia," "Empire of Ethiopia," "Empire of Afghanistan," "Empire of Morocco," "Empire of Germany," "Empire of Austria," "Empire of Russia," "Empire of Turkey," "Empire of Bulgaria," "Empire of Roumania," "Empire of Servia," "Empire of Montenegro," "Empire of Albania," "Empire of Greece," "Empire of Portugal," "Empire of Spain," "Empire of Great Britain," "Empire of Ireland," "Empire of Scotland," "Empire of Wales," "Empire of Belgium," "Empire of Holland," "Empire of Luxemburg," "Empire of Norway," "Empire of Sweden," "Empire of Denmark," "Empire of Iceland," "Empire of Finland," "Empire of Lapland," "Empire of Switzerland," "Empire of Italy," "Empire of France," "Empire of Monaco," "Empire of Andorra," "Empire of Liechtenstein," "Empire of Hungary," "Empire of Czechoslovakia," "Empire of Poland," "Empire of Lithuania," "Empire of Latvia," "Empire of Esthonia," "Empire of Finland," "Empire of Transcaucasia," "Empire of Siberia," "Empire of Australia," "Empire of New Zealand," "Empire of Tasmania," "Empire of Canada," "Empire of Newfoundland," "Empire of India," "Empire of Burma," "Empire of Ceylon," "Empire of Malay States," "Empire of Straits Settlements," "Empire of Dutch East Indies," "Empire of Philippine Islands," "Empire of Hawaii," "Empire of Somoa," "Empire of Fiji Islands," "Empire of Transvaal," "Empire of Orange Free State," "Empire of Cape Colony," "Empire of Natal," "Empire of Rhodesia," "Empire of Egypt," "Empire of Algeria," "Empire of Tunis," "Empire of Tripoli," "Empire of Cyrenaica," "Empire of Barbary States," "Empire of Morocco," "Empire of Liberia," "Empire of Abyssinia," "Empire of Ethiopia," "Empire of Afghanistan," "Empire of Persia," "Empire of Annam," "Empire of Siam," "Empire of Japan," "Empire of China," "Empire of Korea," "Empire of Mexico," "Empire of Guatemala," "Empire of Honduras," "Empire of Salvador," "Empire of Nicaragua," "Empire of Costa Rica," "Empire of Colombia," "Empire of Ecuador," "Empire of Peru," "Empire of Bolivia," "Empire of Chile," "Empire of Argentina," "Empire of Paraguay," "Empire of Uruguay," "Empire of Brazil," "Empire of Haiti," "Empire of Santo Domingo," "Empire of Cuba," "Empire of Panama

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens if there are none. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens if there are none. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, to such extent as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the multiform deportees, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front first an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing vessel of the master in charge of the vessel on board which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after reinvestment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of a mental or physical disability, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally determined until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely refuse to go on board the said vessel in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at the port of the first arrival of such vessel, and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, if written, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired but not discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; but in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to so deliver either of the lists required, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a like penalty is not made as above required; but no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the duration of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been duly executed, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 38 or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act thereof has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment to such extent as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien seaman on board such vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of a contagious disease, he may cause him to be detained on board the vessel if the expense of the vessel on which he arrived would not be increthereby, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port or other (form 434) shall not be received on board, but shall be returned by the master to the vessel. The list of changes or alien members" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 20. (a) Upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel, assisted the boarding officer in charge of the port of arrival into which the vessel is destined to such information concerning the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who [illegible] and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and the [illegible] and destination of each alien employee and the amount of money in possession of each, and such other information relative to the movements of such aliens while in the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such information shall be given under oath administered by the master of the vessel, or by the boarding officer if the master is incapacitated, and shall be recorded on such forms and in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master who refuses to furnish such information or who knowingly gives false information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. If any master fails to furnish such information within the time prescribed he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, which sum may be recovered in an action of debt in the name of the United States. It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States from foreign ports to detain such aliens on board the vessel until the boarding officer has boarded the vessel for the purpose of obtaining the information required by this section, and no such alien shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as in the opinion of the boarding officer renders the detention of the alien on board the vessel dangerous to the life or safety of the vessel or those on board, until a certificate has been issued by the boarding officer that the master has complied with the provisions of this section relative to such alien. Any master who refuses to detain any alien on board the vessel after notification by the boarding officer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, may prescribe such additional rules and regulations governing the boarding of vessels and the inspection of aliens arriving at ports of the United States as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

(c) Any master who fails to comply with any of the requirements of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 4. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been presented, but not then unless notice of inability to the administrative duty prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 39 of said act cannot have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as in the opinion of the boarding officer renders the detention of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such alien seaman who did not depart from the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily detained on account of sickness, shall be deported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expenses and penalties have been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expenses and penalties have been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien membership on board at the time of departure from the United States may be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of exit (Form 632) shall not be required on board, but shall be retained by the master as a memorandum for his own use.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether those so to be hired or engaged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names or such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and within the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien employed thereon has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave such port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or engaged since the arrival of the vessel, and the positions they respectively hold or are to hold: Provided, That in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, he shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly reported as such as above as provided: And no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and, in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act herein been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury to such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of debarkation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as may be discovered, all cases in which such lists are not delivered prior to the inspection of the vessel, the master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has left the vessel, and the circumstances connected therewith, and such report shall be subscribed by the master. Such lists shall contain such information touching each alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each such alien who is to be landed at a subsequent port a certificate of identification, and to indorse upon the list the name of each alien to whom such certificate is given. Any owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or neglects to comply with the provisions of this section, or who knowingly lands or permits to land any alien from such vessel at any port in the United States without delivering to the immigrant inspector at such port the certificate herein provided for, or who lands or permits to land any alien at any port in the United States otherwise than as provided in this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of the United States shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so landed or permitted to land, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who knowingly harbors any alien who has landed or entered the United States in violation of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe such additional rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, and may exempt from the operation thereof masters of vessels who shall have complied with such rules and regulations and who shall have satisfied the inspection officers at the port of arrival that they have no knowledge of the landing of any alien contrary to the provisions of this section.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens imposed by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel as the boat or barge arrives, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form 528) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of those, if any, who have been shipped or discharged, and of all persons who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to so deliver either of the lists herein required to be delivered, he shall pay the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 4. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act cannot have been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless to abide the result of a appeal taken as in the case of any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside of the United States shall cause each alien seaman employed on board such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to appear before an immigrant inspector at the time of such arrival for inspection, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside of the United States shall cause each alien seaman employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain from the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to obtain or deliver either temporarily by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(d) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is detained by the master of such vessel as a deserter shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form 588) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "nonquota" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be paid off at the port of arrival; to deliver to the Secretary of Labor through the immigration officer, at Atlanta, Ga., noon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to report to the Secretary of Labor all cases in which any vessel arriving at a port of the United States has left any alien member of the crew behind, and the cause or reason therefor, as far as known. Any master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at Atlanta, Ga., noon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has left the vessel at any port in the United States, and the cause or reason therefor, as far as known. Any master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of any such vessel from a port of the United States a list of all alien members of the crew who have been discharged or have deserted from such vessel during her stay in port, and the cause or reason therefor, as far as known. Any master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of any such vessel from a port of the United States a list of all alien members of the crew who have been discharged or have deserted from such vessel during her stay in port, and the cause or reason therefor, as far as known. Any master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of any such vessel from a port of the United States a list of all alien members of the crew who have been discharged or have deserted from such vessel during her stay in port, and the cause or reason therefor, as far as known.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been collected, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act remains open, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of some temporary disability requiring hospital treatment, or by reason of the shipwreck of the vessel on which he arrived, or for other cause beyond his control, pending the final determination of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deport on board such vessel such alien seaman who has been ordered deported by the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from this place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on board such vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

I, ... of the ..... vessel, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on said vessel from any port or place during my present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 19 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list to contain the names of alien immigrants only (from USA shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (from USA).

"Master" as hereinafter means the master, purser, agent, or other officer or person in charge of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens applied or engaged, and subscribed under oath by the master, agent, consignee, or owner, as hereinafter provided, and subscribed in the port of arrival; the lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or owner, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien not included in such lists has been found on board such vessel; giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, agent, consignee, or owner, to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the next departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been employed and discharged, and the date and place of such alien's arrival and departure, respectively, or to so to report such cases of desertion or inability, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the lists of such alien's arrival and departure, respectively, or to so to report such cases of desertion or inability, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the above, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists of such alien's arrival and departure, respectively, or to so to report such cases of desertion or inability, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid, and no vessel arriving in the United States shall be allowed to depart from the port at which it arrives until such penalty is paid or until sufficient bond is given to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located to secure the payment of such penalty, or in the event such alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or true report is not made as aforesaid, is found to be in the United States, then such penalty shall be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

RULE 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been taken, signed, and not found unless notice of inability to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act, in which case the deposit specified in rule 25 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such exceptional circumstances as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue or undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the fact that he has a wife or dependent children in the United States whose support depends upon his employment aboard such vessel, the Secretary of Labor may cause such alien seaman to be granted a permit to land temporarily in the United States notwithstanding the provisions of this section, under such bond and such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, sufficient to insure that such alien seaman will not become a public charge and will depart from the United States when required by the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts so found and shall be conclusive upon all officers of the United States.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Don Hansen Hall-Patch, of the ship Marin Owner, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 1st day of May, 1957.

Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form 653) shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival immediately upon such arrival a complete list of all the persons employed on board such vessel, showing the name and capacity of each person employed or entered, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, which list shall be certified to by the master of such vessel, and it shall be the duty of such master to report to such immigration officer, at which, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien shall secrete himself or herself on board such vessel, and a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel to deliver to any such immigration officer on board such vessel a true and correct list of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of any such vessel from a foreign port have been discharged therefrom, and to report the name, if any, who have been buried or have died during the voyage, and the cause of death of each; and the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers before the determination of the question of the payment of such penalty by the Secretary of Labor, but to the collector of customs, who shall refund the same if it appears that such alien was specially admitted by the Secretary of Labor or his duly authorized agent: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to such payment or refund upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty and costs, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

THE C. CLEARANCE shall not be granted any vessel until the liens provided by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative thereof by said section or to that prescribed by section 33 of said Act, and that penalties have been paid, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury for which he may be detained in the United States for hospital treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance of such seaman to depart from the United States from the port of arrival and shall not be refused clearance by reason thereof. Any alien seaman employed on any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart with such seaman on board such vessel when such vessel departs from the port of arrival, or who departs from the United States within five days after such arrival without the consent of the Secretary of Labor, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, unless he shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924, and that he has since remained therein, or that he entered prior to such date and has since departed therefrom and returned thereto as a bona fide resident alien, or that he is a citizen of the United States. Any such alien seaman shall be deported to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived, and shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the hour of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien passengers (Form 6S) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of such aliens who have been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with the information likely to lead to the apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who may have been employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of the vessel have been discharged, and the cause of such discharge, if any, who have been hired on and the names of those, if any, who have left the vessel, and the cause therefor, so far as known to the master, agent, consignee, or owner; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the delivery of such lists or the correction of the same to the satisfaction of the officer entitled to demand the same, and in the event such list is not delivered, while it remains pending, not more than such sum may be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative tax prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 39 of said act therein been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury certified by the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized representative, or because of an emergency found by the Secretary of Labor to exist, or for the purpose of applying for a visa and submitting to examination by a consular officer, or pending the departure of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any transportation company (which term includes a railroad in all cases where it is operating a ferryboat between the United States and foreign territory), who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived and such vessel is unable to detain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 524) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 32. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, excepting the bona fide members of the crew who are employed solely in the service of the vessel as a part of the crew, and specifying those to be landed at such port, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, which lists shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Secretary of Labor and furnished by the United States immigrant inspector stationed at the port of arrival. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 524) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to report, list, or describe any such alien, or to furnish information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who shall refuse to report to such immigration officer, at any time, as soon as discovered, all cases of any such alien not before reported, or who shall refuse to deliver to such immigration officer any such alien for examination, or who shall refuse to detain such alien on board or at the wharf designated by such immigration officer until a permit shall be granted for the landing or removal of such alien, or who shall refuse to pay the head tax imposed by this section, or who shall refuse to detain any such alien on board any vessel in which he shall arrive at any port in the United States after notice that the Secretary of Labor has refused to issue a permit for the landing of such alien, or who shall refuse to take such alien back on board such vessel or to some foreign port determined by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom any failure occurs. The vessel shall be detained pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the case remains pending, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of such sum as may be required, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Every alien arriving at a seaport who shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deliver prior permissions by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally discharged to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; to list separately all persons in the employment of the master, officers, and crew who sign articles in a foreign port and are discharged in the United States, and to report the sickness or death of any person on board during the voyage, and the cause thereof, so far as known. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel is admitted to entry or granted clearance, and shall be prepared in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and approved by the Secretary of the Treasury. Any master who refuses to deliver such lists, or who knowingly lands any person before the inspection of such person by the immigration officers, or who lands any person who has been refused a certificate of admission, except as provided in section 19 of this Act, or who knowingly lands any person who has been certified to be afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who knowingly lands any person who has been certified to be mentally or physically defective, such defect being of a character which may affect the ability of such alien to earn a living, unless such person has been specially exempted from the operation of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each such person: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of the lists herein required in case of delay not due to the fault of the master, officers, crew, or agents of the vessel, but in such cases the master shall be required to deliver the lists as soon as possible and before the vessel shall depart from the port: Provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the admissibility of any alien employed thereon as the principal immigrant inspector at the port of arrival may direct: And provided further, That the penalty herein provided shall not be imposed in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master had no reasonable cause to believe that the person or persons concerned were aliens who had not been inspected or were not admissible to the United States under the provisions of this Act, or in case it shall appear that the master has complied with the requirements of the immigration laws governing the admission of aliens to the United States from foreign contiguous territory.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 70 to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act, unless proof of the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness or injury requiring his detention, or unless specially permitted by the Secretary of Labor to land for the purpose of proceeding in transit to a foreign country, or to await the departure of the vessel on which he arrived, or another vessel, or for such other reasons as may be deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor. Any such alien who shall land in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except from such foreign contiguous territory as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, shall be required to detain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and to detain on board such seaman any time after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so. Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master failing to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman so detained. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front sums so paid or bonds so deposited shall not be returned until the alien seaman with respect to whom he arrived in the United States from such foreign contiguous territory, or such other foreign territory as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, shall have been granted a certificate by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or by the Secretary of Labor, stating that such alien seaman has complied with the conditions of his admission into the United States, or has been granted permission to land temporarily, or has been deported, or has died, and that no charge for hospital treatment or burial of such alien seaman remains unpaid.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel or another vessel of the same owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master will be unable to secure the payment thereof, he may withhold clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

I, _____, of the _____, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from such port or place entered for present voyage.

I have marked the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like certificate and manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged or shipped, and description of such alien, following such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and no such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be granted clearance papers for such vessel if it shall be found that any such alien has been illegally landed from the vessel, prior to the inspection of such alien, as above provided, or that any such alien has been allowed to depart from the vessel before the departure of any such vessel if it shall be found by the said immigration officer at the time of the arrival but who subsequently lands in the United States from such vessel, without having been duly inspected by the proper immigration officer at the time of his arrival, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report the illegal landing of such alien or aliens, as soon as discovered, to the said immigration officer, and in default thereof such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which such vessel may arrive a sum of money equal to the commutation head tax provided for in section 2 of this Act in addition to any penalty which may be imposed by law. Such head tax shall constitute a lien upon such vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and clearance may be withheld or refused and such vessel detained for the payment thereof. The Secretary of Commerce shall prescribe and furnish such forms and make such regulations as may be necessary to carry this section into effect.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been duly executed, and in the event such lists be imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Ellis Island shall not be considered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel). The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 528) shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held at the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as may be required by the regulations of the Department of Labor and prescribed by the Secretary of Labor in addition as the Secretary of Labor may require. Such lists shall be delivered from the vessel, before the vessel shall be granted clearance papers, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to the officer in charge of the customs at the port of departure, or the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the port of arrival the lists required by this section. Such lists shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Secretary of Labor, and upon the demand of any such officer the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a true copy of any list or lists required by this section. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer any such list or lists, or who knowingly or willfully lands from the vessel, except in case of distress, any alien without the consent of such officer, or who knowingly or willfully delivers to any such officer a false list or who refuses to allow any such officer to go on board any such vessel at any time before the departure of the same from the port, or who refuses to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge any question authorized by this section to be asked by any such officer touching any such alien, or who refuses to detain any such alien on board or at the station of the vessel when required so to do by any such officer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That masters shall not be required to detain on board vessels or at the vessel's station any alien after the inspection of such alien has been completed, unless the immigrant inspector in charge at the port shall have reasonable ground to believe that such alien belongs to one of the classes excluded by law, or unless such alien's landing money is refunded or guaranteed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel in which such alien arrived, or unless such alien is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or unless such alien is under the age of sixteen years and is not accompanied by either parent, or unless such alien is an idiot, insane person, epileptic, or deaf and dumb person not accompanied by a guardian, relative, friend, or other responsible person: Provided further, That masters shall not be required to detain on board or at the vessel's station any alien who has been duly admitted to the United States and has subsequently departed therefrom temporarily and who is returning to an unrelinquished domicile in the United States, or any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States as a returning resident, or any alien who has been in the United States two years next preceding his last arrival and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of one year or less, or any alien who has been in the United States five years next preceding his last arrival and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of two years or less, or any alien who has been in the United States next preceding his last arrival for a period of ten years or more and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of four years or less, or any alien who is in possession of a certificate issued to him under the provisions of section 6 of the Act of March 2, 1907, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens into the United States," and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of one year or less, or any alien who is in possession of a certificate issued to him under the provisions of section 3 of the Act of March 26, 1914, entitled "An Act to amend the immigration laws of the United States," and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of two years or less, or any alien who is in possession of a certificate issued to him under the provisions of section 4 of the Act of March 26, 1914, entitled "An Act to amend the immigration laws of the United States," and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of four years or less, or any alien who is in possession of a certificate issued to him under the provisions of section 4 of the Act of March 26, 1914, entitled "An Act to amend the immigration laws of the United States," and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of ten years or more and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of four years or less, if it appears to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such absence was occasioned by reasons beyond his control and without fault on his part or the part of such alien, or while the true intention existed in such alien to return to the United States but such intention was subsequently changed by stress of circumstances: Provided further, That nothing in this section shall be construed to require the detention on board or at the vessel's station of any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and has subsequently departed therefrom temporarily and who is returning to an unrelinquished domicile in the United States, or any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States as a returning resident, or any alien who has been in the United States two years next preceding his last arrival and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of one year or less, or any alien who has been in the United States five years next preceding his last arrival and who is returning to the United States after having been absent therefrom for a period of two

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or additions here of crews (Form 613) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the primary immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the business they respectively hold in the ship's company, upon and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely refuse to be land on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and before the arrival in the port of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all such employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left the vessel in any port, and the cause for their departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired and discharged, and of all persons, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, he shall pay to the Secretary of Labor, for the use of the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located until the master of such vessel has delivered to the inspector in charge at the port of arrival the lists required by this section, or has satisfied the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located that the master is unable to deliver the same, and, in the event such fact is imposed, making it impossible to obtain such lists, that no such alien has landed from such vessel: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been delivered, and not then unless notice of inquiry to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act thereof have been served, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any ports outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or to the extent necessary to obtain treatment for such illness, injury, or quarantine, or because he is detained as a witness in connection with the prosecution of any alien from the United States.

SEC. 16. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of such district while any fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, exceptions of a sum sufficient to secure the payment thereof as such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel cannot be such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens memorandum or crew (Form configuration) shall not be accepted on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like manifests and lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, as the case may be. Such lists shall be in such form and contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor and shall be approved by the Secretary of Labor before they are used. Such lists shall be delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or master to the proper immigration officer, or, if no officer be present, then to the collector of customs, or his deputy or other customs officer designated for the purpose, at the port of arrival, before any passenger is landed from the vessel, either at a station or on board the vessel, as may be directed by the said officer. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall fail to exercise due diligence to prevent the unlawful landing of any alien from such vessel, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien in any place at any time other than as designated by the said officer, or who shall refuse to allow such officer to enter such vessel for the purpose of examining the master, crew, passengers, and cargo thereof, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully questions propounded to him by such officer concerning the persons on board such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The master of any vessel who shall land or permit to be landed any alien in violation of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien so landed, which penalty may be sued for and recovered by the United States district attorney in the district in which the port of arrival is located, and the payment of such penalty may be enforced by the Secretary of Labor by withholding or withholding and refusing to grant clearance papers for the vessel on which the alien was brought to the United States. Clearance may be granted such vessel upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien arriving at a port specified in subdivision (a) of this section who shall not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or upon some list or manifest subsequently filed by the master of such vessel as a departure, shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States in violation of law, unless he shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that his failure to appear was occasioned by illness or other cause beyond his control, or that for other reasons satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor the facts should be otherwise adjusted.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be refused clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act pursuant to rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or unless specifically certified by the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of the Treasury as to such temporary landing, under such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the protection of the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport such alien seaman on board such vessel or on board some other vessel or conveyance owned by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel when required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who does not depart in accordance with the requirements of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or who does not depart in the vessel which shall cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel as a deserter, shall be deported as an alien who entered the United States in violation of law, unless he shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that his failure to depart was occasioned by illness or other cause beyond his control, or that for other reasons satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor the facts should be otherwise adjusted.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be refused clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... of the ..... do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

..... Master, Purser, or Commanding Officer.

Sworn to before me this ..... day of ..... 19..

..... Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 583) shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew, whether employed on such vessel, alphabetically arranged, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; of lists containing as much of such information as is required to be furnished from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and of lists containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently joined from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report each cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and but not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, if any, have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than Canada or Mexico, or proceeding to such place, who employs on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit with the collector of customs of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain from the authorized immigrant of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a landing certificate, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman in respect of whom such fine is imposed.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of citizens of minor members of the crew (Form 434) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "notkwown" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 32. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged the positions they respectively hold in the cabin company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on the vessel if allowed to land by the inspection officer; or lists containing no names of such persons, as the case may be. Such lists shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer, or the first or second officer, before the delivery of the same. Such vessel if allowed to land by the inspection officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has offered a transfer that consummate the manner in all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the vessel's leaving port and before the departure of the said vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed thereon at the time of the vessel's leaving port and mill forms port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those it was, who were paid off and discharged, and those, it any, who have received on landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver lists of the said list of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, to or do so report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, to the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; but no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and, in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains pending; nor shall such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 33 of said Act arising been served, the deposit specified in rule 33 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring his removal to a hospital for treatment, or because of the necessities as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), to any alien to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do or shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination or deposit of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or who shall depart without having obtained a certificate from the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to the effect that the alien seaman has complied with the provisions of this section, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel in which such alien seaman arrived shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been treated in accordance with the provisions of section 16 hereof, or that the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived was unseaworthy, or that the failure of such alien seaman to depart was due to illness or injury or to his being detained as a witness in or the prosecution of any criminal case, or that such alien seaman has been granted permission to remain in the United States by the Secretary of Labor, or that the vessel on which such alien seaman arrived has been ordered to remain in port by the Secretary of Labor. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fine imposed by this section has been paid or sufficient security given therefor to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien memoranda (Form 632) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; or if there continue on board of such vessel any such alien for the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at the port of destination: but no owner, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, location, with such information likely to lead to his apprehension: and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed when the list required by this section was last prepared, and of all such aliens who have been landed, with the circumstances connected with their landing. In case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report any alien employee, it appears that such owner, agent, consignee, or master is not under bond as provided in section 36 of this Act, he shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: And no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the master is under arrest or prosecution for violation of this section, unless a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, and the costs that may accrue in the case, shall be deposited with the collector of customs, to abide the decision of the court in the premises, and the payment of such penalty if incurred: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative unit prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, namely, been received, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the necessities of the vessel, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the master is under arrest, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination or the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front and an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel cannot be made available to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, casualty, or emergency, or unless in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor such seaman is destined to a vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or two of such fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if ordered by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance beneath the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(b) Every such fine as aforesaid did not absent upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons or alien members of crew (Form 598) shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board while in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all such employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon as the time of such departure, respectively, or so to report each case of desertion or discharge, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall furnish the information required by the Secretary of Labor, by or to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of the customs or the person performing the duties of collector until the master of such vessel has delivered to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival or to the collector of customs a certificate that all the provisions of this section have been complied with to the best of his knowledge and belief, and no fee or charge shall be demanded for the granting of such clearance papers or certificate: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens provided by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act remain open record, the deposit specified in rule 35 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of accident, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deposit such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such alien seaman who has been found upon the outward manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to have been ordered deported from the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was required by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be taken into evidence of a finding to deport after reinvestigation by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to such seaman on such vessel, such alien may be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 32. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew of such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and describing those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as may be the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the port of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required, such owner, agent, or consignee shall pay to the Secretary of Labor, for the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located until the amount of such penalty has been determined by the decision of the Secretary of Labor, or shall have been deposited with the collector of customs to await such decision upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereafter. And no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or has failed to detain such seamen on board after such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do; shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the determination of the inspection officers or the Secretary of Labor, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereafter approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every fine or alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of churches or other religious organizations to which the persons (from 65) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 508).

Attention is called to section 2 of the act of February 5, 1917, providing that no person "who is an anarchist," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; or else containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival, and those intending to depart therefrom; and such list shall be produced before and delivered to such immigration officer, at such time, as soon as practicable, but not before the vessel has been granted entry or cleared at the customhouse, as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a true list of all aliens employed on such vessel, and to report the name of each alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left the vessel before the completion of the journey, the cause for so doing, and the amount of wages due him at the time; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at such time, as soon as practicable, the name of each alien who may have been employed as aforesaid, who may be discharged, who may die, or who may desert while in port, and to furnish such information in regard to the cases of such persons as may be required by such officer; and it shall be the duty of the master of every vessel bringing aliens to the United States from foreign ports to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the inspection of such vessel a list or manifest of all such aliens, and to report the names of all aliens who may be detained on board under the provisions of this act, specifying the reasons for such detention, and to perform such other duties relative to the inspection of such aliens as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Any master, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who refuses to deliver such list, or who refuses to answer questions concerning the same, or to make the report herein required, or who makes any false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel, when entering the United States from any foreign port or place, a true list, or a sufficient list, of the persons on board such vessel, or who refuses to answer questions concerning the same, or who refuses to make the report required by section 36 of this act, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to go on board such vessel for the purpose of performing the duties imposed by this act, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each offense.

(b) Any master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall refuse to detain on board such vessel any alien when ordered so to do by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to pay the expenses of such detention and subsistence, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each offense.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien arriving on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such master, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, he may cause such alien to be detained on board or at quarantine or other place designated by the Secretary of Labor pending the determination of such question, and such master, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall not be required to pay the cost of such detention and subsistence.

SEC. 38. (a) Any master, charterer, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place who fails to report and deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of such vessel a complete list of all the crew employed on board such vessel, specifying the nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether he intends to return to the United States thereafter, and if so when, the port through which he intends to depart, whether he has in his possession or has procured a passport, and if so by what country and where issued, and the purpose for which issued, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense.

(b) Any master, agent, owner, charterer, consignee, or person in charge of any vessel who shall refuse to detain on board such vessel any alien ordered so to be detained by any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to pay the expenses of such detention and subsistence, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien arriving on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such master, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel, he may cause such alien to be detained on board or at quarantine or other place designated by the Secretary of Labor pending the determination of such question, and such master, agent, owner, consignee, or person in charge of the vessel shall not be required to pay the cost of such detention and subsistence.

SEC. 39. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign country, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment in a hospital as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alleviation of the disease or illness of such alien, from the United States, unless security to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor be given by the master, consignee, or agent of the vessel on which such alien arrived that such alien will be returned on board such vessel or on some other vessel to the country from which he came to the United States, or to the country to which such vessel next proceeds, or to such other country as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, within such time as he may direct, and that such alien will not become a public charge before such return.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been collected, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 36 to the last preceding port of call has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or treatment in a hospital as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alleviation of the disease or illness of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel, when entering the United States from any foreign port or place, a true list, or sufficient list, of the persons on board such vessel, or who refuses to answer questions concerning the same, or who refuses to make the report required by section 28 of the immigration act of 1924, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to go on board such vessel for the purpose of performing the duties imposed by this act, or who refuses to detain any alien when ordered so to do, shall be fined not to exceed $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart from the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman by the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival before alien passengers are landed or any cargo discharged. The list of persons to be taken from the vessel for persons (from USA) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an alien passenger is in possession of more than one list, each must be signed.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information about aliens, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those. It was, who have been employed or discharged, and the cause for such discharge, and the name of any alien employee who has been left behind in any foreign port or place, stating fully the facts in each case, and the reasons therefor, and the amount of money and effects belonging to each alien so left behind, and the disposition made thereof, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. It shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel to report the illness or death of any alien employee during the voyage, or the cause for which any alien employee was not landed at any port or place at which the vessel may call during the voyage, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all such employees and the sum deposited by each with the Secretary of Labor, the cause for the failure to land each alien, and the final disposition made of the deposit. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined for each offense not more than $1,000 and imprisoned not more than one year: Provided, That clearance may be granted any vessel until the hour fixed by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been complied with, and not thereafter unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 have been made.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

For 6 clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been completed, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act of March 3, 1903, as amended by section 1 of the Act of February 5, 1917, shall have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 have been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment in a hospital, or pending the departure of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not object upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The use of chalkings of plain memoranda or crewes (Form 583) shall not be tendered or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival; or state counterpart or march of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and until the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may thereafter join the vessel, and specifying the time, place, and cause of their leaving the vessel, and the final destination of such employees, and also the names of those, if any, who have been held on board discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the lists above required the owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of inability to find administrative time prescribed by said section or to find prescribed by section 35 of said Act finding been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress necessitating his removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly inspected and passed by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or to or who fails to deport such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front last on alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on board such vessel, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of his physical condition, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign mainland of North America or the West Indies, shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection it shall be the duty of such immigration officer to make as soon as practicable after the vessel is docked), and shall not cause any such alien seaman to depart from the port of arrival in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That any alien seaman who has not been [illegible] on the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or depart after reimbursement by the immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according as separate manifests immigrants and non-immigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also according as separate manifests those aliens ineligible to the third class and the so-called contract class, whose visas bear the initials of technical advisers when they are issued in the same class; and those whose visas do not bear such initials. The names of all members of a family shall appear one after the other in the same manifest sheet when they are issued in different classes, appropriate spaces to be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Number on list).—Number persons consecutively, beginning with 1 in each new sheet.

Column 2 (Name).—The surname in this column should be expressed in every case, the initial letter only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 3 (Age).—The entry should be either M (male) or F (female).

Column 4 (Married or single).—The unsworn statement should be M (married), S (single), W (widowed), or D (divorced).

Column 5 (Calling or occupation).—The entry should describe as accurately as possible the occupation, trade, or profession of each alien arriving, as, for example: clerk, engineer, mechanic, farmer, laborer, miner, engineer, fireman, seaman, weaver, spinner, bricklayer, carpenter, mason, tailor, tailoress, dressmaker, servant girl, housewife, or other industrial designations.

A distinction should be made between farmers and farm laborers, regardless of the amounts of money owned, as follows:

A farmer is one who owns or is buying or has a share in the farm he operates.

A farm laborer is one who works on a farm for the farm who operates it.

A farmer is one who operates a farm, either for himself or for others.

Gentlemen, engineers, merchants, lawyers, etc., should be described as such, and not as "capitalists," "investors," "property owners," or "retired business men."

Persons of no occupation should be described as "none."

Children should be entered as "child" or "children," as the case may be.

Column 6 (Can read).—The entry should be "Yes" or "No" as the alien can or cannot read the language or dialect of his native country.

Column 7 (Can write).—Same as column 6.

Column 8 (Name and address of person alien is coming to join).—Give the name and complete address of friend or relative whom alien intends to join, or state definitely whether going to friend, relative, employer, or other person, and give name and complete address of such person.

Column 9 (Nationality).—Write the nationality of the alien, as "Irish," "German," "Italian," "Polish," "Russian," "Finnish," "Swedish," "Norwegian," "Danish," "Dutch," "Belgian," "French," "Spanish," "Portuguese," "Greek," "Turkish," "Bulgarian," "Servian," "Roumanian," "Hungarian," "Austrian," "Chinese," "Japanese," "Hindu," "Arabian," "Mexican," "West Indian," "Central American," "South American," or other nationality.

Column 10 (Race or people).—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should show the race or people as given in said list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject, country of last permanent residence, and country of birth, and intelligent should be certainly proved by inspector in this regard. For instance, "France," abbreviation under the head of country does not mean "France" by race or mean "France," by country. An Irish, German, or Hebrew alien by race might properly come under under the heading of England, Switzerland, or any other country. In this connection the following distinctions should be especially observed:

GREAT BRITAIN

The term "Great Britain" refers to the British people (not Welsh).

WEST INDIAN

"West Indian" refers to the people of the West Indies other than either Cuban or Porto Rican.

SPANISH AMERICAN

"Spanish American" refers to the people of Central and South America of Spanish descent.

MEXICAN

"Mexico" refers to the African (black), mestizo coming from Cuba or other Spanish West Indian islands, South or Central America, Europe or Africa. Any alien of the West Indies, South or Central America, Europe or Africa (black) should be classified under this heading.

Column 11 (Place of birth).—The State, province, or district of birth should be written in addition to the city or town.

Column 12 (Name of ship).—Alien should write name of ship on which he arrives in this country.

Column 13 (Last foreign residence).—Write the city or town in which he last had a permanent residence, and the country. If he has been a visitor only to those under 1 year of age.

Column 14 (Destination in the United States).—Write the city or town to which he intends to go, as, for example, Boston, Mass., or Chicago, Ill. If he has friends or relatives to whom he is going, write their names and addresses.

Column 15 (Whether having a ticket to and through to destination).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be.

Column 16 (Whether in possession of $50 and if not, how much).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he has less than $50, write the amount he has.

Column 17 (Whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and name and complete address of such relative or friend).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is going to join a relative or friend, write the name and complete address of such relative or friend.

Column 18 (Whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when, where, and how long did he remain).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he has been in the United States before, write when he came, where he went, and how long he remained.

Column 19 (Whether going to join a husband, wife, father, or other relative, and if so, what relative and where).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is going to join a relative, write the name and complete address of such relative, and the degree of relationship, if any.

Column 20 (Whether have a ticket to any final destination other than destination in the United States, and if so, where).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he has a ticket to a place other than destination in the United States, write the name and complete address of friend or relative in charge of such ticket.

Column 21 (Whether in charge of any person under 16 years of age, and if so, how many).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is in charge of any person under 16 years of age, write the number of such persons.

Column 22 (Whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, when and where).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, write when and where.

Column 23 (Whether a polygamist).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be.

Column 24 (Whether ever before refused admission to the United States, and if so, when and where).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he has been refused admission to the United States, write when and where.

Column 25 (Whether coming under contract to perform labor, and if so, what labor).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is coming under contract to perform labor, write what labor he is to perform.

Column 26 (Whether an anarchist).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be.

Column 27 (Whether a believer in the practice of polygamy).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be.

Column 28 (Whether a believer in the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be.

Column 29 (Whether ever committed a crime, and the nature thereof).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he has committed a crime, write the nature thereof.

Column 30 (Whether coming in pursuance of a prearranged plan to perform skilled or unskilled labor, and if so, with whom such arrangements were made).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is coming in pursuance of a prearranged plan to perform skilled or unskilled labor, write the name and address of the person with whom such arrangements were made.

Column 31 (Whether a stowaway).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be.

Column 32 (Whether ever before deported from the United States, and if so, when and why).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he has been deported from the United States, write when and why he was deported.

Column 33 (Whether in possession of a ticket or passage through to his final destination).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be.

Columns 34 to 36.—These questions are to be answered by the inspector in the examination of aliens on the spot, and should be left blank by the steamship company.

Column 37 (Height).—Write the height of each alien in feet and inches, as, for example, 5 ft. 6 in.

Column 38 (Complexion).—Write the complexion of each alien, as "light," "medium," or "dark."

Column 39 (Color of hair and eyes).—Write the color of hair and eyes of each alien, as, for example, "light hair, blue eyes," "dark hair, brown eyes," "red hair, gray eyes," "bald, brown eyes," "gray hair, blue eyes," etc.

Column 40 (Marks of identification).—Write any visible marks of identification on the body of each alien, as, for example, "scar on left cheek," "mole on right hand," "amputated left arm," etc.

Column 41 (Whether in possession of a valid passport).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be.

Column 42 (Whether in possession of an immigration visa, and if so, number and place issued).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is in possession of an immigration visa, write the number and place issued.

Column 43 (Whether in possession of a reentry permit, and if so, number and place issued).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is in possession of a reentry permit, write the number and place issued.

Column 44 (Whether in possession of a certificate of identity, and if so, number and place issued).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is in possession of a certificate of identity, write the number and place issued.

Column 45 (Whether in possession of a certificate of registry, and if so, number and place issued).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is in possession of a certificate of registry, write the number and place issued.

Column 46 (Whether in possession of a permit to reapply for admission, and if so, number and place issued).—Write "Yes" or "No" as the case may be. If he is in possession of a permit to reapply for admission, write the number and place issued.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, _____, of the _____, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from and port or place during my present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

_____
Master, First or Second Officer.

_____
Immigrant Inspector.

RECEIVED
IMMIGRATION SERVICE
ATLANTA, GA.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to be made by crews (Form 589) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is at variance with "YES" or "NO" answers, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged, and absolutely those to be paid off in the United States from any such vessel, and the intended destination of each such alien; and it shall be the duty of each such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to each immigration officer at any other port in the United States at which such vessel may call full and complete information with respect to any such alien employed on board such vessel who may desert or abscond or who may be discharged in sickness or otherwise, and the cause of such desertion, absconding, or discharge, and the destination of such alien, so far as known or can be ascertained, all cases in which any such alien may be left behind on account of sickness or injury, and the destination of such alien, and the name of the vessel in which he sailed or expects to sail, and the date of sailing. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall fail to report the departure of any alien employed upon any vessel as aforesaid, or who shall fail to report any such alien left behind on account of sickness or injury, or who shall fail to report the destination of any such alien, or who shall fail to report any such alien who shall have been employed upon any vessel and who shall have been lawfully landed from such vessel, within the time specified in this section, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished as herein required, and no vessel shall be granted clearance until such sum has been paid to the collector of customs: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not more than one additional vessel owned by the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, only one vessel at a time may be cleared.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished by section 32 of the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act, and not then unless bonds of indemnity to the satisfactory

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Joseph Collins, of the S.S. Rose, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly to sail from and port or place during the present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from application B, rule 7, and copy of sections 18 and 20, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 21 day of August, 19 22

Immigrant Inspector.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, or the Canal Zone, bringing an alien (which term when used in this section includes a person of African nativity or race) not lawfully entitled upon application to enter the United States, shall be required by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (or, if there is no immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, then by the immigration officer nearest the port of arrival) to deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien examined in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the subpoena mentioned of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, to shall be given by the master of such vessel as a defense, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, has been unduly delayed, such vessel is liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien seaman so detained, to be deducted on another vessel as the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, has such vessel paid all fines and costs before granting clearance, but such expense shall be repaid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines specified by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid, satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act granting such clearance, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, the intended length of stay in the United States or transit through the same, and whether they have been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long they resided therein, and such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel at a port in the United States it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on new or exchanged vessels since the time of the arrival of the vessel but how long they intend to remain at the time of the last departure, and whether they have been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long they resided therein. It any of the matters required to be stated in the lists mentioned in this section are not known by the master, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel, the reasons for such lack of knowledge shall be stated in such lists. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall knowingly or willfully report falsely or make any false statement in any such list concerning the names or other facts regarding any alien mentioned therein, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The master of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver the lists required by this section shall not be granted clearance for his vessel until he has complied with the requirements of this section, and in addition shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given (Room 688) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Room 688) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens of all classes to be examined by the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 613) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien is entitled to examination at more than one port, the master will be required to report the fact to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board for examination by the immigration officers at the port of arrival; to list separately the names of those so detained, and to report the cause of detention. Such lists shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and shall be verified by the oath of such owner, agent, consignee, or master in such manner as may be required by immigration officers. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who shall refuse to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has become ill, or suffered from any contagious disease, during the period of the voyage, or who shall fail to report the illness or death on board of any such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his identification; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from each port a list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left such vessel before the departure of the vessel at such port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or employed to fill the vacancies caused by such departures, and the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, agent, consignee, or master to be delivered to such immigration officer at the time of departure, and a failure to deliver such lists or any of the matters required by this section shall be unlawful and punishable by a fine of not to exceed $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a sum to exceed $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a sum equal to the head tax imposed by section 2 of this Act for each alien not listed, or any part of such sum, as the Secretary of Labor may direct, which fine may be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance shall not be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of llapplify to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act namely, good service, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or otherwise to such territories as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been furnished such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be otherwise reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien crewmembers by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds after deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration inspector, possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal Immigration officer at the port or otherwise (Form 583) shall not be considered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal Immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is ill "notwithstanding" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, purser or other officer or person in charge of the port of arrival there conferring the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying as about to be landed in the port of arrival; or state conditions as much of such information as is the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report such additional information officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been duly discharged, and the said list of such aliens arriving during departure, respectively, or to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master, concerning, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists or to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct list has not delivered or to true report is not made as aforesaid, and no such vessel shall be cleared while any fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the British West Indies, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness arising after arrival, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and then only in pursuance of a permit to be granted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, which permit shall specify the number of days within which the alien seaman is required to depart from the United States, and shall be subject to revocation by the Secretary of Labor at any time. Such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, and at the same classes of aliens as are ineligible to citizenship.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the British West Indies, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness arising after arrival, shall be required to detain on board the vessel all alien seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected each alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and has granted a permit to land, or has otherwise given written notice that such alien seaman may be landed, and no such alien seaman shall be landed from the United States.

(b) Every master, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the British West Indies, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness arising after arrival, shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the illness or death of any alien seaman on board, and secure the permit required by subdivision (a) before any such alien seaman shall be landed. Every master, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the British West Indies, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness arising after arrival, shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the illness or death of any alien seaman on board, and secure the permit required by subdivision (a) before any such alien seaman shall be landed. Every master, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the British West Indies, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness arising after arrival, shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the illness or death of any alien seaman on board, and secure the permit required by subdivision (a) before any such alien seaman shall be landed. Every master, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the British West Indies, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness arising after arrival, shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the illness or death of any alien seaman on board, and secure the permit required by subdivision (a) before any such alien seaman shall be landed. Every master, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, the Republic of Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the British West Indies, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness arising after arrival, shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the illness or death of any alien seaman on board, and secure the permit required by subdivision (a) before any such alien seaman shall be landed.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived prior to the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such fine occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, unless the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman had been duly to his payment pursuant to the provisions of this section.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his hospitalization, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment by the Secretary of Labor, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien. Any alien seaman who shall land in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, to the country from which he came to the United States, or to the country in which he shall have resided for a period of two years immediately prior to his coming to the United States, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness requiring his hospitalization, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment by the Secretary of Labor, such alien seaman employed on such vessel shall pay the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by such immigration officer or the medical examiner), to defray the cost of maintenance and return of such alien seaman on board such vessel after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $17,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on board such vessel as a deserter

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 20, 1907

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists or manifests of all persons intending to land at such port or place, which lists or manifests shall be in the form and contain the information required by the Secretary of Labor and shall be verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer thereof, and shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last residence, and seaport for which destined of all aliens who have been taken on board the vessel at any foreign port or place, and shall state the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each alien, and shall indicate those aliens who have paid their own passage or have the same paid by other persons or corporations, and the amount paid by each, and by whom paid, and shall state whether each alien has been in the United States, and if so, how long previously, and whether he has been deported or excluded therefrom, and if so, the cause therefor, and whether he intends to return to the United States, and whether he has a ticket through to his destination, and whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether he is coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or prepaid ticket or otherwise to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, and what is the condition of health, mental and physical, of each alien, and whether the alien is a polygamist, and whether he is an anarchist, and whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, or is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining or teaching such opposition, or advocating the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, and whether he is coming to the United States to commit any crime or for any other purpose, and the intending immigrant shall write in a space provided for the purpose his full name before leaving the foreign port, and shall subscribe his name in the presence of the master, agent, consignee, or owner, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner shall certify to the correctness of the list in the presence of the immigrant before the departure of the vessel from the foreign port. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall be fined $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid no clearance shall be granted to any such vessel: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 20, 1907, have been duly completed, and not then unless notice of illness to the administrative head prescribed by said section 36 to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, and no alien shall be allowed to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation or removal of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign dominions of the adjacent British North American Provinces, or from any island adjacent thereto (other than Cuba or the Panama Canal Zone), shall be severally liable to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for the inspection and any detention of any alien on board such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to deliver such alien to the immigration officer for inspection or to any person authorized by such immigration officer to inspect such alien, except temporarily for the purpose of landing such alien from the United States, a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien examined or required to be inspected, and a sum not exceeding $300 for each alien who escapes before inspection: No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, and every alien who may be in transit through the United States to any foreign port or place, who shall not have been duly inspected by the immigration officers at the port of arrival, shall be detained for such further examination and action as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and no such alien shall be admitted to the United States if he belongs to the following classes, to wit: Idiots, insane persons, epileptics, persons afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, persons who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, polygamists, persons who admit the commission of such crime, anarchists, persons who believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, persons who advocate or teach the assassination of public officials, persons who advocate or teach the unlawful destruction of property, persons coming to perform labor under contracts or agreements, express or implied, made previous to the importation of such persons, persons who have come in consequence of advertisements for laborers printed and circulated in a foreign country, persons likely to become a public charge, persons who have been deported, persons who have come in violation of any of the provisions of this Act, persons who are assisting others to come in violation of the provisions of this Act, and persons who have been convicted of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude: Provided, That the provisions of this Act relating to the payment of head tax shall not apply to diplomatic officers or to officers or employees of the United States coming to the United States under orders of the Secretary of Labor, or to children under the age of sixteen years coming with their parents, or to an alien in continuous transit through the United States to a foreign country, or to an alien who has been a bona fide resident of the United States and is returning from a temporary visit abroad.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crew is required by the master of each vessel (Form 583) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival for the inspection of each alien. Failure to deliver such list to the proper immigration officer may result in the imposition of a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished. "Foreign seaman" means an alien employed on board a vessel arriving at a port of the United States from a place outside the United States, except temporarily for pleasure, or in transit to such territory as an immigrant, or for the purpose of study, research, or culture in the interests of science or education, and in which he intends to depart from the United States. (Form 598) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival for the inspection of each alien. Failure to deliver such list to the proper immigration officer may result in the imposition of a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished. "Foreign seaman" means an alien employed on board a vessel arriving at a port of the United States from a foreign port or place, and who intends to depart therefrom in the vessel on which he arrived, or in any other vessel which may be available for that purpose, and who is destined to a foreign port or place, and who is not a citizen or subject of the United States, or who has not been naturalized under the laws thereof, or who has not declared his intention to become a citizen or subject thereof in the manner required by the laws relating to naturalization: Provided, That a seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States may depart on a vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived if the master of such vessel consents thereto and the immigration officer at the port of departure is notified of the intended departure of such seaman.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged, and specifying such of those employed as are destined to the port of arrival; to make corrections on such lists as to any changes that may occur in the particulars before the departure of any such vessel from any foreign port; and to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on board such vessel who are not destined to that port, specifying such of those employed as are destined to the United States from any foreign port at which the vessel may touch in the course of her voyage to the port of arrival. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who refuses to deliver any list required by this section, or who refuses to answer truthfully any question touching the information required by this section as to any alien on board such vessel, or who fails to deliver promptly any such list with such corrections as may be required by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report as to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or for the wrongful refusal to answer truthfully any question touching the determination of the duration of the immigrant's residence in the United States, or for the wrongful refusal to answer truthfully any question touching the determination of the right of any alien to enter the United States, or for the refusal to answer any question touching the identity or nationality of any alien, or for the refusal to permit the inspection of the manifest or any part thereof, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel upon which any alien shall arrive shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance shall not be withheld in the determination of such duration upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such time, not exceeding four months, as the Secretary of Labor may designate.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of Feburary 2, 1917, have been furnished by the master, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall have noted the correctness of the lists as to the number of aliens on board, and shall have certified the same on the lists, before the vessel shall be granted clearance. Failure to furnish lists as required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report as to deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nominated for the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of first arrival (Form 583) shall not be required on board vessels bound for ports in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone, Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Newfoundland, Miquelon, Saint Pierre, Bermuda, the Bahama Islands, Turks Islands, Dominican Republic, Haiti, or the Virgin Islands of the United States.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all passengers on board, which lists shall be prepared in the port of arrival; or such other immigration officer as may be designated in the port of arrival; the names to be entered alphabetically under the letter constituting the initial letter of the surname of each passenger, the names of the husband, wife, and minor children accompanying them and where they were respectively born, as near as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has concealed himself on board such vessel, carefully with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel but who have been detected on board; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver such lists it was the duty of such alien arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been delivered, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 36 of said Act has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 31. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the enlistment, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel and prior to the departure thereof the list required by section 12 of the immigration act of 1917 (Form 528) shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien not listed therein, but shall be relieved from such liability if the alien was specifically inspected by the medical examiners).

Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be found to have remained in the United States in violation of law, shall be prima facie evidence to the contrary, be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the immigration act of 1917 to the country from which he came, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived will cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, DARRELL MANN, of the AMERICAN STEAMER TRADERS, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from application B, rule 7, and copy of sections 12 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members (Form 528) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "MOVEMEN," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or other person in charge of the port or arrival list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the said vessel's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens who are destined to the United States, and the intended length of their stay and such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and where the vessel is a common carrier, the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall report to the immigration officer, at which the vessel first arrives, additions to such list of persons joining the vessel subsequent to the departure from the last port outside the United States, and shall report the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not reported as being on board at the time of her departure from each port, and also the names of persons who have been left behind sick or otherwise. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a sum equal to the head tax for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be recovered by the Secretary of Labor, for the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located to which the vessel is destined; but no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question or the collection of the penalty: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 3. Clearance shall not be granted vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fine prescribed by section 36 of said act remain unpaid, except that clearance may be granted upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of any regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the safeguarding of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel (other than a vessel of war of any foreign nation or an aircraft) arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except Canada or Mexico) shall be jointly and severally liable to the head tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, in the case of each alien (other than an alien crewman, a person in transit through the United States, an alien in bona fide possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, or an alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad) who shall arrive in the United States on board such vessel, unless such alien shall have been duly inspected by an immigrant inspector at the port of arrival and a certificate issued to him authorizing him to land in the United States, notwithstanding the payment by the master of the head tax. Such head tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located by the seizure and detention of the vessel, or any vessel owned in whole or in part by the owner of such vessel, until such head tax has been paid or its payment secured to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, or in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor a sufficient bond given to secure the payment thereof. Clearance may be granted to any vessel prior to the payment of the head tax imposed by this section upon the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such amount as the Secretary of Labor may require, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien on board such vessel, or the head tax for each alien on board, whichever is the greater. Such bond shall be conditioned for the payment of the head tax imposed by this section in respect of each alien on board such vessel who shall not be duly inspected by an immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and for the payment of the penalty provided for in subdivision (b) of this section in respect of each such alien who shall not depart in accordance with the provisions of law applicable to his departure from the United States. Such bond shall be void and of no effect after the expiration of two years from the date of the arrival of the vessel in connection with which it was given, but no such bond shall be void or of effect by reason of the departure of the vessel on which the alien arrived, if such vessel shall return to a port of the United States within two years from the date of the arrival of the vessel in connection with which the bond was given.

(b) Every alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave under the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and who fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel, or fails to report on board such vessel at the time of departure, shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, to the country whence he came, or, at his option, to the country in which is located the foreign port at which he embarked, or to any country willing to receive him, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws current at the time of deportation. Deportation proceedings may be instituted against any alien seaman who has been granted shore leave within the period of his permit or at any time thereafter within the period of one year from the date of the arrival of the vessel in connection with which he was granted shore leave, and such proceedings shall be given preference over all other cases except those of aliens in custody pending final action.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is prevented from departing by reason of the failure of the master to comply with the provisions of this section or of the Secretary of Labor, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port or ports (form 6x6) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

The list of aliens mentioned in the following manner: Names of all aliens employed on the vessel, starting the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, the nationality of those to be landed in the port of arrival; to state correctly in each instance the country of which the alien is a citizen or subject, the last permanent residence of each alien, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, how long, whether he has a ticket to his destination beyond the port of arrival, and if so, whether it is paid or unpaid, whether he has in his possession more than $50 and if less than $50 how much money he has, whether he is in possession of a railroad ticket or other through ticket, and if so, over what railroads and to what point, whether he is coming to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his name and complete address, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, what and when, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, whether he is a member of any organization that teaches disregard for or opposition to law or that advocates the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers of the law, whether he has been deported from the United States, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously made contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what the contract or agreement is, whether he has been employed by the month, week, or day, or for what time, whether he is a skilled laborer or a laborer, and what his occupation is, whether he is married or single, the age, sex, and relationship of those accompanying him, and whether they intend to remain permanently or temporarily in the United States, the height and weight of each alien, the color of hair, eyes, and complexion of each alien, and any distinctive mark or scar visible on the body of each alien.

SEC. 38. That upon arriving at the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, the nationality of those to be landed in the port of arrival; to state correctly in each instance the country of which the alien is a citizen or subject, the last permanent residence of each alien, whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, how long, whether he has a ticket to his destination beyond the port of arrival, and if so, whether it is paid or unpaid, whether he has in his possession more than $50 and if less than $50 how much money he has, whether he is in possession of a railroad ticket or other through ticket, and if so, over what railroads and to what point, whether he is coming to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his name and complete address, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, what and when, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, whether he is a member of any organization that teaches disregard for or opposition to law or that advocates the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers of the law, whether he has been deported from the United States, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously made contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what the contract or agreement is, whether he has been employed by the month, week, or day, or for what time, whether he is a skilled laborer or a laborer, and what his occupation is, whether he is married or single, the age, sex, and relationship of those accompanying him, and whether they intend to remain permanently or temporarily in the United States, the height and weight of each alien, the color of hair, eyes, and complexion of each alien, and any distinctive mark or scar visible on the body of each alien.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to an alien or cannot be made, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be exacted clearance until such expense has been paid or it be proved unfounded to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Proof that an alien assigned did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien by the master of such vessel on which he arrived. Such proof must cause undue hardship, exceptional circumstances may be excused prior to the determination of such inquiry by the collector of customs.

(e) Every alien assigned to a vessel in pursuance of law, or while the same remains during, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such inquiry by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien assigned in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains during, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination by the collector of customs, approved by the collector of customs.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

(b) Any alien assigned such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), arrival and inspected such assigned (which inspection or to deport such assigned if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do or, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien assigned in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains during, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to an alien or cannot be made, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be exacted clearance until such expense has been paid or it be proved unfounded to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or temporarily to such extent as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall not land or permit to be landed any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or to cause any alien to depart on board any vessel after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do or, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains during, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such inquiry by the collector of customs, approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien by the master of such vessel on which he arrived. Such proof must cause undue hardship, exceptional circumstances may be excused prior to the determination of such inquiry by the collector of customs.

(e) Every alien assigned to a vessel in pursuance of law, or while the same remains during, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains during, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such inquiry by the collector of customs, approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to an alien or cannot be made, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be exacted clearance until such expense has been paid or it be proved unfounded to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 14. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Front fine an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign outside thereof, or fine not be now reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or otherwise to such territories as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel, before the departure of such vessel from any port in the United States, to any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien crewmen by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 653) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel at the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and prior to the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all aliens employed upon new terms not embraced therein at the time of the arrival of the vessel but who before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer lists containing the names of those, if any, who have been discharged, and the names of those, if any, who have been signed on and the intimation of such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to whether they intend to return to the United States; and the failure to deliver lists of the aliens employed, or to report the illegal landing of aliens, or to make due report concerning aliens who have been discharged or signed on, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. The vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rendered by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or report after employment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for examination by such officials as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate determination of such alien seaman's admissibility to land in the United States. Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be immediately reported by such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival for inspection and examination (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to depart with the vessel on which he arrived or on board some other vessel until the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall be taxed to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rendered by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or report after employment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are to be paid off at the port of arrival; to make oath to the correctness of such lists and to answer such questions in regard to such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has fallen sick or been injured, stating the name of such alien, and, if sick, the disease with which he is supposed to be afflicted, and the date of the arrival of such vessel at a port in the United States; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all aliens employed or shipped on board such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind in consequence of illness, injury, or any other cause, and the destination of each of such aliens, together with such information likely to lead to his identification; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all aliens employed or who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind in consequence of illness, injury, or any other cause, and the destination of each of such aliens; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, if any, duly verified by the oath of such owner, agent, consignee, or master, or in case of any omission, concealment, or misstatement of fact in any of the particulars required as aforesaid, he shall be jointly and severally liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above as to each such alien, to be collected by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above as to each such alien, to be recovered by action at law; but such penalty shall not be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance shall not prevent such question from being determined thereafter, and the deposit specified in lieu of detention shall not prevent the remission of the fine if subsequently found proper.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the listed tendered pursuant to section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been tendered, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded. That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the multiple deporture, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 16. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do or, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the onforms manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien members of the crew (Form 524) shall not be destroyed or mislaid, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all the persons employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or enlisted, and specifying those of the said persons as are discovered, all cases in which have been so discharged in the port of arrival; the lists containing as many of such persons as may be required to depart from the United States under the provisions of this Act; and such lists shall be prepared in such manner, and contain such information, as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to each immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every person employed on such vessel who may have left the vessel since the last preceding list was delivered, or since the vessel left the last foreign port, and specifying the cause of the absence of each person, if known, and the circumstances connected therewith, so far as the same can be ascertained by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer of such vessel; and it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to each immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the next departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been added to the list of employees since the last preceding list was delivered; and such lists shall be prepared in such manner, respectively, as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel, or the master of the vessel, if the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof be not then present at the port, who shall refuse to deliver to each immigration officer any list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer to the best of his knowledge any question therein propounded touching the matters required to be stated in such list, or who shall make any wilfully false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act of May 26, 1924, has been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or unless treatment in such institutions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or in a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of any vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived or which would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list or manifest of passengers shall be prepared in duplicate, and where more than one sheet is used it shall be the duty of each master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to cause the sheets to be numbered consecutively and the list verified at the footing of each sheet. The master shall sign the list at the end of the last sheet on the line following the last name entered. The list of cabin passengers shall be separate from the list of steerage passengers.

The information required as to each passenger by the various columns of the list shall be given in the order indicated by the headings of the columns. Any space left vacant on the list must be ruled out. The list shall not be altered after it has been signed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, and no person shall be permitted to alter the list after the vessel has left the last port outside the United States. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each and every such violation.

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or before it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to report to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the exact number of all passengers on board, whether cabin or steerage, and such other facts regarding them and the voyage as may be required by law or by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such report shall be verified by the oath of the master when the vessel is of a burden of two hundred net tons or more, and by the oath of the master or first officer when the vessel is of less burden. The immigration officer at the port of arrival is authorized to administer such oaths and to take and consider such evidence as may be necessary to a full and complete investigation of the facts set forth in the report or manifest. All passengers arriving at a port of the United States shall be subject to such medical examination at the hands of medical officers of the United States as may be provided by rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require any person to submit to a physical examination where he presents a certificate signed by a medical officer of the United States Government, setting forth the fact that such person was examined by such medical officer within three months prior to the date of sailing of the vessel upon which he has arrived, and found not to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders constituting grounds for exclusion.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel at the United States from any foreign port or before it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the vessel's company, name and nature of document, if any, held by each of them entitling them to land in the United States, and such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the right to land of any alien employed on such vessel. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to answer questions touching the right to land of any alien employed on such vessel, or who shall make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. Any alien employed on such vessel who shall land in the United States, except in case of accident, illness, or subsequent to a medical examination as provided in this section, shall be deported as provided by law, and the cost of his maintenance while a patient in a hospital and of his burial in case of death shall be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of the Immigration Service. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the immigration officer any information required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the right to land of any alien employed on such vessel, or who shall make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 19. (a) That no alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment for a specific ailment, or for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, or for the purpose of attending the funeral of a relative, or for the purpose of rendering assistance in case of fire, shipwreck, or other disaster, or for the purpose of taking part in such other temporary and special cases as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, but no alien seaman shall be permitted to enter the United States for any of the purposes aforesaid unless and until he has been duly examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and found not to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders constituting grounds for exclusion of aliens from the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port, or before it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to report by name to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the name of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel and the intended port of debarkation in the United States of each such alien seaman, and to deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the name, age, last permanent residence, calling, nationality, and last foreign port from which transferred to such vessel of each such alien seaman, and such other information in regard to each such alien seaman as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such list shall be verified by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel in such manner as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each and every alien seaman employed on board such vessel who is not reported and listed as required by this section, and for each and every such alien seaman who lands in the United States in violation of this section, and for each and every such alien seaman who fails to remain on board until after such inspection or to depart with such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That any alien seaman who does not appear upon the customs manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from any island adjacent thereto, or from the West Indies, Mexico, Central America, or Canada, shall be deported as a stowaway, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to comply with the provisions of this section, and shall be deported as provided by the immigration officer at the port.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which the arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from any island adjacent thereto, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, or for the purpose of visiting a relative who is dangerously ill, or for the purpose of attending the funeral of a relative, or for the purpose of rendering assistance in case of fire, shipwreck, or other disaster, or for the purpose of taking part in such other temporary and special cases as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, but no alien seaman shall be permitted to enter the United States for any of the purposes aforesaid unless and until he has been duly examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and found not to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders constituting grounds for exclusion of aliens from the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port, or before it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel to report by name to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the name of each alien seaman employed on board such vessel and the intended port of debarkation in the United States of each such alien seaman, and to deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the name, age, last permanent residence, calling, nationality, and last foreign port from which transferred to such vessel of each such alien seaman, and such other information in regard to each such alien seaman as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe. Such list shall be verified by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel in such manner as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each and every alien seaman employed on board such vessel who is not reported and listed as required by this section, and for each and every such alien seaman who lands in the United States in violation of this section, and for each and every such alien seaman who fails to remain on board until after such inspection or to depart with such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That any alien seaman who does not appear upon the customs manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or from any island adjacent thereto, or from the West Indies, Mexico, Central America, or Canada, shall be deported as a stowaway, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to comply with the provisions of this section, and shall be deported as provided by the immigration officer at the port.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which the arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector presenting the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (form 499) shall not be received on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Upon an arriving vessel it is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, for the master or commanding officer or the agent of the vessel knowingly to refuse to allow any immigration officer to go on board such vessel and to examine the list of passengers and the crew, or knowingly to conceal, remove, or destroy any part of such list.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from a port in the Canal Zone, Porto Rico, or the Virgin Islands at the first port of entry of such vessel in the United States the master, purser, surgeon, or person in charge of such vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port a list or manifest containing the name of every passenger, and the following information concerning each passenger: whether he or she is a citizen of the United States; whether he or she has been in the United States, and if so, how long, when, and where; whether he or she has a ticket through to destination; whether he or she has the amount of money required by law in his or her possession; whether he or she has been in prison or in a almshouse or an asylum for the insane or supported by charity; whether he or she is coming in pursuance of a prearranged contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what is the nature of such contract or agreement; whether he or she is an anarchist; whether he or she is a polygamist; whether he or she believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law; whether he or she is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining or teaching such disbelief in or opposition to organized government; whether he or she is coming in response to any solicitation or invitation by any person, company, or corporation in the United States to induce him or her to enter the United States; whether he or she is an idiot, feebleminded person, epileptic, insane person, or person who has been insane within five years previous; whether he or she is a person who has had one or more attacks of insanity at any time previously; whether he or she is deaf, dumb, blind, or crippled, and whether he or she is married or single; the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he or she came; whether he or she intends to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend and his or her complete address; whether he or she has ever been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long ago; whether he or she has been deported from the United States, and if so, why; whether he or she has ever been in prison or almshouse within five years; whether he or she is under sentence of death for any offense punishable by death in the country from which he or she comes; whether he or she has been convicted of any felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, what crime; whether he or she is a professional beggar; whether he or she is a person who is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing any act which would make him or her subject to deportation; whether he or she is in possession of a ticket or passage paid for by any person or corporation, association, society, municipality, or government, and if so, by whom; whether he or she is in possession of any amount in excess of $50, and if so, how much; whether he or she is going to join a husband, father, brother, sister, or other relative, and if so, what relative, and his name and complete address; whether he or she has ever been refused a visa to the United States, or deported, or excluded and debarred from admission to the United States, and if so, when; whether he or she is going to the United States in pursuance of the provisions of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, express or implied, to perform any kind of labor if admitted into the United States, and if so, what kind of labor; whether he or she has a ticket through to his or her final destination, and if so, whether the cost of the same is prepaid or not; whether he or she has been employed by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or superintendent of the vessel on which he or she is coming to the United States, and if so, for how long a time during the past year and in what capacity; whether he or she intends to return to the country whence he or she came after temporarily residing in the United States; whether he or she is a stowaway; whether he or she is a citizen of the kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and if so, whether he or she is able to read; whether he or she is married or single, the age, sex, and relationship, if any, of those accompanying him or her; the nationality, last residence, and final destination of each of such persons; whether he or she is in possession of a through ticket to such destination; EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. After noon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's complement, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they severally intend to land, and such other information as the Secretary of Labor shall prescribe; and before the vessel, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has illegally landed from the vessel, and a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to the apprehension and deportation; and before the departure of any alien passenger it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all such passengers who were not employed aforesaid at the time of the arrival but who have been employed as members of the crew or otherwise on board such vessel; and any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each alien as to the number of whom he shall be in default when the list is delivered, or from whom such information is withheld, or who is not included in the list, or for each alien who shall depart without the permission of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who shall land at any port in the United States from such vessel without report and permit, or who shall refuse to assist in the lawful detention of any such alien when required so to do by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse to detain any such alien on board such vessel when required so to do by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse to assist in the removal of any such alien detained on board or at the port of arrival when required so to do by any immigration officer, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the master of such vessel the certificate prescribed by section 2 of this Act to be delivered to such alien at the time of his departure from the United States, or who shall refuse or neglect to report, describe, or identify any such alien to the immigration officers, or who shall refuse or neglect to perform any other duty required of him by the immigration officers in charge of the port, or who shall in any way interfere, or attempt to interfere, with any immigration officer in the performance of his duty in relation to any such alien, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with any lawful order of the Secretary of Labor in relation to any such alien, or who shall aid or abet any such alien to refuse or fail to comply with any such lawful order of the Secretary of Labor, or who shall connive at the violation by any such alien of any such lawful order, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless bonds of indemnity to the administrative authorities prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act have been secured, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or for such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure of such seaman, or pending an appeal taken as hereinafter provided from a decision of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that he is not entitled to land as a seaman on board such vessel, unless such seaman employed on such vessel shall furnish the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival just and sufficient bond or undertaking, with sureties, conditioned that such seaman will depart from the United States in such vessel or some other vessel within such time as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and will not become a public charge, and will pay such hospital expenses and burial charges as may be incurred or paid on account of such seaman by the United States, in such amount as may be fixed by the Secretary of Labor, not to exceed $300 in any case, and in default of the giving of such bond or undertaking such seaman shall be deported in the manner provided in the immigration laws for the deportation of aliens who have been refused admission to the United States. Pending the determination of an appeal taken as hereinbefore provided, such seaman shall be detained on board the vessel or at such port of arrival as may be directed by the immigration officer in charge. The decision of the Secretary of Labor on such appeal shall be final. Any seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided in the immigration laws for the deportation of aliens who have been refused admission to the United States. Any person who shall bring to the United States any seaman who is afflicted with any loathsome disease, or who shall refuse or neglect to report and detain any such seaman, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so brought, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, require any master of a vessel bringing an alien seaman to the United States to deposit with the immigration officer at the port of arrival a sum sufficient to cover the cost of maintaining such alien seaman while in the United States, not exceeding $300 for each alien seaman, and may refund such deposit, or any part thereof, when the alien has departed from the United States or has been granted permission to land permanently or temporarily.

(a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who knowingly or negligently causes directly or indirectly the unlawful landing of any alien seaman from any vessel, shall be punished by a fine of $1,000 for each alien so landed or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien may be granted a conditional permit by the immigration officer in charge of the port to depart on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Henry C. Anderson, master, of the s.s. "PRINCESS ALICE," do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 15 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, multiple appear below.

Sworn to before me this 5th day of June, 19 24.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance thereof, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deliver such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customhouse district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deliver or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 653) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed or shipped or signed, and discharge those to be paid off in the port of arrival; to state completely as much of such information as is required by section 12 of this Act as can be ascertained by the master, and where any such alien has been employed by the owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were, not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been employed but are discharged, and to make like lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the lists, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required he is hereby rendered liable to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above specified, and no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty; and no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 33 of said Act remains open record, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or any insular possession of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such exclusions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the sailware department, temporarily or permanently, at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor or such immigrant inspector as he may designate: Provided, That any alien seaman employed on board any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to obtain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place, or that he was temporarily or permanently detained in the United States as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain the departure of such alien seaman on board such vessel or his deportation at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, unless such alien seaman produces a certificate from the immigration officer at the port of departure showing the shipping commissioner's agreement with such alien seaman and the date of his discharge, and establishing to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master of such vessel has complied with the requirements of section 18 of the Act of February 5, 1917, relative to the shipping commissioner's agreement with such alien seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

I, E. N. Lee Master of the Br. Barque Lochnell Leonard, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, and adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or maintenance to such extent as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to depart with the immigration officer or the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense has not been granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; or place contiguous to same to be boarded by the master of such vessel as a doctor; all of which lists shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by and be subject to the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be sworn to before the officer taking the same. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to allow any immigrant inspector to board such vessel for the purpose of examining such lists, or who shall refuse to detain any alien employee specified in such lists when required by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to allow any such alien to be landed from such vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who shall fail to report, list, detain, or deport any such alien employee, as required by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to allow any such alien employee to be landed from such vessel, shall be liable to a tax of $10 for each such alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently join such vessel in a foreign port or place, and also the master of such vessel if same be found in the United States, and such vessel shall be liable to a tax of $10 for each such alien employee who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left such vessel at any port or place in the United States, which tax shall be a lien upon such vessel, and shall be collected as provided for the collection of head taxes imposed by section 2 of this Act. No such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such taxes, or while any such alien employee remains aboard, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the Secretary of Labor of such sum as he may require, not exceeding the amount of taxes demanded. Failure to list any alien employee required by this section to be listed, or the inclusion in such list of any alien employee not required by this section to be listed, may be punished by a fine in each case not exceeding $500 for each such offense.

No such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such taxes, or while any such alien employee remains aboard, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit with the Secretary of Labor of such sum as he may require, not exceeding the amount of taxes demanded. Failure to list any alien employee required by this section to be listed, or the inclusion in such list of any alien employee not required by this section to be listed, may be punished by a fine in each case not exceeding $500 for each such offense.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been duly verified, and not then unless notice of inability to do the administrative thing prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 33 of said act therein, or unless the master of such vessel shall produce a receipt showing payment of the head tax in the manner provided by section 2 of said act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospital treatment in such institutions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the aforesaid purpose, or for burial, or unless he shall become a public charge, or in the case of the master or other member of the crew who shall have been ordered deported in the manner provided in this section, and who shall be in charge of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on board some other vessel, or unless he shall be a member of the crew of a vessel which shall depart from the United States within the period of time required by the master of such vessel, or unless he shall have been granted a permit to land temporarily by the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, in order to accept employment on board a vessel upon which he intends to depart from the United States, or unless he shall have been granted a permit to land temporarily by the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, solely for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, which in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor cannot be obtained adequately on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on board some other vessel which is scheduled to depart from the United States within the period of time required by the master of such vessel, or unless he shall be a member of the crew of a vessel which shall have arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, and who shall have been certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, as a result of a mental or physical examination made by such officer at the time of application for a landing, to be suffering from a mental disease, which certificate may be revoked at any time prior to the deportation of such alien upon the certificate of a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, and who shall have been certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as likely to become a public charge, or who shall have been certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as suffering from a dangerous contagious disease, or who shall have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who shall be an anarchist, or who shall believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who shall disbelieve in or be opposed to organized government, or who shall advocate or believe in the assassination of public officials, or who shall advocate or believe in the unlawful destruction of property, or who shall be a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the doctrines above specified, or who shall be a member of or affiliated with any organization publishing or distributing any printed or published matter advocating or teaching any of the doctrines above specified, shall be deported in the manner provided by law to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, and at the expense of such vessel, if such option be exercised within five years after the date of his entry into the United States, and if application for his deportation be made within two years after the date of such entry: Provided, That the deportation of aliens who have become public charges from causes not affecting their good moral character at the time of their entry, and which causes have arisen subsequent to such entry, shall be limited to those who become public charges within two years after such entry and to those who within such period become insane or develop tuberculosis, or to those who are deported as persons who have entered the United States in violation of law: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been admitted as a seaman shall be deported as a seaman if practicable, and if deported within five years after such entry shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the master of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been employed on board such vessel for the entire period of his service thereon after entry, and that reasonable notice in writing was given to the master of such vessel at the time of the alien's embarkation that he was not to be employed after entry: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been admitted as a seaman shall be deported as a seaman if practicable, and if deported within five years after such entry shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the master of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been employed on board such vessel for the entire period of his service thereon after entry, and that reasonable notice in writing was given to the master of such vessel at the time of the alien's embarkation that he was not to be employed after entry: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been admitted as a seaman shall not be entitled to a change of status in the United States to that of an immigrant unless at the time of such change he shall be found admissible under the immigration laws, except that he shall not be required to obtain a visa and shall not be subject to the payment of the head tax: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been admitted as a seaman shall not be entitled to a change of status in the United States to that of a nonimmigrant unless at the time of such change he shall be found admissible under the immigration laws, except that he shall not be required to obtain a visa and shall not be subject to the payment of the head tax: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been admitted as a seaman and who shall have remained in the United States for a period in excess of sixty days shall be deported as a seaman if practicable, and if deported within five years after such entry shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the master of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been employed on board such vessel for the entire period of his service thereon after entry, and that reasonable notice in writing was given to the master of such vessel at the time of the alien's embarkation that he was not to be employed after entry: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been admitted as a seaman and who shall have remained in the United States for a period in excess of sixty days shall be deported as a seaman if practicable, and if deported within five years after such entry shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the master of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been employed on board such vessel for the entire period of his service thereon after entry, and that reasonable notice in writing was given to the master of such vessel at the time of the alien's embarkation that he was not to be employed after entry: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been admitted as a seaman shall not be entitled to a change of status in the United States to that of a nonimmigrant unless at the time of such change he shall be found admissible under the immigration laws, except that he shall not be required to obtain a visa and shall not be subject to the payment of the head tax: Provided further, That any alien who shall have been admitted as a seaman and who shall have remained in the United States for a period in excess of sixty days shall be deported as a seaman if practicable, and if deported within five years after such entry shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, unless the master of such vessel shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such alien has been employed on board such vessel for the entire period of his service thereon after entry, and that reasonable notice in writing was given to the master of such vessel at the time of the alien's embarkation that he was not to be employed after entry.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall have reason to believe that any vessel on which any alien seaman has arrived in the United States intends to depart therefrom without the payment of any head tax imposed by this section, he may require the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel to deposit with the collector of customs such sum as he may deem sufficient to cover such tax, or to give a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien seamen by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall be liable to a tax of $10 for each such alien seaman, which tax shall be a lien upon such vessel, and shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on plain white paper approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 528) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival; to state concerning so much of such information as to the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at such port, to report and deliver lists containing like information regarding all aliens employed on such vessel in addition to those included in the lists delivered upon arrival, and to state concerning such additional aliens information likely to lead to the apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who have left the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been held on board discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted the vessel; giving a description of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver such lists or any alien arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master is adjudged the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a sum thereof is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been delivered, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act pursuant hereto, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such seaman, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is unable to such seaman by such cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crew (Form 632) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "moreneve" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like counterpart lists to those required by section 30 hereof, with the additional information required by said section as to the names and nationalities of those employed on board as members of the crew or otherwise employed on board, and specifying those to be landed and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of all persons employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed and discharged in the port of arrival; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has been landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall have been employed thereon at the time of port departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been landed or discharged, and the cause of such discharge, and the names of those, if any, who have been detained or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists herein required he shall be subject to a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above required, to be imposed and collected by the Secretary of Labor, by or through the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a true report is not made as above required, to be imposed and collected by the Secretary of Labor, by or through the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act prevail been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place at the port of arrival may be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization to such extent and under such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alleviate deportee, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign coastwise limit of such vessel, as defined in section 2 of the act of February 17, 1903, as amended by section 1 of the act of February 6, 1917 (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officer), or to any alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay a tax to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such tax, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof or such part thereof as may be determined by the Secretary of Labor not to be due. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

(b) Upon that an alien seaman who has been refused a landing by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be given facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The master of such vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form 613) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port." When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of the names of all members of the crew, whether destined to the United States or not, and full particulars concerning each member, such lists to be prepared on such forms and in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such additional information relative to the crew or any member thereof as may be required by the Secretary of Labor or any person designated by him. Such lists shall be subject to the examination of any immigrant inspector, and verified by the oath of the master or commanding officer and surgeon of the vessel, if there be a surgeon. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully and completely to the best of his knowledge any question touching the movements while in port of any person on board, whether a member of the crew or a cabin passenger, or who shall refuse to permit any immigrant inspector to board and search the vessel for stowaways, shall pay a penalty of $300 for each such offense. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse to deliver to any person entitled to demand the same a certificate of the payment of the head tax imposed by this Act, or who shall refuse to deliver to any such person the list required by this section, shall pay a penalty of $300 for each such offense. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or commanding officer who shall refuse to deliver to any immigrant inspector any list required by this section

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 524) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 524) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Where an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board of such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively taken on board, and specifying those who are passengers in the port of arrival; also containing an index of such lists. Such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and such owner, consignee, or master to report in writing as soon as practicable the illegal landing of any such alien from any vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left the vessel before the departure of the vessel from such port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been added to the crew while in port. Such owner, agent, consignee, or master so delivering such lists shall be entitled to demand and receive from each alien named therein the sum of $4 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be cleared clearance herein for the collection of the duties of the inspection of the inspector to the payment of such fines, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been interfered, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 33 of said Act thereof been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of such cause, may so certify to the master of such vessel, and such vessel may be granted clearance without the deposit required by this section.

I, [illegible] Master, of the [illegible] do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during my present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 23 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 524) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "moreman," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and final destination of each such alien, and whether they were inspected or not inspected by the consular officers of the United States, and the physical and mental examination of such aliens shall be made by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service. The said lists shall be delivered by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to the proper immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry, or in the case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to so deliver lists of the aliens on board such vessel, it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a duly authorized immigration officer at the time of the vessel's entry: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been col-lected, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act remains open record, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or the necessity of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to depart on board such vessel (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board any other vessel or aircraft within the period specified in the warrant for his deportation, unless prevented by sickness, injury, or physical or mental disability or other cause beyond his control, which cause shall be certified by the medical officer of the vessel or aircraft on which he departs. Any such alien who shall depart on board any vessel or aircraft other than that on which he arrived, without having been inspected by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, shall be deported as provided in the case of other aliens who fail to depart. Any such alien who shall depart on board any vessel or aircraft without having been certified by the medical officer of the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived, shall be presumed to have departed without having been inspected by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, unless he shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was certified by the medical officer of the vessel or aircraft on which he departed, or that he was prevented from obtaining such certification by sickness, injury, or physical or mental disability or other cause beyond his control, which cause shall be certified by the medical officer of the vessel or aircraft on which he departed, or that he was specially admitted by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien who fails to depart as required by this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be deported on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived, and such vessel or aircraft may be required to remain in any port of the United States or to return to any port of the United States pending such deportation, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law. Any alien who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section shall be deported as provided in the case of other aliens who fail to depart. Any alien who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section shall be deported as provided in the case of other aliens who fail to depart. Any alien who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section shall be deported as provided in the case of other aliens who fail to depart.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall be refused a landing shall be detained on board or at such place in the United States as may be designated by the master of such vessel or aircraft, and such master shall be responsible for the proper care while so detained and for his safekeeping for the period of detention not exceeding five days and for his removal on the vessel or aircraft on which he arrived or on any vessel or aircraft which is ready to depart for the country from which it came or for any country which is willing to receive him, within such period. Any such master who fails to detain any such alien seaman or who lands any such alien seaman in violation of law shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where born, where they were respectively naturalized or admitted, and whether they have been in the United States before, and if so, how long and where they last resided therein, and whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether they have a ticket through to the place they intend to go when they leave the vessel, which lists shall be produced at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, and before any such alien shall be allowed to land from the vessel, strictly a description of such alien, following the form of information likely to lead to his identification; and the owner, consignee, or master of every such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $10 for each and every such alien not included in such lists, as soon as discovered, if cause it to appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such omission was occasioned by the sickness or death of such alien, or that such alien was a member of the crew and necessary to work the vessel, or that such alien was specially detained at the request of the United States Government, or was in transit through the United States to a foreign country, and in such cases a certificate to that effect shall be issued by the Secretary of Labor to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel, and produced by him to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's departure from the port, and a failure to produce such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of this section. The Secretary of Labor shall have power to enter into contracts with transportation lines for the return of aliens who may become public charges from causes existing prior to their entry into the United States, at such price as he may deem reasonable, and may pay the same out of the appropriation for the enforcement of the provisions of this Act. The judgment of the Secretary of Labor as to the practicability of placing any alien in employment, the occupation for which he is best fitted, and his ultimate destination shall be final.

SEC. 37. That any person, partnership, agent, company, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit one hundred dollars in gold of the United States for each and every alien not duly listed by the master of such vessel as required by section thirty-six of this Act, or who lands or permits to land any such alien from the vessel, except in case of sickness or accident, or who refuses to detain any such alien on board any such vessel when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or any person who assists any such alien to land in the United States in violation of law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so landed or assisted to land, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the court. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refund any money collected from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel by reason of the provisions of this section.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit one hundred dollars in gold of the United States for each and every alien (which term when used in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), except those specifically exempted by the provisions of this Act, or who lands or permits to land any such alien other than at the port designated by the Secretary of Labor as the port at which such alien is to land, or who lands or permits to land any such alien at any time or place or in any manner not designated by the Secretary of Labor, or who aids or assists any such alien to land in any manner not directed by the Secretary of Labor, or who refuses to detain on board any vessel any such alien when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or who refuses to detain such alien on board or at such place as the Secretary of Labor may direct, or who refuses to receive back on board or at any such place any such alien when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the port of arrival. The list of aliens is prepared on board from the vessel. The list of aliens is signed by the master of the vessel. (Form 6k3) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

When an arriving alien is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's employ, what moneys they have respectively paid as the proportion of such alien's passage, and by whom such moneys were paid, and such other information relative to such aliens as the Commissioner General of Immigration may require. Such lists shall be delivered at the port of arrival; or if the conditions so unduly detain such vessel before it shall be possible to deliver such lists, then within twenty-four hours after the vessel shall have been admitted to entry, or before such vessel shall depart from the port, whichever shall first occur. Such lists shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and upon demand made by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall deliver to such immigrant inspector the original and one copy of such lists, and shall retain in his possession the duplicate copies thereof for inspection by the Commissioner General of Immigration or his authorized agents. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver such lists to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival, or who refuses or fails to exercise due diligence in the preparation of such lists, or who refuses or fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival the original and one copy of such lists, or who refuses or fails to produce for inspection or to deliver to the Commissioner General of Immigration or his authorized agents the duplicate copies of such lists when demanded, or who refuses or fails to answer truthfully and fully to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief every question propounded to him by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, or who refuses or fails to comply with the provisions of section 10 of the act of February 20, 1907, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court. The list of aliens required of steamships or other vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign countries shall contain such information and be prepared and presented in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe.

SEC. 37. That the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States any person not duly admitted thereto under such rules as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the admission into the United States of persons entitled to enter, or who shall bring to the United States any person afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects which are grounds for exclusion by the immigration laws, or who shall bring to the United States any person who has been deported under the provisions of this act, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which the port of arrival is located the sum of $2,000 for each alien so brought, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located until the payment to such collector of customs has been duly certified to the Commissioner General of Immigration or his assistant, and such payment shall be a condition precedent to the granting of such clearance papers: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(6) That if an alien examined did not appear upon the manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States upon the production of a certificate of identification issued by the Commissioner General of Immigration, or his assistant, at the place of such examination, or if such alien was not within the United States at the time of the arrival of the vessel on which he arrived, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district at which the port of arrival is located the sum of $2,000 for each alien so brought, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the customs district at which the port of arrival is located until the payment to such collector of customs has been duly certified to the Commissioner General of Immigration or his assistant, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien examined on the vessel on which he arrived would unduly endanger the health of the alien or of others on board the vessel, and such vessel is a quarantined vessel, he may cause him to be detained on board at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens maintained by the master for the use of the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 583) shall not be considered as the list required by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien is entitled to admission in a "non-quota" classification the word "non-quota" shall be noted on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel at the time of its arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, when such be the fact. Such lists shall be in such form and contain such other information relative to such aliens, including full names, sex, age, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and shall state the amount of money each alien has in his possession when he arrives at the port of arrival, and whether he has a ticket, and if so whether it is a through ticket to his destination, and by whom such ticket was purchased, and whether the passage is paid in whole or in part, and if in part, to what extent, and by whom paid, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when, and how long he has been absent therefrom, and whether he has a relative or friend in the United States, and if so, whether such relative or friend is the husband, wife, father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, or cousin of such alien, and if so, which of such relatives or friends, and whether he intends to join such relative or friend, and if so, the name and complete address of such relative or friend, and whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether he is coming to the United States under contract or agreement to perform labor, and what such contract or agreement is, and whether he has paid his own passage or whether it was paid by others, and if by others, by whom it was paid, and whether he is in possession of a return ticket, and whether he has been deported, and if so, how many times and the reason therefor, and whether he is a polygamist, and whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing labor or service of any kind, and if so, what kind, and whether he intends to remain permanently or temporarily in the United States, and whether he is a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, and whether he is a person who believes in or advocates the assassination of public officials, and whether he is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching the doctrine of the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials, and whether he has a final intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, and whether he is going to join a relative or other person, and if so, what relative or person, and the name and complete address of such relative or person, and such other facts as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws. The master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the name of every alien on board such vessel, stating his sex, age, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether he has a ticket, and if so whether it is a through ticket, and by whom such ticket was purchased, whether the passage is paid in whole or in part, and if in part, to what extent, and by whom paid, and whether he has been in the United States before, and if so, when, and how long he has been absent therefrom, and whether he has a relative or friend in the United States, and if so, what relative or friend, and the name and complete address of such relative or friend, and whether he intends to join such relative or friend, and if so, what relative or person, and whether he is in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and whether he is coming to the United States under contract or agreement to perform labor, and what such contract or agreement is, and whether he has paid his own passage or whether it was paid by others, and if by others, by whom it was paid, and whether he is in possession of a return ticket, and whether he has been deported, and if so, how many times and the reason therefor, and whether he is a polygamist, and whether he is coming to the United States for the purpose of performing labor or service of any kind, and if so, what kind, and whether he intends to remain permanently or temporarily in the United States, and whether he is a person who believes in or advocates

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons of alien members, or crews (Form 613) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "motorman", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off in the port of arrival; to list containing as much of such information as may be obtained; and to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been found illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may thereafter be employed thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel; and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed: and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or to report each case of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the Secretary of Labor, for the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liste required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been fur-nished, and not from unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act remain open unpaid, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not arrive upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after treatment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or unless specifically certified by the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of State and the Commissioner of Immigration as not likely to become a public charge, and (except for such medical treatment or because of shipwreck or other casualty) unless in the case of each alien seaman (which term shall include a person employed in any capacity on board a vessel) the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and certified in writing to the Secretary of Labor and to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the name of each such seaman and the amount of money in his possession, and the Secretary of Labor, or such immigration officer as the Secretary of Labor may designate, shall have given a permit in writing to such alien seaman to land temporarily or permanently as the case may be, unless from the information obtained from the physical and mental examination of such alien seaman it shall be the opinion of the Secretary of Labor or such immigration officer that such alien seaman belongs to any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, or unless such alien seaman shall have in his possession less than $18 in money, or unless he is destined to a country other than the United States and does not have sufficient money to enable him to reach his destination, or unless the consul of the country to which such alien seaman is destined shall refuse to vise his passport. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or representative of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien seaman who is required by this section to be certified to the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have inspected such seaman, or who shall refuse to detain such alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, or shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be more restricted by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect in any proceeding for the deportation of such alien seaman.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at least 24 hours before it leaves the port or place of arrival it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who were then about to depart therefrom; and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or shipped, and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or left the vessel since the arrival thereof, and the time and place of such desertion or departure, and the cause therefor, so far as known; and such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall furnish such information and make such reports at such other times as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and shall furnish such information and make such reports concerning alien passengers brought to the United States by such vessel as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, under penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act remain open served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of alien members of the crew (Form 433) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens of alien registry (Form 613) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 613) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. ~~When an alternate address is a "motorway", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.~~

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; to list contraband so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival upon the last previous entry of such vessel from a foreign port, and also the names of those, if any, who have been added to the complement since such last previous entry, and the cause of the separation; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or manifest thereof, required by the Secretary of Labor, when so required by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above as to each such alien, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7.

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines provided by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been turned over to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, if fine has been levied, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, or for such reasons as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and pending deportation as such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the said vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by such cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by such cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER.

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of cabin or alien passengers for whom an arriving manifest is a "MANIFEST," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the full names of all persons embraced on such vessel, stating the position each respectively shall fill in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the full names of all persons who were not embraced thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently joined the vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been landed from the vessel, with the cause for and place of such landing. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to whom it shall be shown that any alien has been allowed to land, or has landed, in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or in case the list or lists delivered by him do not correctly record the information required as to each alien, or in case of the failure to report the illegal landing of any alien as herein required, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom such correct lists are not delivered or illegal landing not reported: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such vessel be granted clearance: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act remain open served, the deposit specified in rule 35 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily, or for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for such reasons as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, under such bond or such conditions as he may prescribe, to insure that such alien will not become a public charge and that he will depart from the United States when the vessel shall depart or at such time as the Secretary of Labor may direct. Such seamen shall be subject to such physical and mental examination as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and to such medical treatment as may be necessary to prevent the introduction into the United States of any communicable disease. Any such seaman who has been granted temporary admission into the United States may be required by the Secretary of Labor to report from time to time to the immigration officer in charge of the port at which he was originally admitted or to such other immigration officer as the Secretary of Labor may designate.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and before such seamen (except those in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Food that an alien seaman did not object upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain at the port from the Government of the United States, or its representatives, food for the return voyage.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 632) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 32. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively engaged or shipped, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and until the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such aliens have illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been so employed and discharged, and the cause, if any, why any person described on landed: but in case of the failure of any owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

The C clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act cannot have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 12. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or emergency rendering his removal therefrom to await the next departure of such vessel, unless upon the certification of the Secretary of Labor that adequate provision has been made for the return of such alien seaman on board such vessel or another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is to depart to a foreign port or place not contiguous to the United States before the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by such change in his destination, and such vessel has been granted clearance and has sufficient space for the accommodation of such alien seaman, and the cost of his maintenance while detained, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the deportation of such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or other vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is to depart to a foreign port or place not contiguous to the United States before the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by such change in his destination, and such vessel has been granted clearance and has sufficient space for the accommodation of such alien seaman, and the cost of his maintenance while detained, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the deportation of such alien seaman on the vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman when the vessel on which he arrived left the port without him.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by such change in his destination, and such vessel has been granted clearance and has sufficient space for the accommodation of such alien seaman, or the cost of his maintenance while detained, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the deportation of such alien seaman on the vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman when the vessel on which he arrived left the port without him.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on such vessel as a deserter, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such alien seaman has been paid to its permanent maintenance to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of crewmen of alien registry or crews (from 058) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an alternate manifest, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely none to be had or discharged in the port of arrival or lists containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating whether they are citizens of the United States or aliens, and if aliens, whether they have been lawfully admitted from the vessel, giving a description of each alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may have been taken on board in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or in case of the substitution of any person for one named in the lists delivered, a list containing the name of such substitute, and the reason therefor, as far as the same can be ascertained; and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind on account of illness, to the best knowledge and belief of the master, consignee, or agent of the vessel, and such information shall be given from time to time as may be required by the Secretary of Labor or by any immigration officer: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of a list when it is made as above provided that the master, consignee, or agent of the vessel shall file with the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid not less than double the amount thereof may be demanded and collected in the same manner as other fines and penalties are collected, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid not less than double the amount thereof may be demanded and collected in the same manner as other fines and penalties are collected, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens provided by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by section 36 of said act thereof been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such seaman, as certified by the medical officer of the port, unless security is furnished to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such seaman will not become a public charge, and that upon the certificate of the medical officer of the port that he is physically fit he will be returned on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel to the country to which he belongs, or country from which he came to the United States, at the option of the master of the vessel on which he arrived. Any such seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port of the United States shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, unless he is found by the Secretary of Labor to have become a bona fide resident of the United States and to have resided therein for at least five years subsequent to such desertion.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Bermuda, Panama, Central America, or the Republic of Cuba, or from any port or place in Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Bermuda, Panama, Central America, or the Republic of Cuba to which any alien has been transported by any vessel after having been refused admission thereto by the United States, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States of such alien, and for his removal unless he is sooner removed or admitted to the United States, and shall deposit with the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $300 for each such alien, or file a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and in such amount not exceeding $1,000 for each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor at the time of the inspection of such alien or thereafter, conditioned for the payment of the cost of his maintenance while in the United States, and for his removal when required by the Secretary of Labor, which cost of maintenance and removal may be sued for and recovered by the United States in the name of the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located, or may be recovered by the United States in the manner provided for the recovery of penalties in section 16 of the Act approved February 5, 1917, or may be collected by the Secretary of Labor by deducting the amount thereof from any moneys due or to become due to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien was brought to the United States, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such cost of maintenance and removal, or while any such cost remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain a discharge from the vessel in accordance with the immigration laws, unless such seaman shall have been forcibly prevented from departing on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel departed without the alien seaman on board, or unless such seaman shall have been left behind on account of illness, and such illness is certified to by the medical officer of the port of arrival.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel has departed from the United States before the expiration of the time allowed for the removal of such alien seaman, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each such alien seaman, or file a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and in such amount not exceeding $1,000 for each such alien seaman, conditioned for the deportation of such alien seaman, and for the cost of his maintenance while in the United States pending deportation, respectively, to or to a port such cases of deportation of immigrant alien seamen

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pending the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien inhabitants of cities (form 628) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an arriving alien is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the cabin company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely prove to the satisfaction of the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival that each alien employed on such vessel is actually on board such vessel at the time of her departure from the United States: Provided, That upon the certificate of the master, countersigned by the chief medical officer of the vessel, that any alien employed thereon is sick or injured and unable to be removed without danger to his life, the immigration officer may grant a permit to such alien to remain in a hospital designated by the master of the vessel, subject to the order of the Secretary of Labor, and such alien may be removed in such manner and at such time as the Secretary of Labor may direct: Provided further, That the master of any vessel shall not be required to report the name of any alien employed on such vessel who shall have been duly certified by a consular officer of the United States as a bona fide resident of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, or the Dominican Republic, and who intends to enter the United States solely for the purpose of employment thereon, and who shall depart with the vessel on which he arrived: Provided further, That the master of any vessel shall not be required to report the name of any alien who is in possession of a valid nonimmigrant visa, unless the consular officer issuing such visa specifically directs that the name of such alien be reported.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall pay the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such alien (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such alien on board pending such inspection or to deport such alien if required by such immigration officer to the foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island whence such alien came or to the country in which he embarked such alien on the vessel bringing him to the United States, a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien so detained in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor shall find deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the expense of the vessel or the refusal of any master to permit such deportation on another vessel, and such vessel is then about to depart from a port or place in a foreign contiguous territory, the Secretary of Labor may direct the deportation of such alien seaman on such vessel or any vessel sailing to the United States owned by the same interests, upon the payment or the furnishing of a bond to guarantee payment of the expenses of such deportation, in an amount not to exceed $300, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the refusal of any master to permit such deportation on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is then about to depart from a port or place in a foreign contiguous territory, the Secretary of Labor may direct the deportation of such alien seaman on such vessel or any vessel sailing to the United States owned by the same interests, upon the payment or the furnishing of a bond to guarantee payment of the expenses of such deportation, in an amount not to exceed $300, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States.

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who fails to detain such alien on board pending such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island whence such alien came or to the country in which he embarked such alien on the vessel bringing him to the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor shall find deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the refusal of any master to permit such deportation on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is then about to depart from a port or place in a foreign contiguous territory, the Secretary of Labor may direct the deportation of such alien seaman on such vessel or any vessel sailing to the United States owned by the same interests, upon the payment or the furnishing of a bond to guarantee payment of the expenses of such deportation, in an amount not to exceed $300, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the refusal of any master to permit such deportation on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is then about to depart from a port or place in a foreign contiguous territory, the Secretary of Labor may direct the deportation of such alien seaman on such vessel or any vessel sailing to the United States owned by the same interests, upon the payment or the furnishing of a bond to guarantee payment of the expenses of such deportation, in an amount not to exceed $300, by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such alien arrived in the United States.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Ellis Island shall not be deemed an island, but shall be deemed a port).

NOTE.—Add an affidavit annexed as in addition to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged and bearing such headings as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor as will insure full information being furnished from the records of the vessel, stating the position then held by each alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left such vessel at a previous port, the name of each vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel at the time of the arrival but who left such vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and illegally landed from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, stating, as soon as discovered, the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel who have deserted, and all such information as he may possess relative thereto. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to report the name of any alien employed upon such vessel who has deserted, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish any information in his possession relative to any such alien who has deserted, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to whom report is not made as above provided; but no such vessel shall be cleared by the Secretary of the Treasury while any fine imposed by this section remains unpaid; nor shall any fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said act remains open, the deposit specified in rule 25 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, until a certificate in the form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor shall have been issued to such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who lands or allows to be landed on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall immediately report the name of such alien seaman to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and have inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who lands or allows to be landed such seaman on board any other vessel without having secured a certificate from the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the contiguous territory of the United States on board of any vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The line described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or additions made after the vessel has been docked must be returned to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the same condition as when first delivered, except that corrections may be made on the line only. When an alleged "workaway" is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those so to be held on board discharged in the port of arrival, or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and prior to the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, master, consignee, or commander to furnish to the proper officer of customs lists containing such information likely to be lost in the event of the vessel not arriving at the port of destination; and upon the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, master, consignee, or commander to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel at the time of the vessel's departure from the port of arrival; and it shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of such master to deliver to such immigration officer a true list of all aliens employed upon such vessel at the time of the vessel's departure from any foreign port or place, if any, who have been employed on board the vessel during the voyage, and who are not then members of the crew, setting forth the names of those, if any, who have been discharged or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver lists of the crew or of such aliens, or in case any person shall refuse to answer any question put to him by the Secretary of Labor, or any immigrant inspector, concerning any matter connected with the provisions of this Act, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: but no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act thereof, have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, or by reason of the sickness or injury of any such alien seaman, or for the purpose of obtaining the necessary papers from the consular officer of the country to which he belongs, or for the purpose of proceeding to the port at which he shall be shipped or engaged to return in the vessel in which he arrived or in exchange for another seaman who has been shipped or engaged to take the place of the seaman so landed, or in the vessel in which he has been engaged to proceed to any port in the United States or to any foreign port, or, if destined to a contiguous foreign territory, to any port in such territory, and shall be entered at the time of arrival in the immediate charge of the master, owner, steamship agent, or consignee of the vessel in which he arrived, and such master, owner, steamship agent, or consignee shall be responsible for the payment of a tax of $8 for each such alien landed, and for the deportation of each such alien when required so to do by the Secretary of Labor or any person designated by him for the purpose, and for the payment of the cost of maintenance of each such alien pending deportation, and for the payment of the cost of his passage to the port of his destination, unless security therefor is furnished to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor or any person designated by him for the purpose. Any vessel which shall land any alien seaman in violation of this section shall be refused clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of the tax imposed by this section, and in the event such tax is imposed, while it remains unpaid, such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such tax has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of a mental or physical disability, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively examined by a medical officer of the Public Health Service, and whether found to be being ill and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no such information as to the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has become ill and was detained from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification; and before the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who have been discharged, and the cause for such discharge, and also the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently joined such vessel from the shore; and such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall report the movements of such aliens while in port, and shall furnish such other information in regard to them as the Secretary of Labor may require. Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the payment of any fine imposed, while it remains pending; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been extinguished, and not then unless bonds required by the administrative functions prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act have been given, the deposit specified in rule 33 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for transfer to such vessel or to any vessel then about to depart from the United States for a foreign port, and in the case of any such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), to determine whether such alien is admissible to the United States. Any such alien seaman not admitted to the United States shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917, to the country from which he came to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the Act of February 5, 1917, unless the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which such alien arrived shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof as the Secretary of Labor may require. Any such bond may be sued upon and recovered in the name of the United States in any district in which any such alien seaman may be found.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall be refused a landing shall be detained on board or at such other place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival pending the examination of such alien seaman and the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case. Such detention shall not be deemed to be a denial of a landing within the meaning of section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917, but shall be deemed to be a detention incident to the inspection of such alien seaman and the decision of the Secretary of Labor thereon.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of such seaman at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien membership of crews (Form 436) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and do not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 38 of said act penalty been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 7. (a) . . . . . No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance of such seaman to enter the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and while the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has reasonable cause to believe that such seaman will not attempt to abandon his vessel, or to proceed to the place of employment of such seaman, or to any place to which he may be assigned, and has issued a permit to such seaman to land for a period not to exceed five days, which may be revoked in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor and which shall specify the time within which and the vessel on which such seaman shall depart from the United States. . . . . No alien seaman shall be granted a permit to land more than once during any period of his employment on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, except in case of sickness or shipwreck, or for other cause beyond his control, or by permission of the Secretary of Labor. . . . . Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) That such an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect before the commissioner of immigration of the port to which he arrives, which shall be returned to the master of such vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative unit prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said Act thereof have been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 632) shall not be destroyed or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an arriving seaman is a "monthly" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act has been served, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, during the period of such employment, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, casualty, or emergency, or for the sole purpose of obtaining treatment for such illness, casualty, or emergency, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and has granted him a permit to land. Any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall upon the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, or upon the failure to obtain such inspection or to obtain such seaman a permit to land upon such inspection, be detained on board or at such port in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor to do so, until deported to the foreign contiguous territory or adjacent islands, if practicable, or otherwise, as provided in the immigration laws. Any such seaman who shall land in the United States, except as provided in this section, shall be deported as provided in the immigration laws. The cost of maintenance while on shore and of deportation of any such seaman shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, to be collected by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That any alien seaman who does not depart from the contiguous territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which the vessel departed, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart within the meaning of this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, R. Kenyon, master of the Am. Str. Iowa, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, probably in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 15 and 35, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (from 48) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "non-immigrant" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list or manifest of all the aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be held on and discharged in the port of entry; to state correctly as much of such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the entry of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to offer a truthful list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the entry of the vessel but who before the departure of the said vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a truthful list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the entry of the vessel but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been held on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted the vessel; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver such lists of such aliens entering and departing respectively, or to do so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be required by the Secretary of Labor, by or through the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of entry is located to pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien omitted from report or manifest of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which port he was to depart as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such manifest.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship or delay such vessel, timely notification of the immigration officer of the Secretary of Labor may be given to detain such alien seaman at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE
Form I-420 (Old Form 433)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of churches of alien members of crews (form 434) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (form 434) and a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to first prescribed by section 38 of said act, in the event such part is impossible, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such seaman, or for the purpose of obtaining the return of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory to which alien seamen employed on such vessel shall be transferred, or from which such seamen may depart or escape or be removed for hospital treatment or compulsory detention, shall be responsible for the proper conduct while in the United States and the departure therefrom of such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who shall fail to detain such seamen on board until after such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so; shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Fines shall be paid seamen old not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport or notice after treatment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Thomas Mackenzie, Master of the British Columbia Express, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on board vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, contract from application B, rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 25, Act of May 28, 1915, which appear below.

Master, First or Second Officer.

Sworn to before me this 4th day of October, 1923.

Commissioner of Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of the crew (Form 583) shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and description thereof, as prescribed in the rules of the Secretary of Labor, and to report the illness or death of any such alien member of the crew, and the cause thereof, and to deliver to the proper officer the effects of any such deceased alien member of the crew, and such person shall not refuse to permit the boarding of such vessel by any immigration officer for the purpose of examining the crew and effects of any such alien member of the crew, and the compliance with the provisions of this section as to any such alien member of the crew before the departure of the vessel from the port shall be a condition precedent to the granting of clearance papers for such vessel, and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section as to any such alien member of the crew, or who shall refuse to deliver to any such alien member of the crew his effects, or who shall refuse to report the illness or death of any such alien member of the crew, or the cause thereof, or who shall refuse to permit the boarding of such vessel by any immigration officer for the purpose of examining the crew and effects of any such alien member of the crew, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the payment of such fine or the giving of a bond with sufficient sureties therefor, and in addition such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such offense, to be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor, whose decision upon the subject shall be final. The Secretary of Labor shall have the power to enter any such vessel and search for any such alien member of the crew concealed therein, and any master, agent, consignee, or owner who shall secrete or attempt to secrete any such alien member of the crew in order to prevent his discovery by an immigration officer, or who shall refuse to assist in such search, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien member of the crew of any vessel who shall desert such vessel while in any port of the United States shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been duly delivered and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act remain unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 11. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 25. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection it all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be given such evidence of a similar nature as to detain or deport alien seamen upon the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members to be given (Form 528) shall not be detached on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. "New" means an arriving seaman, a "forward" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing as many of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each immigrant alien mentioned in such list to appear before the examining immigration officer, at which time and place he shall be duly examined and answer such questions touching his right to enter the United States as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor and as may be asked by such officer, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to deliver to each such immigrant alien a certificate of the physical and mental examination of such immigrant made by the examining surgeon, and to indorse on the list prepared by him the name of each immigrant who is certified by the examining surgeon as suffering from a mental or physical defect, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor upon the blank forms provided by him for that purpose; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to detain on board or at the station at which such immigrants shall be landed for examination by the immigration officers such number of alien passengers who were not examined before the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at, as may be specified by the immigration officers at the time of the inspection of the vessel as liable to be excluded from admission into the United States under the provisions of this Act or any amendment thereto, or of the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to law, until the decision of the Board of Special Inquiry in each case shall be rendered as provided in section 16 of this Act: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the detention on board or at the station of any such alien passenger who is duly admitted to bail in such sum and with such security as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the production of such passenger to the proper immigration officers when required for further examination or for deportation in case the decision shall be adverse to the admission of such passenger into the United States: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may issue rules governing the temporary landing of seamen employed on such vessel from which they may be specially detailed by the master for that purpose, and the return of such seamen to the vessel, without the payment of the tax provided for in this Act.

SEC. 39. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien who has been refused a visa by a consular officer, or who is found by the immigration officers at the port of arrival not to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to enter the United States under this Act, or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, shall be required to take back to the country whence he came the alien so refused admission, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return, unless such alien is admitted to the United States within five days after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case.

(b) Any person who shall bring to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects described in clauses (a) and (b) of section 3 of this Act, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be required to take back to the place whence he came the alien so excluded, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return, unless such alien is admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien arrested on the ground that he belongs to one of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived at the port of arrival from which he is ordered deported shall be notified of such order of deportation, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to return such alien on the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival or on any vessel which may be available, to the port from which he came to the United States, or to any other country which may admit him, at the option of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival. Such return shall be at the expense of the vessel on which the alien arrived at the port of arrival, unless the alien shall have been admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case, or unless the alien shall have been arrested within one year after entry and shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have entered in violation of any law of the United States, in which case the return of the alien shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) Any alien who shall come in contravention of any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall remain in violation thereof, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

SEC. 40. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the shipping and discharging of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 41. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien (whether in transit through the United States or destined thereto) who is found to be afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects described in clauses (a) and (b) of section 3 of this Act, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be required to take back to the place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama whence he came the alien so excluded, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return, unless such alien is admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case.

(b) Any person who shall bring to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects described in clauses (a) and (b) of section 3 of this Act, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be required to take back to the place whence he came the alien so excluded, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return, unless such alien is admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien arrested on the ground that he belongs to one of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived at the port of arrival from which he is ordered deported shall be notified of such order of deportation, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to return such alien on the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival or on any vessel which may be available, to the port from which he came to the United States, or to any other country which may admit him, at the option of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival. Such return shall be at the expense of the vessel on which the alien arrived at the port of arrival, unless the alien shall have been admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case, or unless the alien shall have been arrested within one year after entry and shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have entered in violation of any law of the United States, in which case the return of the alien shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) Any alien who shall come in contravention of any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall remain in violation thereof, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

SEC. 42. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the shipping and discharging of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 43. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien (whether in transit through the United States or destined thereto) who is found by the immigration officer at the port of arrival not to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to enter the United States under this Act, or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, shall be required to take back to the country whence he came the alien so refused admission, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return (which shall not be less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor as to an alien seaman on board until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is notified and the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor as to an alien seaman on board after such inspection or as to a deserting alien seaman if required by such immigration officer to the payment of the tax imposed by this Act on account of such seaman, unless such vessel has been specially detailed by the master for that purpose, and the return of such seaman to the vessel, without the payment of the tax provided for in this Act.

(b) Any person who shall bring to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects described in clauses (a) and (b) of section 3 of this Act, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be required to take back to the place whence he came the alien so excluded, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return, unless such alien is admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien arrested on the ground that he belongs to one of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived at the port of arrival from which he is ordered deported shall be notified of such order of deportation, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to return such alien on the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival or on any vessel which may be available, to the port from which he came to the United States, or to any other country which may admit him, at the option of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival. Such return shall be at the expense of the vessel on which the alien arrived at the port of arrival, unless the alien shall have been admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case, or unless the alien shall have been arrested within one year after entry and shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have entered in violation of any law of the United States, in which case the return of the alien shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) Any alien who shall come in contravention of any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall remain in violation thereof, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

SEC. 44. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the shipping and discharging of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 45. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien (whether in transit through the United States or destined thereto) who is found by the immigration officer at the port of arrival not to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to enter the United States under this Act, or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, shall be required to take back to the country whence he came the alien so refused admission, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return (which shall not be less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor as to an alien seaman on board until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is notified and the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor as to an alien seaman on board after such inspection or as to a deserting alien seaman if required by such immigration officer to the payment of the tax imposed by this Act on account of such seaman, unless such vessel has been specially detailed by the master for that purpose, and the return of such seaman to the vessel, without the payment of the tax provided for in this Act.

(b) Any person who shall bring to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects described in clauses (a) and (b) of section 3 of this Act, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be required to take back to the place whence he came the alien so excluded, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return, unless such alien is admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien arrested on the ground that he belongs to one of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived at the port of arrival from which he is ordered deported shall be notified of such order of deportation, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to return such alien on the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival or on any vessel which may be available, to the port from which he came to the United States, or to any other country which may admit him, at the option of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival. Such return shall be at the expense of the vessel on which the alien arrived at the port of arrival, unless the alien shall have been admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case, or unless the alien shall have been arrested within one year after entry and shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have entered in violation of any law of the United States, in which case the return of the alien shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) Any alien who shall come in contravention of any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall remain in violation thereof, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

SEC. 46. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the shipping and discharging of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 47. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien (whether in transit through the United States or destined thereto) who is found by the immigration officer at the port of arrival not to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to enter the United States under this Act, or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, shall be required to take back to the country whence he came the alien so refused admission, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return (which shall not be less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. (b) Any person who shall bring to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects described in clauses (a) and (b) of section 3 of this Act, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be required to take back to the place whence he came the alien so excluded, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return, unless such alien is admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien arrested on the ground that he belongs to one of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived at the port of arrival from which he is ordered deported shall be notified of such order of deportation, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to return such alien on the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival or on any vessel which may be available, to the port from which he came to the United States, or to any other country which may admit him, at the option of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival. Such return shall be at the expense of the vessel on which the alien arrived at the port of arrival, unless the alien shall have been admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case, or unless the alien shall have been arrested within one year after entry and shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have entered in violation of any law of the United States, in which case the return of the alien shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) Any alien who shall come in contravention of any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall remain in violation thereof, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

SEC. 50. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the shipping and discharging of such alien from the United States.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing as many of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each immigrant alien mentioned in such list to appear before the examining immigration officer, at which time and place he shall be duly examined and answer such questions touching his right to enter the United States as may be asked by such officer, and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel to detain on board or at the station at which such immigrants shall be landed for examination by the immigration officers such number of alien passengers who were not examined before the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at, as may be specified by the immigration officers at the time of the inspection of the vessel as liable to be excluded from admission into the United States under the provisions of this Act or any amendment thereto, or of the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor pursuant to law, until the decision of the Board of Special Inquiry in each case shall be rendered as provided in section 16 of this Act: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the detention on board or at the station of any such alien passenger who is duly admitted to bail in such sum and with such security as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the production of such passenger to the proper immigration officers when required for further examination or for deportation in case the decision shall be adverse to the admission of such passenger into the United States: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may issue rules governing the temporary landing of seamen employed on such vessel from which they may be specially detailed by the master for that purpose, and the return of such seamen to the vessel, without the payment of the tax provided for in this Act.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the shipping and discharging of such alien from the United States.

(a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien (whether in transit through the United States or destined thereto) who is found by the immigration officer at the port of arrival not to be clearly and beyond doubt entitled to enter the United States under this Act, or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, shall be required to take back to the country whence he came the alien so refused admission, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return (which shall not be less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor as to an alien seaman on board until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is notified and the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the Secretary of Labor as to an alien seaman on board after such inspection or as to a deserting alien seaman if required by such immigration officer to the payment of the tax imposed by this Act on account of such seaman, unless such vessel has been specially detailed by the master for that purpose, and the return of such seaman to the vessel, without the payment of the tax provided for in this Act.

(b) Any person who shall bring to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, Porto Rico, the Canal Zone, or the Republic of Panama any alien who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects described in clauses (a) and (b) of section 3 of this Act, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be required to take back to the place whence he came the alien so excluded, and to pay the cost of his maintenance while in the United States and of his return, unless such alien is admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall order the deportation of any alien arrested on the ground that he belongs to one of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived at the port of arrival from which he is ordered deported shall be notified of such order of deportation, and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to return such alien on the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival or on any vessel which may be available, to the port from which he came to the United States, or to any other country which may admit him, at the option of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived at the port of arrival. Such return shall be at the expense of the vessel on which the alien arrived at the port of arrival, unless the alien shall have been admitted to the United States within one year after the decision of the Secretary of Labor or the Board of Special Inquiry upon the case, or unless the alien shall have been arrested within one year after entry and shall be found by the Secretary of Labor to have entered in violation of any law of the United States, in which case the return of the alien shall be at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws.

(d) Any alien who shall come in contravention of any of the provisions of this Act, or who shall remain in violation thereof, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and shall be incapable of being naturalized.

SEC. 14. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at a port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the shipping and discharging of such alien from the United States.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place entered not previously reported, and that I have not knowingly or willfully concealed or misrepresented the name, nationality, last residence, or any other fact concerning any person mentioned in said list.

I have noted the copy of section 38 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from subdivision B, rule 7, and copy of sections 13 and 30 of Act of May 26, 1924, hereto appended.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or changes or additions thereto (Form 430) shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 430) shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like continuous manifests of the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; like continuous manifests of the names of all aliens in transit through the United States to foreign countries, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival; like continuous manifests of the names of all aliens who have been allowed to depart from the United States since the last preceding manifest, and specifying those to be landed at the port of arrival, together with such information respecting the movements of such aliens, including a description of such aliens, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor; and like continuous manifests of the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, and specifying those who were not employed when the vessel left the last port from which she departed, and of those who were not employed when the vessel left the last port from which she departed, and of those who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have been deserted on board; and such manifests shall be sworn to before the principal or assistant immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master or commanding officer of such vessel, which oath the said officer is hereby authorized to administer; and the master or commanding officer of such vessel shall produce to the said officer such documents or papers in his possession relating to the persons mentioned in such manifests as the said officer may require, and such officer shall have the right to question the master or commanding officer of such vessel, and such other persons as he may think proper, concerning the persons mentioned in such manifests before any such persons are allowed to land; and in case of the failure of such master or commanding officer to deliver such manifests, or to answer to the officer either of the matters aforesaid, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 and by imprisonment for not more than one year: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the delivery of such manifests when, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, the delay in the delivery of such manifests will cause undue hardship: and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid no alien employed on such vessel shall be admitted or entitled to land in the United States: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such duration upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act thereof has been served, the deposit therefor made in cash or its equivalent in the form of a bond in the United States, except Canadian vessels, or the deposit waived in the manner provided by section 35 of said Act.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall pay the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport such seaman on board such vessel upon such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer to the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such duration upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived may be furnished in the United States to obtain the remission of the fine imposed therefor, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a sufficient reason to obtain such remission by the immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to and in accordance with such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the safekeeping of such alien from the time of the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall not land, or permit to be landed, any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been furnished such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or such alien to debark on board such vessel such inspection or to debark such seaman. If required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every fine on alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien pursuant to the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if a hall be the duty of the owner, agent, commander, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's employ, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be held on board and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and every such alien, forthwith upon inspection by the immigrant inspector, or within such time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, shall be required to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, in such form as he may require, answers to questions propounded to him touching his right to enter the United States, which questions shall be the same as those which may be asked by immigrant inspectors touching the admissibility of aliens seeking to enter the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe additional questions to be asked of any alien, and may require such alien to be examined by a medical officer of the United States before a visa is granted to him: Provided further, That no alien shall be admitted to the United States who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport or other travel document as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and a valid immigrant visa, if an immigrant visa is required under the provisions of this Act or under such rules and regulations as may be made by the President in pursuance thereof: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may waive the passport requirement in the case of any alien residing temporarily in the United States who is a bona fide resident of, and is returning to, Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Central or South America, or adjacent islands, and who is otherwise admissible under the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 37. (a) That the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the United States any alien immigrant who is not in possession of a valid unexpired visa, if required by section 3 of this Act, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired passport, if required by the rules and regulations issued by the President, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if required by section 4 of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 in the case of each such alien, and no vessel will be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while it remains unpaid, unless a sufficient sum is deposited with the collector of customs to pay such penalty when it is imposed, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such alien immigrant who shall not depart from the outbound immigrant station of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States within such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure on the part of the master of such vessel to report such alien for deportation, and no vessel will be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while it remains unpaid, unless a sufficient sum is deposited with the collector of customs to pay such penalty when it is imposed, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien accepted on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is detained by reason of such failure, the expenses of the vessel while so detained may be remitted by the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Every such alien immigrant who shall not depart from the United States shall be reported by the master of the vessel on which he arrived to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and such master shall report specifically the manner in which the alien complied with the requirements of this section, and the immigration officer at the port of departure shall report to the Secretary of Labor the name of any alien who fails to depart as required by this section.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the United States any alien immigrant who is not in possession of a valid unexpired visa, if required by section 3 of this Act, or who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if required by section 4 of this Act, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 in the case of each such alien, and no vessel will be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while it remains unpaid, unless a sufficient sum is deposited with the collector of customs to pay such penalty when it is imposed, or a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such alien immigrant who shall not depart from the United States shall be reported by the master of the vessel on which he arrived to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and such master shall report specifically the manner in which the alien complied with the requirements of this section, and the immigration officer at the port of departure shall report to the Secretary of Labor the name of any alien who fails to depart as required by this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien accepted on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is detained by reason of such failure, the expenses of the vessel while so detained may be remitted by the Secretary of Labor.

(d) Every such alien immigrant who shall not depart from the United States shall be reported by the master of the vessel on which he arrived to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, and such master shall report specifically the manner in which the alien complied with the requirements of this section, and the immigration officer at the port of departure shall report to the Secretary of Labor the name of any alien who fails to depart as required by this section.

SEC. 39. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to receive medical treatment, or because of illness of such seaman, certified by the medical officer of the port, or because of the necessity for his presence as a witness in connection with the prosecution of persons charged with violations of the immigration laws, or because of the necessity for his presence in connection with the hearing of the cases of other alien seamen employed on such vessel, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure from the United States shall be satisfied that adequate provision has been made for the deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 40. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be required to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted a permit for the landing of such alien seaman, and such permit shall not be granted in the case of any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), other than a bona fide resident of the United States returning from a temporary visit abroad, until the expiration of five days after such inspection or the decision of the Secretary of Labor in case of appeal from the decision of the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, whichever is earlier: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the detention on board vessels of alien seamen pending the determination of the question of the liability of such seamen to be excluded from admission into the United States, and may also prescribe the conditions under which such seamen may be detained on board vessels after such inspection or decision, and may also prescribe the conditions under which such seamen may be detained in the United States pending the departure of the vessels on which they arrived, and may also prescribe the conditions under which such seamen may be paroled from the hospital where they are being treated, and may also prescribe the conditions under which such seamen may be transferred from one vessel to another.

(b) Any such alien seaman who shall depart from the United States shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and the cost of his maintenance while detained on board vessel or in a hospital, and of his deportation, shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, and shall be collected as provided in section 32 of this Act.

(c) Any such alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(d) Any such alien seaman who shall be permitted to land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and thereafter shall depart therefrom shall be deported only to the country in which he has a residence, if such country will accept him, unless the cost of his deportation to any other country shall be less.

(e) Any such alien seaman who shall be permitted to land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section and who shall fail to depart therefrom when required shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act.

(f) Any such alien seaman who shall be deported shall be deported only to the country in which he has a residence, if such country will accept him, unless the cost of his deportation to any other country shall be less.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or duplicate of same shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival; or if the vessel leaves the port before the immigration officer arrives, then to the immigration officer at the next port as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; but after the arrival of such vessel at such port no person shall be allowed to land from the vessel, except in accordance with the regulations made by the Secretary of Labor.

Any master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, within a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; but before the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who before the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who left prior to the departure; and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to take the place of those discharged, and of those, if any, who have been left behind in a hospital, with such information in regard to each as may be required by such immigration officer. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall willfully report falsely or knowingly omit to report any matter or thing required by this section in relation to any such alien, shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom proper lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded; provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the alien seamen, when and where they were shipped, and the ports at which they have severally been discharged; and it shall be the duty of the master of such vessel to report to the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival the name of every alien employed on such vessel who shall desert while in port, and to give information concerning such desertion. Any master who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall willfully report falsely or knowingly omit to report any matter or thing required by this section in relation to any such alien employed on such vessel, shall pay to the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom proper lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded. Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens arriving by water shall be prepared on paper not less than 8½ by 14 inches in size, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 583) shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or upon its departure from the United States for any foreign port, the master, commander, or other person in charge thereof shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, before coming to the dock, and before any passengers shall be landed, a manifest containing the following information in regard to each alien on board, which information shall be taken down at the time of the examination of the alien: Name in full, age, sex, married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, last residence, and final destination, whether the alien has a ticket through to such destination, whether the passage is paid by himself or by others, whether in possession of money, and how much, whether in possession of a railroad ticket or other through transportation ticket, whether ever before in the United States, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, whether in possession of a ticket or passage through to the place of ultimate destination, whether any relative or friend paid the immigrant's passage or furnished him with the money to come to the United States, and whether he intends to return to his native country after engaging in labor for a period of time, and how long or short a time he intends to remain in the United States, whether he is a skilled laborer or engaged in any recognized profession, and the height, complexion, color of hair and eyes, and marks of identification of each alien. The manifest shall be signed and sworn to before the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival by the master, commander, or other person in charge of the vessel, and shall be filed with the commissioner of immigration at the port of arrival. Any master, commander, or other person in charge of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such manifest at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truly any question concerning the information required in such manifest touching each and every alien on board his vessel, shall pay a sum not exceeding $10 for each such alien concerning whom such correct report is not made: Provided, That the master, commander, or other person in charge of any vessel shall not be required to make a report or manifest concerning any alien who is in possession of a United States passport, or who has been a resident of the United States who is returning from a temporary visit abroad, but nothing herein shall be construed to repeal, alter, or amend existing laws relating to the presentation of passports by aliens.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

THE 3. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been collected by the collector of customs of the district in which the port is located, but not from those whose duties it includes to collect the said fees, and the payment of such fees shall be noted on the manifest by the collector.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness to such extent as the secretary of labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the secretary of labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the secretary of labor.

(c) If the secretary of labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the secretary of labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned in section 12 hereof (Form 6A) shall not be received or passed, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master (owner) of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival [as] a complete list of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien employed on such vessel, whether they have been previously lawfully admitted to the United States or not, and whether they are in possession of certificates issued by consular officers, as provided in section 9 hereof, and such other information relative to such aliens employed as may be required by the Secretary of Labor; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, the cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel not contained therein at the time of the arrival but who have been subsequently employed, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; but in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required, he shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien in connection with whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; but no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of the district in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor to the payment of such fund, and in the event such fund is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not more than $10 per month shall be remitted or refunded; Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless bonded to comply to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act, unless such fine shall have been settled, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place in foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such seaman necessitating his removal, and in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor may be required to give a bond, with sufficient surety, in such sum not exceeding $500 as may be fixed by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned for the departure of such seaman from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel, within such time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, or for the payment of the cost of his removal to the country whence he came, if he remains longer than the time specified. Any alien seaman who shall land in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place in foreign contiguous territory who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of such district to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the applicability to the payment of such fine of the proviso of subdivision (b) hereof, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That any alien seaman who does not depart from the contiguous territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any fine to obtain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be preprinted on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector possible the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien immigrant or crews (Form 8-8a) shall not be accepted on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is a "worksheet" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively signed or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; to list conformably to order of such officer in charge of the immigration function as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as ascertained, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed fourteen at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been employed or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists required, or any part thereof, or to report any case of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of departure is located until the master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of time, and, in the event such time is impossible, apply it upon the said sum to be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fines prescribed by section 35 of said act, penalty been served, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any transportation company engaged in such business as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance of all aliens employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such alien seaman who may not be found on board upon the inspection of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or island possession of the United States adjacent thereto, or who has been allowed to depart therefrom, or who has been granted shore leave and fails to return to the vessel or depart with it or in accordance with the immigration laws, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 of this act to the country from which he came to the United States, or to the country to which he belongs or in which he resided before coming to the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor. The cost of removal of alien seamen who are deported to the country from which they came to the United States shall be borne by the owner of the vessel on which they arrived.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens, their sex, age, marital condition, race, nationality, last residence, seaport for embarkation, final destination if in transit through the United States, whether they have a ticket through to such destination or not, whether in possession of money and how much, whether going to join relatives or friends and if so what relatives or friends and their addresses, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, its Territories, or the District of Columbia, whether in possession of a ticket to the place to which he is destined, and by whom such ticket was paid for, whether the immigrant has been deported on previous occasions and if so why, whether the immigrant is coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind by any person or corporation, and what is the intending immigrant's calling or occupation, and such information additional thereto as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists shall be prepared at such time before sailing of vessels from foreign ports as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and the forms for such lists shall be approved by the Secretary of Labor. Any owner, agent, consignee, master, or commanding officer of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or any master or commanding officer who refuses to answer any question, or gives false information in regard thereto, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 and by imprisonment for not more than one year. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, which would be detected by the examination required by law before the alien could be admitted to the United States, shall be liable to a fine of not more than $1,000 and to imprisonment for not more than one year, unless it shall be proved that he did not know, and could not have known by the exercise of reasonable diligence, that the alien was afflicted with such disease at the time of going on board his vessel. Any such alien shall be detained on board or at quarantine as may be required by the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service until a certificate shall be issued by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service that he is free from such disease. Any such alien who shall come to the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided by law. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the enforcement of this section.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, however, or for medical treatment, or treatment in such institutions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate detention, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States:

Provided, That no alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except seamen employed on such vessel while engaged in the regular performance of their duties as such seamen on board such vessel between ports of the United States), and no alien seaman who has been granted shore leave by the master of such vessel, shall be allowed to enter the United States unless such seaman is in possession of a valid passport viséed by an American consular officer at the port at which such seaman embarked, or at some other port at which such consular officer may be stationed, or unless such seaman is identified in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) That any alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in port in the United States shall be deported at any time within five years after such desertion upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and such deportation shall be a charge against the appropriation for the expenses of the Department of Labor for the fiscal year in which such deportation is made.

Provided, That no alien seaman (master, officer, member of the crew, or worker employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, however, or for medical treatment, or treatment in such institutions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alternate detention, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States) shall be allowed to enter the United States unless such seaman is in possession of a valid passport viséed by an American consular officer at the port at which such seaman embarked, or at some other port at which such consular officer may be stationed, or unless such seaman is identified in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of cpemens of alien members of crews (Form 632) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be brought in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of such lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists, and, in the event such ship is improperly, while it remains subject; nor shall such ship be permitted or entitled: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fines imposed by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been paid, unless, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said act, shall have been waived, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury certified by the medical officer in charge at the port of arrival, and then only under bond in the penal sum of $500 conditioned that such seaman (unless such inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), before leaving the United States, shall be examined by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear alow the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport alien crewmen by the immigration officer of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be hired in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens, as the case may be, which lists shall be certified to be true by the master of the vessel. It shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has taken unlawful passage on the vessel, stating the name of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list of any aliens employed on the vessel, stating the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired in the meantime, and the names of those, if any, who have been discharged, and the time and place of such shipping and discharge; and it shall be the duty of the master of any vessel if space be available therein and destitute alien seamen, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or inability, such owner, agent, consignee, or master as to deliver either of the three, if any, who may be demanded by the Secretary of Labor, key to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above as approximately required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act namely, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the necessity to such destitute seaman of the shipwreck of the vessel upon which he was employed, or for such other cause as may be satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor, but the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not attempt upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport under this section, or that he was a deserter.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required by section 12 of the act of February 5, 1917 (Comp. Stat. 4289a), to be delivered to the United States immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 512) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 37. (a) That no person, master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall land, or permit to be landed, any alien from such vessel at any port in the United States until the immigrant inspector has been notified of the intended arrival of such vessel, and has boarded such vessel and completed the inspection of the alien passengers and crew, and has indorsed upon the list or manifest of such alien passengers a permit to land, or has issued a special permit to land such aliens, or has given notice that such vessel is in quarantine, and that no communication with the shore will be permitted.

(b) Any person, master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien landed or permitted to land contrary to the provisions of this section, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien landed on the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is liable to a fine of $1,000 in connection with such deportation, such vessel may be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the remission of the fine, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien assessed in contract of whom such alien is a member, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of remission upon the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien assessed did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was detained by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien on board such vessel, and the master and owner of such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 36 of this act.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, removal, or for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing into the United States from any place outside thereof any alien to whom a visa may be granted under the provisions of section 3 of this act, or who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases specified in section 3 of this act, or who is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this act (all of whom are hereinafter in this section called "aliens"), or who violates any of the provisions of section 3 of this act relating to aliens in transit through the United States, shall be required to take back to the country from which they came or to the country of which they are subjects or citizens the aliens to whom such acts or omissions relate, and the cost of the maintenance of such aliens while in the United States and of their return shall be borne by such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master. Such cost of maintenance and return shall be a lien upon the vessel which shall be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which the vessel may be found. Clearance may be withheld or granted upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such cost, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety for the payment thereof.

(b) Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section, or who knowingly aids or abets another in violating any such provisions, or who conspires with another to violate any such provisions, and any master of a vessel who knowingly violates any such provisions or knowingly aids or abets another in violating any such provisions, or who conspires with another to violate any such provisions, and any master of a vessel who knowingly or negligently violates any such provisions, or who knowingly or negligently aids or abets another in violating any such provisions, or who conspires with another to violate any such provisions, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000 or by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(c) If the master of a vessel has complied with the provisions of this section relating to the delivery of passengers and the presentation of them for examination, he shall not be required to wait for the physical examination of any passenger who is not certified by the examining surgeon at the time to be afflicted with a contagious disease or mental defect, or to be suffering from a defect or disease which is likely to endanger the health of the passengers or of the general public, except upon the certification of the immigrant inspector in charge that the services of the master are required.

(d) The master of a vessel who shall fail to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered by the immigrant inspector in charge, or who shall land or permit to be landed any alien brought to the United States on such vessel, except in accordance with the regulations governing the landing of aliens, shall be liable to a penalty of $500 for each such alien landed or permitted to land.

(e) Whenever the master of a vessel fails to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered so to do by the immigrant inspector in charge, or lands or permits to land any alien except in accordance with the regulations governing the landing of aliens, or fails to deliver any alien detained on board his vessel to the custody of the immigrant inspector in charge for examination, or fails to remove any such alien from the United States when ordered so to do by the immigrant inspector in charge, or fails to perform any duty required of him by this act, or any rule or regulation made thereunder, or attempts to do any of the foregoing things, he shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien in respect of whom any such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of remission of the fine or penalty, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or penalty and costs, or upon the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(f) Proof that an alien was found on board a vessel, and that the master failed to detain him thereon, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien on board such vessel, and the master and owner of such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 36 of this act.

SEC. 51. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 52. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof duly certified to obtain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection it shall cause shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or to any alien to obtain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of remission of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien on board such vessel, and the master and owner of such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 36 of this act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is liable to a fine of $1,000 in connection with such deportation, such vessel may be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 8. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens created by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act remain open security, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

SEC. 11. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof duly certified to obtain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection it shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or to obtain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of remission of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien on board such vessel, and the master and owner of such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 36 of this act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is liable to a fine of $1,000 in connection with such deportation, such vessel may be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted vun vessel until the fines imposed by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless bonds of indemnity to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act, in a penal sum equal to the amount of the fine, have been executed by the master and approved by the collector of customs.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens of classes of aliens ineligible for admission will be noted ("non vis") and shall not be serviced on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given "otherwise," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival here-inafter designated a complete list of all the persons on board such vessel, which list shall be in the alphabetical form required by section 12 of the immigration act of February 20, 1907, and shall contain the following additional information concerning each person, namely: Full name, age, sex, whether married or single, calling or occupation, whether able to read or write, nationality, last permanent residence, race, final destination, whether having a ticket through to such destination, whether the expenses of the journey are paid by himself or by others, whether in possession of money and if so how much, whether in possession of a railroad ticket or other through transportation document, whether coming in pursuance of an offer, promise, agreement, or contract to perform labor in the United States or elsewhere, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether an anarchist, whether coming by reason of any political or religious belief or organization, whether a person who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether a person who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government or who advocates or is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such disbelief in or opposition to organized government, whether a person who advocates or is a member of or affiliated with any organization that advocates the assassination of public officials, whether a person who has been or who intends to be employed at any time in the future in the manufacture or use of explosives or firearms or other implements of war, whether a person who has a contagious disease, whether a person who has been in jail or prison or reformatory or poorhouse or asylum, whether a person who is a professional beggar, whether a person who is coming to the United States in consequence of advertisements for laborers, whether the person has a ticket to his final destination, whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, whether he is going to join a relative or friend, and if so what relative or friend and where, whether he has ever been deported from the United States or excluded and the cause for same, whether he has been engaged in the practice of polygamy or is coming to practice polygamy, whether he is coming in pursuance of a prearranged marriage, whether he is a person likely to become a public charge, whether he has been a contract laborer and if so by whom, whether he is a stowaway, whether he is a person who has been deported and who is returning within one year from the date of deportation, whether he is a person who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration as to the identity and circumstances of any such alien: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel may be fined not more than $300 for failure to deliver such list, or for any omission therefrom, or for inclusion therein of false statements concerning any such alien, except that no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall be fined for failure to deliver such list or for omissions therefrom or false statements concerning any such alien who was not embarked therefor at the time of the departure of said vessel from the last port outside the United States or the adjacent islands, and who could not have been discovered by the exercise of due diligence before the departure of said vessel: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel shall be fined not more than $300 for each and every alien not included in the list of passengers delivered by him to the immigrant inspector at the first port at which the vessel shall arrive in the United States if such alien shall have been smuggled aboard such vessel within the territory adjacent to the country whereof such master, agent, consignee, or owner is a citizen or subject or within the territory adjacent to the country from which such alien came to the vessel, unless such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall prove that he could not have discovered the presence of such alien prior to the departure of such vessel from such foreign port or place and that the failure to include in the list of passengers delivered by him to the immigrant inspector the name of such alien was not due to any fault or negligence on his part or on the part of the owner or agent of such vessel: And provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who has been refused admission to the United States and ordered returned to the country whence he came shall be liable to the same fine as is provided for the bringing in of an alien who is excludable because afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who has been deported shall be liable to the same fine as is provided for the bringing in of an alien who is excludable because afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, which fine shall be paid to the collector of customs before the departure of said vessel from the port of arrival, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That such an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he saw reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver at the time of departure of such vessel the certificate required by section 30 of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, due notice thereof being given to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel, that any alien employed on such vessel shall be required to be detained on board thereof when it arrives at the port of arrival here-inafter designated, and thereupon such vessel shall be required to detain such alien on board until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival shall have completed the inspection of such alien, or until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have given a bond in such sum as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not to exceed $1,000 for each alien detained, conditioned upon the production of such alien when required for inspection or for deportation, and upon the payment of the hospital dues and other charges that may be incurred for the maintenance of such alien while in the United States, such vessel may be granted clearance papers, and such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall not be liable to the fine provided in this section for the failure of such alien to remain on board or to be produced for inspection or for deportation. Any vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of the fine provided for in this section, or while the fine remains unpaid, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to pay the fine, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety therefor, approved by the collector of customs.

(d) That such an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he saw reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place is impracticable or unreasonable, or that the interests of such alien seaman will be subserved thereby, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens created by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been terminated, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section 36 to that prescribed by section 30 of said act cannot have been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to such examination as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate determination of such alien's right to land, or to such other temporary landing as may be necessary for his departure on the vessel or another vessel.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada or Mexico) shall cause each alien seaman employed on such vessel duly inspected by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (and inspected such seaman on board the vessel unless the immigration officer in charge at the port or the Secretary of Labor so do so), shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) That such an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he saw reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place is impracticable or unreasonable, or that the interests of such alien seaman will be subserved thereby, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possessing the record at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of citizens of alien residence for a less period than (four (68) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Men an arriving seaman is a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all seamen employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and whether those or any of them have been lost overboard or otherwise left the vessel, stating the cause, time, and place thereof, and the number and names of those who have died on board during the voyage, and the cause of death in each case, and the number and names of those who have been transferred to other vessels, stating the name, nationality, and last port of such vessel, and whether such seamen were transferred with their consent and approval or against their wishes and protest, and the reasons therefor as far as the same can be ascertained, and the name, nationality, and last port of such vessel in which any seaman has been shipped to replace any seaman who has died, deserted, or been left behind, and the wages paid to each seaman who died on board during the voyage, and the amount due to each seaman who left the vessel before the termination of the voyage, and the cause for which such wages were withheld, and the number and names of those who have been discharged, and the cause and circumstances of each discharge, and the number and names of those who have been employed during the voyage, and the ports at which they were engaged, and the ports at which they were discharged, and the number and names of those who have died since leaving last port, and the cause and circumstances of each death, and the number and names of those who remain on board at the time of the arrival at the port of entry, and such other information relative to the history, character, and identity of the crew as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master of any vessel failing to deliver such list or giving false information concerning the matters required to be stated therein shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court. The master of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who has been refused a visa by the consular officer at the port of departure, because of the fact that such alien is afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall be liable to the same penalty prescribed in this section for bringing to the United States any alien who is afflicted with such disease at the time of application for admission.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been delivered, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act thereof been served, the deposit specified in rule 25 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness for which hospitalization as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 35. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory to deliver on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and has delivered to or left on board such vessel after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to any person, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons of alien registry for crews (form 430) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. Where an arriving seaman is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively held in the ships company, where and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who will be discharged in the port of arrival; or else certifying that no such aliens are employed on such vessel; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as ascertained, all cases in which any such alien has been secreted on board such vessel before her departure, and specifying the name, nationality, and last known residence of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and upon the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been added to the complement, and the reasons for all such additions and removals. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who refuses or neglects to deliver either of the lists required by this section, or who refuses or neglects to report, or who reports incorrectly or falsely any matter concerning the departure of any alien, shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the listmaster has complied with section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, here been transmitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside of the United States who shall fail to detain on board the alien seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seamen on board after such inspection or to deport such seamen if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be a ground for the refusal of such vessel as a vessel, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after condemnation by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or interned to such territories as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except Canada or Mexico, or arriving by water at the Pacific seaport of such vessel in the United States from Canada or Mexico, shall cause to be detained on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has issued a certificate in lieu of inspection to such seaman or has specially authorized the departure of such seaman for examination and inspection at a designated time and place. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who violates any of the provisions of this subdivision shall pay to the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not effect such the entering manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien on board such vessel for departure with the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, he may cause such alien to be taken before a United States commissioner for examination under the immigration laws, and such alien may be permitted to land temporarily upon the giving of a suitable bond or undertaking, in such amount and containing such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, for the payment of such sum as may be imposed upon such alien for any violation of the immigration laws, or for the return of such alien to the vessel or other vessel for deportation when required so to do.

(d) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who refuses to receive back on board thereof any alien seaman who was allowed to land temporarily under the provisions of this section, or who fails to detain such seaman on board or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(e) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who refuses to detain on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has specially authorized the departure of such seaman for examination and inspection at a designated time and place, or who refuses to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(f) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, he may cause such alien to be taken before a United States commissioner for examination under the immigration laws, and such alien may be permitted to land temporarily upon the giving of a suitable bond or undertaking, in such amount and containing such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, for the payment of such sum as may be imposed upon such alien for any violation of the immigration laws, or for the return of such alien to the vessel or other vessel for deportation when required so to do.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned in section 12 (from desk) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no alien arrives a similar list is to be delivered, but it may be printed on ordinary paper.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon written order of the Secretary of Labor, or any person duly authorized by him for the purpose, any alien arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place in Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, or the Panama Canal Zone, or any alien who has entered the United States from any such port or place, who is found to be in the United States in violation of this Act or any amendment thereto, may be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came, in the manner provided by section 20 of this Act for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law, the cost of the maintenance and return of such alien to be borne by the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act: Provided, That no alien shall be returned under the provisions of this section to the country whence he came prior to the payment of the head tax and the visa fee required by this Act, unless he was in the United States at the time of the passage of this Act and entered the United States prior to the payment of the head tax and the visa fee, or unless he was in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa at the time of his last entry into the United States.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof with an alien on board who is certified by a medical officer at the port of arrival (except an alien passing in transit through the United States from a foreign port to a foreign port on a vessel scheduled to depart within a period of thirty days from the date of arrival, and who is in possession of a ticket or tickets for such transportation), or the master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States who did not have at the time of his embarkation at the last port from which such vessel departed a bona fide ticket or tickets to a destination in a country contiguous to the United States, shall be liable to a penalty of $200 for each such alien, unless, prior to the granting of clearance papers for such vessel, such alien shall be certified by a medical officer at the port of departure to be clear of any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease and not to be mentally defective, and such certification shall be noted on the manifest of such vessel in the case of each alien. The medical certification required by this section shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and the payment of $8 to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the head tax of $4 imposed by section 2 of this Act. Such head tax and visa fee shall be refunded if the alien is not admitted into the United States. The Secretary of Labor is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, including the establishment of boards of special inquiry and appeal, the physical examination of aliens arriving at ports of entry, the certification of those found to be defective in sight or mentally or physically, the form and issuance of certificates, the application of the provisions of this section to aliens coming from foreign contiguous territory, and the treatment of aliens who have been certified under this section. Any alien who is certified under this section shall be detained at the port of arrival unless he shall deposit with the Secretary of Labor such sum of money, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien detained, as the Secretary of Labor may require, or shall furnish security approved by the Secretary of Labor in such sum, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien detained, as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned upon the production of such alien to the proper immigration officer at the time and place specified in his notice to the master or person in charge of the vessel or his agent. Upon the production of such alien and the payment by him of the head tax and the visa fee, if not already paid, the amount deposited shall be returned to the depositor or his legal representative or the security canceled. Failure to produce any such alien for special inquiry, medical examination, or departure from the United States shall subject the master or person in charge of the vessel or his agent to the penalty provided for the bringing in of such alien, unless it be shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such failure was occasioned by sickness or death or that every reasonable effort was made to prevent such failure. When an alien arrives in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, and is certified by the immigration officer at the port of entry to be suffering from any contagious disease, he shall be detained and returned to the country whence he came at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Proof that an alien assumed did not appear upon the outboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver him on board such vessel for departure.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall determine that deportation of the alien assumed on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such assumed alien he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine requirements, until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or has taken steps to detain such seaman on board until after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so. Any such seaman in transit through the United States shall be required by such immigration officer or the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in transit or such lesser sum as may be fixed by

The list of churches of other denominations (from 1 to 20) shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

Any alien or citizen seaman [see "seamen"] a deportee shall be treated as a deportee.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ships company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be landed and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to do or deliver either of the lists aforesaid, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fines prescribed by section 35 of said Act prompt upon arrival, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, or Newfoundland, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, certified by the Secretary of Labor, or his duly authorized representative, to be of such character as to warrant such landing, unless upon the arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, or Newfoundland there is on board a sufficient number of alien seamen employed on such vessel duly registered as required by section 2 of the Act of March 4, 1915, as amended (which registration in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), to replace all alien seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), entering and departing from the United States on such vessel, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen on board after such inspection or to whom it may have been transferred by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deportee, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel upon her departure for such foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deportee upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deportee, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board such vessel upon her departure for such foreign port or place outside thereof, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a deportee upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place outside thereof, and such vessel may be refused clearance until such alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived

Revised under Act of Congress of February 5, 1917, to be delivered to the United States immigration officer by the representative of any vessel having such aliens on board upon arrival at a port of the United States.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the Immigration Inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 434) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

SEC. 32. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold on the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those so to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; of list containing as much of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been held on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have changed or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the aliens, or masters shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such tax; and in the event such tax is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such tax be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

TAX. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been terminated, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative tax prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act, namely, been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (other than Canada or Mexico) shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the allowance of such seamen to enter the United States for the purpose of obtaining treatment, or for the purpose of applying for a visa and submitting to examination by a consular officer: Provided, That any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall, upon the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, have completed such examination (which shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to determine whether such seaman (a) is not within any of the classes of aliens ineligible to be admitted to the United States under the immigration laws, or (b) is not likely to become a public charge, or (c) is not afflicted with trachoma, or (d) is not afflicted with any mental or physical disease or defect which may require treatment for more than thirty days after such examination, or (e) is not a member of a class the admission of the members of which is prohibited because they are coming to perform labor, unless the Secretary of Labor has so determined in his discretion: Provided further, That the decision of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may be reviewed by such immigration officer at the port as the Secretary of Labor may by regulations prescribe: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been employed on vessels touching at ports of the United States for a period of at least four years prior to his application for admission to the United States, and who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be otherwise admissible.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer at the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) From that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign port or place, or from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the inspector at the port of arrival, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman by the immigration officer at the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members (Form 528) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as to the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all aliens employed on such vessel who have not been included in the lists required to be delivered as aforesaid, stating a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently joined such vessel, and specifying the circumstances in connection therewith; and a like list of all alien employees who leave such vessel in any port or place of the United States otherwise than on the vessel's departure from a foreign port or place, if any, who have been employed on board; and in case of the failure of any owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists herein required, he shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided: And no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

TAY. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been transmitted, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act herein, have been waived, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, or for the sole purpose of obtaining a passport and visa as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe in the case of any alien entering in the United States from any place outside thereof, or otherwise than as a bona fide member of the crew of the vessel on which he arrived, unless such alien shall have been inspected and examined (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), and a certificate of admission issued to him by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected and seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10.00 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from this place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport or detain after readmittance by the immigration officer at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at the port. When an alternative manifest is a "monthly," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

Type of persons (Form 6426) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as may be obtainable, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, shall be furnished by the master of any such vessel if shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer in writing, as soon as ascertained, all cases in which any such alien has been found stowed away on board of such vessel; and to furnish information in writing concerning the sick or injured among such aliens, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be jointly and severally liable to the United States for the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above as to arriving or departing aliens, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers from the port, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens provided by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been satisfied, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 38 of said act pending been served, the deposit specified in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or injury to such seaman as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who does not depart upon the discharge granted him by the immigration officer at the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel, as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after treatment by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, ... , of the ..... , do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during my present voyage.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens to be inspected by the immigration officer at the port of entry (Form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate vessel is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all aliens on board such vessel, showing the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States, the port at which each such alien was admitted, and whether each such alien has been in the United States previously, and if so, when and how long, and whether he has a ticket through to his destination, and whether the passage is paid by himself or by others, and whether he has in his possession more than $50 in money, and whether he is in possession of a railroad ticket or other through transportation order, and whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity within five years, and whether he is a polygamist, and whether he is an anarchist, and whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, and whether he is coming in pursuance of any previous promise or agreement to perform labor in this country, and if so, what kind of labor, and whether he has ever been in the United States before, and if so, when and how long ago, and whether he has been deported or excluded from admission and the cause thereof, and whether he is coming to join a relative, and if so, what relative, and his last residence, and whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, and whether he is going to a friend, and if so, what friend, and whether he has a ticket to the place to which he intends to go, and whether he has been engaged by any person, company, or corporation in the United States, and if so, what person, company, or corporation, and whether he has been employed in any penitentiary, almshouse, workhouse, or other place for the reception of persons convicted of a crime, misdemeanor, or felony, and if so, what crime, misdemeanor, or felony, and whether he is a person who has been in the practice of polygamy, or who believes in or practices polygamy, and whether he is coming to the United States in pursuance of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or arrangement of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind, and what is the condition of his health, mental and physical, and whether he is deformed or crippled, and if so, how, when, and where he became so deformed or crippled, and what are the height, complexion, color of hair and eyes, and marks of identification of each alien, and whether he has been successful or unsuccessful in his application for a visa, and if refused a visa the reasons therefor, and whether he has ever been arrested or convicted for any crime or misdemeanor, and if so, what crime or misdemeanor, and the date of such arrest or conviction, and the sentence imposed, and whether he has been pardoned or not, and the reasons therefor, and whether he has been a member of the anarchistic or other class of persons excluded from admission to the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or sailed from any port of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or accident, or to join the vessel as a member thereof, or as a steerage passenger, shall be granted a landing permit, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien assigned on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien or cannot be effected at the time assigned on the vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel is detained at the port of arrival for a period in excess of four days beyond the time so assigned, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien assigned to such vessel and not deported, unless the Secretary of Labor shall otherwise direct.

(d) Every alien arriving at a port specified in subdivision (a) of this section who is refused a landing permit shall be detained on board or at the option of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon which he arrived shall be detained at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel in such manner as the immigration officer in charge of the port may direct until the decision of the Secretary of Labor in the case of such alien has been rendered, but such detention shall not exceed five days unless upon application therefor the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion extend the time in case of sickness or emergency affecting such alien. Pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor, such alien shall be subject to the orders and control of the immigration officer in charge of the port, and the cost of such detention shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel upon which such alien arrived. Such cost shall constitute a lien against the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs in the customs district in which the port is located if bond is not furnished in the sum of $10 for each alien detained, conditioned upon the payment of such cost. Such cost shall be

The list checked below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons on board vessels from ports in Cuba, Mexico, or Canada shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (from Cuba) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is to be used, it must be approved by the Secretary of Labor before sailing.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the boarding immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival true manifests and lists of all persons on board such vessel, which manifests and lists shall be prepared in the form or forms prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be sworn to before a notary public or other person authorized by law to administer oaths and certified by the master of such vessel. Such manifests and lists shall show the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and nationality of each and every alien on board such vessel, whether such alien is to be landed in the United States or not, the country of which he is a citizen or subject, the country from which he last came, the port in the United States at which he intends to land, whether he has a ticket through to his destination, whether he has been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, or whether he is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining such belief, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously existing contract, and if so, the name and address of the person who has sent for him, whether he has been deported, and if so, how many times, whether he has a ticket through to his final destination, whether he is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and the name and complete address of such relative or friend, whether he is in possession of $50 in cash or more, and if less than $50 how much he has with him, whether he has ever been in a penal institution or reformatory, and if so, what and when, whether he is a person who has a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect his ability to earn a living, whether he is deaf, dumb, blind, or crippled, whether he is an idiot, insane person, epileptic, whether he is a professional beggar, whether he is a person who at any time previously has been refused admission to or deported from the United States, whether he is coming in response to any offer or solicitation to perform labor in the United States, and such other questions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe the manner in which the information required by this section shall be given, and may require additional information to be furnished concerning any or all such persons. Such manifests and lists shall be signed by the master of such vessel, and shall be sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any master who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer, in addition to the penalty provided in section 35 of this Act, any such manifest or list required of him, or who refuses to answer any question touching the information required to be contained therein, or who knowingly or willfully makes a false answer to any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of aliens to whom immigration visas (form 6A) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Where an alien's name is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ships company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and respectively those to be hired on the return trip; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who thereafter, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, if any, who have been hired or shipped, and also the names of those, if any, who have been laid off and discharged, and of all leave, for thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind sick in hospital, with the certificate of the medical officer as to the nature of the illness of each such person, and the probable length of time required for his cure; and for every such failure the master or agent of such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance beyond the determination of the direction of the limit to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 4. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been transferred; and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act thereof, been served, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seaman by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

Form I-418 (ON Form 418)
U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. The list or manifest shall not be destroyed or mutilated, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 6A) shall not be destroyed or mutilated, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port where the vessel first arrives. The list or manifest is a "work paper," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens on board, which lists shall be prepared in the form and order and contain the information required by the immigration officers at the ports of departure, and the exact number of aliens in each group shall be stated. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel is granted entry, and no changes in the lists shall be made after the same have been delivered, except as to errors discovered in the presence of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel, and then only upon the order of the immigration officer in charge of the port, and any such changes shall be noted upon the lists. Any person who knowingly or willfully makes a false statement in any list required by this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. The master of any vessel who refuses to deliver such lists, or who refuses to allow any immigration officer to enter upon the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or who refuses to deliver to such immigration officer, on demand, any additional information contained in his list which may be required by such officer, or who refuses to detain any alien on board his vessel when ordered to do so by such officer, or who refuses to carry back any alien specified in any such list delivered by him to the port from which such vessel sailed, or who lands or permits to land any alien at any port in the United States from said vessel except in case of stress of weather or other unavoidable cause, which cause shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. The master of any vessel bringing an alien who is not lawfully entitled to enter the United States shall, if ordered by the Secretary of Labor, cause such alien to be detained on board the vessel at the port of arrival pending examination by the immigration officers at such port, and such detention may be continued at the expense of the master of the vessel if such alien shall have been certified to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry at the request of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of the vessel. Any master who shall refuse to obey the lawful instructions or orders of the Secretary of Labor in the execution of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 7. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been duly signed, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative officer has been given by such section or to that prescribed by section 23 of said act, unless such officer has been notified by the Secretary of Labor that such alien may be admitted or temporarily

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness of such alien seaman, or for the purpose and to the extent authorized by the Secretary of Labor, and under such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alien seaman, except that upon the certification by the master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Republic of Mexico or Canada that any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall, for the immediate convenience of the vessel, be left behind in a foreign port or ports, such alien seaman may be granted a conditional permit by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (after such inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), to proceed to such port or ports for the purpose of rejoining such vessel, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival is hereby authorized to furnish such alien seaman with such permit and to indorse upon the certificate of identification issued to such alien seaman in accordance with section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, as amended, a notation of the conditional permit granted. Upon the departure of such alien seaman on the vessel specified in the permit, the master shall indorse upon the permit a certificate that such alien seaman has departed on such vessel, and shall return the permit to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure. Upon the failure of such alien seaman to depart on the vessel specified in the permit, the master shall report the fact to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure within twenty-four hours after the departure of the vessel, and shall return the permit to such officer. Any master who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not arrive from the contiguous territories of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or that he was temporarily left behind by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be given a hearing before a board of special inquiry, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector meeting the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or duplicate of which immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 435) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a "motorway", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, setting the locations they respectively hold in the ship's company, upon and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be hired on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the duties they respectively are to perform, and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be hired on and discharged in the port of arrival; and such lists shall contain such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at which as soon as discovered, all cases of aliens employed on such vessel who have not been entered on the lists aforesaid, and to furnish such information as may be required by such officer in relation thereto; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to each alien persons, at the time of the departure of any such vessel from a foreign port for the United States, lists furnished by the Secretary of Labor, which lists shall contain such questions touching the right of such persons to admission into the United States as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and to indorse upon the lists so delivered the answers returned to such questions: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may in his discretion waive the delivery of such lists by masters of vessels touching persons who were not employed, procured, or secured by the owners, agents, consignees, masters, or charterers of such vessels, or by any officer, agent, or representative of such owners, agents, consignees, masters, or charterers, and who were not directly or indirectly connected with the management of such vessels: And provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of such lists by masters of vessels touching persons who were in transit through the United States to foreign countries, and who were not destined to the United States.

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or in a case in which a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from which he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the adequate detention of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport by the master.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and destination of each such person who is to be deported at the expense of the vessel, specifying those to be held on board the vessel, and showing which, if any, have been treated for disease during the voyage and the name of each physician who rendered such treatment. Such lists shall be delivered before the vessel shall be granted entry, and the master, consignee, or agent of such vessel shall make oath to the correctness of such lists. Any master who knowingly fails to deliver such lists, or any master, consignee, or agent of any such vessel who refuses to deliver to any such immigration officer, on demand, the lists required by this section, or who refuses to deliver to any such immigration officer any and all information in his possession concerning any alien who is brought in under the provisions of this section as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe, and who fails to report the name of any such alien who may become ill during the period of the voyage, or who fails to detain on board any such vessel any alien certified by the medical officer of the port as being afflicted with any contagious disease, or who fails to report the presence on board of any such alien who may have died during the voyage, and the cause of death, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, refuse to permit the entry of any alien who arrives at a port for examination upon any vessel who has been guilty of violating the provisions of this section, and such alien may be returned to the country whence he came at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived. All fines imposed and collected under the provisions of this section shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States and shall constitute a special fund to be used by the Secretary of Labor in the enforcement of the provisions of this section and for the maintenance and care of destitute aliens stranded in the United States pending their deportation under the provisions of this section. Such fines shall be available for the payment of expenses incurred in the maintenance and care of such aliens and for their return to the countries whence they came, and shall be paid out upon the certification of the Secretary of Labor and the auditing and warrant for payment by the Treasury Department.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the fees required by section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been collected, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 30 of said act therein been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons of alien members of crew (form 598) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, master, or consignee, or whatever thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, what and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be hand off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such aliens as the secretary of labor shall by regulation prescribe; and upon the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and upon the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently shipped, and of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hand ho and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or to report cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the secretary of labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the duration of the liability to the payment of such tax, and, in the event such tax is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such tax be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such tax.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative tax prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act, if any, has been served, the deposit specified in rule 55 has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such emergencies as the secretary of labor may prescribe for the ultimate departure, therefor, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person who shall bring into the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), shall cause such alien seaman on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, and no such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall employ on such vessel such alien seaman if prevented by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if prevented by such immigration officer or the secretary of labor to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every such fine may be remitted or refunded, or any bond canceled, in whole or in part, by the commissioner of immigration, with the approval of the secretary of labor, upon the certificate of the immigration officer at the port of arrival to whom the alien seaman was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman for deportation, or that the cause for detention of such seaman has ceased or does not exist.

(c) If the secretary of labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel may be made available to such seaman by such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master, would cause undue hardship to such seaman or such vessel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the secretary of labor.
